WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Chest Workers Push Drive for '67 Goal

CHARLEVOIX -- Three arms of the Charlevoix United Fund campaign have swung into action.

The professional, commercial and industrial divisions started soliciting donations this week. The three divisions have a collective goal of $8,142 of the drive's total goal of $14,570, according to Mrs. Don Anders, United Fund secretary.

THE RESIDENTIAL division, with a goal of $1,072, and the outlying areas campaign with a goal of $1,144 start next week.

Chairmen of the divisions opening their drive this week are Glenn Kenney, commercial; John Lachman, industrial; and Jim Williams, professional.

The professional division's goal is $1,496. The commercial division is expected to raise at least $2,949. A goal of $3,697 has been set for the industrial division.

Thirty-six state and national agencies are to receive $2,568 out of the $14,570 Charlevoix UF goal.

SOME of the state and national agencies to receive funds and their purposes are:

Arthritis & Rheumatism Foundation -- research, rehabilitation, education.

Heart Association -- research, education, supports rheumatic fever clinics. 52% of Michigan deaths are due to heart and blood vessel disease--40% of deaths under 85 years of age.

Kidney Disease Foundation--research, public educational program concerning nephrosis and other kidney disorders. Has established Leukemia Society -- leukemia, in layman's terms, is cancer of the blood. The Leukemia Society is the only national voluntary agency dealing solely with leukemia research.

National Council on Alcoholism--devoted to prevention of alcoholism through education, rehabilitation, community services, and research.

United Service Organizations (USO)--267 units--22 in foreign countries are available to approximately 86,000 members of the Armed Forces from Michigan. Provides a "Home Away from Home."

During their training period they were taught the history and the culture of the country as well as something of its terrain, industry and other pertinent facts.

Twice the size of California, Turkey's population is approximately 32.5 million. Its land frontiers are shared by 11 countries, Bulgaria, Greece, Russia, Iraq, Iran and Syria. Its history has been a stormy one dating from the Hittites, Persians, Greeks, Romans, Byzantines to the Arabs. It has been a republic only since the early 1920's.

Agriculture remains the foundation of the country's economy with about 70 percent of the population living in the villages. Industry, however, is accounting for an increasing share of Turkey's gross national income.

At the present time, the country is in the midst of a five year program which aims at a high level of development in education and, in addition, views improved and increased English instruction as an important aspect of the education curriculum.

In addition to working with school age youngsters, the volunteers will set up night classes for adults and, during the summer, will establish language camps.

1 Card of Thanks

WE CANNOT begin to express our grateful gratitude to the wonderful staff of doctors, nurses and aides at the Little Traverse Hospital for the wonderful care of Omar Steinhilber our husband and father during his illness and death. Also to Rev. Marcus Krake for his comforting words and kindness also to the Sunday school ladies for the lovely lunch after the funeral also to the many, many wonderful friends, neighbors and relatives for the cards, flowers, food, gifts and kind words. Our many, many thanks The Family of Omar Steinhilber.

Rayders Whip Boyne 13-12

CHARLEVOIX--The Rayders met their first big test of the season Friday, squeaking by Boyne City 13-12.

The narrow Charlevoix victory went right down to the wire as Boyne City drove for the goal in the closing seconds of the game.

THE VICTORY gives the Rayders a share of the Northern Michigan Class C Conference four-year title. Also winning their first games of the season Friday were Gaylord, Mancelona and Harbor Springs.

Pre-season favorites to dominate the league were Gaylord and Boyne City. If the forecasters were correct, Charlevoix has an excellent chance at winning the season in a first place split with Gaylord.

The Rayders don't meet Gaylord until Oct. 20. This Friday the Rayders take on Grayling on Kipke.

To Curb Fumbling by Friday

Red Devils Get Tough Workout

EAST JORDAN -- There is no "gilding of the lily" on this Friday when the Red Devils go up against Harbor on the East Jordan field.

Thomson doesn't want to see a repeat of last Friday's game. He wants to see the Red Devils go up against Harbor on the East Jordan field.

"Fumbles got us in trouble right off in Friday's game against Mancelona, which the Red Devils lost 29-6, Thomson said."

The East Jordan gridders, he said, didn't get a play in the first quarter due to fumbles in the center exchange.

The first fumble was in the end zone and George Mancelona a safety.

Though going to Kalkaska the week before, The Red Devils didn't fumble again.

THOMSON ISN'T sure what caused the fumbles again but he is determined to see if more and harder practice won't eliminate the problem before Harbor.

Lancers See Hope For League Crown

ELLSWORTH--The Lancers could be on their way to a Northern Lakes Conference grid crown after upstaging Central Lake 20-12 Friday.

This Friday's afternoon contest at Mackinac City should give the Lancers a chance to perfect their game before meeting tough Lairs Oct. 6. Coach David Jach-kowski said it now looks like the Lancers are "the team to beat."

PATCHKOWSKI SAID his squad looked good against Central Lake Friday after it settled down. If it holds, the first two minutes of the game could have squelched their hopes.

Central Lake moved to a 13-0 lead before the game was two minutes old. Ellsworth fumbled on the first play and Central Lake scored two plays later.

But by half-time the Lancers had moved ahead 14-13. Excellent blockage and tackling on Ellsworth's part made the difference in overcoming the big deficit. The Lancers' faced early in the contest, Patchkowski said.

ELLSWORTH'S four linemen had 33 tackles, with one getting two, another nine, and another eight and another six. The two linebackers had seven tackles each.

If the Lancers play the same brand of ball they did against Central Lake, Mackinac City should be a much easier game. Bellare Friday beat Mackinac City 49-12. The Mackinac City game will be played there at 1:30 p.m.

Against Central Lake Ellsworth's Joe Nachstel scored three touchdowns on 30, 40 yards and two 50 yards.

He also ran over one extra point and Stan Irench picked up an extra point.

For Central Lake, a 35 yard pass from Jim Wilson to Chuck Gordon netted one TD and Tom Gray got the second counter on a fumble recovery which he hugged five yards into the endzone.

Gordon passed 35 yards to Wilson for the third TD.

ELLSWORTH gridders (dark shirts) look for an opening in the Central Lake line as they go after the ball-carrier on right.

Distinctively new! Fastback or formal. Both '68 Chevrolet Impala coupes.

Some want the spirited, action-packed fastback look. Others prefer the poised and classic lines of the new Custom Coupe. The beauty of it is, from Chevrolet and only Chevrolet, you get both. Pick the one that's right for you and, whichever great new style you choose, you'll also enjoy such exciting new quality features as (1) Chevrolet's quietest ride ever, because of Chevrolet's extensive use of electronic computers to help isolate noise and vibrations. (2) Better performance from a bigger standard V8 with GM's new exhaust omission control. (3) Proved safety features including many new ones. (4) All kinds of new comfort and convenience. (5) A new windshield wiper, rich new instrument panels, handsome new interiors. Chevrolet's best... ever!

Circuit Court

Circuit Judge Charles Brown last week sentenced five men to prison.

Alex Cornsall Jr., 29, of Charlevoix, was sentenced to 10 years in Jackson on two breaking and entering charges.

Alfred F. Gregware, 23, Boyne City, 2 1/2 to 5 years in prison for larceny from a motor vehicle.

Dana L. Shaler Jr., 18, Boyne City, 2 to 5 years in prison for larceny from a motor vehicle.

John E. Gregware, 18, Boyne City, 2 to 5 years in prison for larceny from a motor vehicle.

All four of the above men also received one year sentences in the county jail for attempted jail break. These terms will be served at the same time they are in prison, meaning they will not actually be held in the county jail.

Junior Ernest Pringle, 40, East Jordan, was sentenced 22 months to 2 years in Jackson for unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal.

Carl S. Gregware, 19, Boyne City, was placed on three years probation and ordered to pay $135 fine and costs for larceny from a motor vehicle.

A sentence of one year in the county jail for attempted jail break was suspended.

The three Gregwares and Shaler were found guilty of stealing fishing tackle from a car in Young State Park during the July 4 holidays.

Admits Assault On Local Woman

CHARLEVOIX -- An 18-year-old Charlevoix youth has admitted raping a young married woman in her home in Charlevoix Township, where she lived alone.

Wayne A. Russell pleaded guilty to rape before Circuit Judge Charles Brown. He has not yet been sentenced. He was released on $250 bond.

According to police officials, Russell, a truck driver, entered the woman's home after midnight last Tuesday and raped her.

The woman was picked up by Sheriff's Deputy Byron Stockwell and arrested Tuesday morning at 7:30 a.m. She was taken to the County Jail, where she is being held.

Prosecutor Harvey Varnum authorized the rape warrant.

CHARLEVOIX -- The following marriages are reported by County Clerk Pete Bulow's office:

Donald E. Ziegler, 50, Detroit to Mrs. Bah L. Richter, 54, East Jordan; Buddy T. Hull, 22, Charlevoix to Evelyn K. Bolser, 18, East Jordan; Dan G. Louie, 18, Charlevoix to Kathleen L. Gill, 17, Charlevoix.

William Russell, 27, Charlevoix, careless driving, $15; Maria Lewis, 40, Charlevoix, driving in the left of the center line, causing accident, $15.

Wayne Russell, 18, Charlevoix, rape, waived examination, bound over to circuit court, bond of $250 furnished; Albert Sorensen, 17, Charlevoix, careless driving, fine and costs, $15; Terry L. Cummings, 17, Charlevoix, speeding, $15; Ross Blanchard, 17, Charlevoix, careless driving, $15; Joseph Thorp, 18, Edward Perron, 20, Dale Reed, 18, of Charlevoix and George Loomis, 19, of Oden, charged with careless use of firearms at public park, pleaded not guilty, bond of $25, continued to a future date.

Ellsworth's Enrollment Climbs to New High

ELLSWORTH--School enrollment here has increased by 38 students since classes ended last June, Supt. John Jurgensen reports.

This is a 14% increase since spring, but an increase of only five students over last September's enrollment of 291. The district lost 53 students between September and June last year.

THE STUDENT increase, Jurgensen said, has not crowded the school's classrooms. He said there is room for more students.

Jurgensen and the board projected the 1967-68 school budget on an enrollment of 290 or more students. Without the increase to at least 290 the budget would have fallen short due to less state aid than was anticipated.

graders. "Interest is real high, but how many (students) he has we don't know yet," Jurgensen said.

Russell Graves, Central Lake's guidance counselor is also coming to Ellsworth to work with students.

According to Jurgensen the cooperative program with Central Lake is working.

Eighteen Ellsworth juniors and seniors are traveling to Central Lake for advanced math and physics classes.

CENTRAL LAKE band instructor Jerry Dawson is coming to Ellsworth to direct a beginners band for fifth through eighth Ellsworth's science teacher, Bill Dewey, is teaching at Central Lake in the morning.

Jurgensen said he would like to have one more teacher, but the budget does not allow another. The fifth and sixth grades--with 18 students each--are combined for a half day.

Frank Smith Awaits Sentence

CHARLEVOIX -- Sentencing of Frank Smith on two charges stemming from the February 27 triple shooting at his motel on May St. is still pending in Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Charles Brown is awaiting completion of pre-sentence investigation before sentencing Smith, who is free on bond.

SMITH DID NOT contest charges of possessing photographic materials and indecent exposure when brought before Judge Brown.

The two charges are misdemeanors. Smith was originally charged with at least one felony, but the charge of gross indecency between a male and female was reduced to indecent exposure. Several other morals charges were dropped.

Connie Nichols, 17, was killed in the shooting. Smith, 31, and Miss Nichols' roommate at the motel, Virginia Yell, 29, were wounded.

Juvenile Judge John Makel later found a 16-year-old youth guilty of the shooting.

Norwood Cottager Owns 27th President's Home

By Kathryn Garton
CHARLEVOIX--A summer resident of Norwood for 38 years, Elbert Bellinger, who spends his winters in the Cincinnati, Ohio home of former President William Howard Taft.

It 35 years ago, the home was going to be razed but Bellinger, who is an interior decorator, restored the 22 rooms in seven years.

The home which was there when President Taft lived in it Bellinger explained. Two cherry trees which were planted by the President when Taft was President will also be brought to the home.

Taft, the U.S.'s 27th President, lived in the house 7 years.

AFTER TAFT'S death his family gave the home to the Spanish - American Veterans for their national headquarters. They in turn sold it to Colonel Ruffner, an officer of the Spanish-American Veterans, who lived in it until he died. His daughter didn't want the property so it was put up for sale and Bellinger bought it.

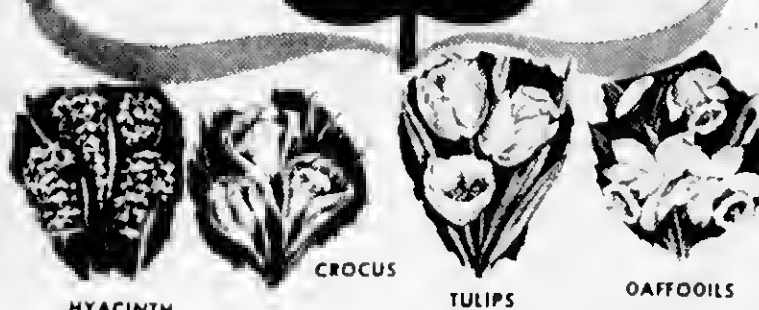

BELLINGER was a teacher at Finley College, Finley, Ohio from 1902-1911. While there, he said he coached and played basketball never losing a game. He was also associated with the Boy Scouts and the order of Denolys.

He later was an interior decorator for Marshall Field's and Frederick Hock.

City Housing Boom at Peak

CHARLEVOIX -- In the last two years Charlevoix has had what all records indicate is the highest residential building boom in northwest Michigan since pioneer days.

Everyone knew it, but no one seems to have bothered to check the evidence available in city building permit files.

SINCE JANUARY 1966 the city has issued permits for construction of 37 new homes. Their total value is estimated at $600,736, or an average of $14,400.

Through September, 16 new-house building permits have been issued in 1967, compared to 21 for all of 1966.

A considerable number of new homes have also been built or started in surrounding townships: Charlevoix, Hayes and Marion. However, accurate records of home building in the townships could not be obtained.

OBSERVERS ESTIMATE from 12 to 20 new homes have been built in the townships. Using the low figure of 12 and figuring their value at the same average as in the city ($14,400) their total value would be $172,800.

Giving the immediate Charlevoix area a total of 49 new homes worth $873,536 in two years.

If to this is added improvements and additions to older homes during the last two years, the figure reaches approximately $1 million.

In the city alone, permits have been issued for $59,985 in home improvements and additions during the first nine months of this year.

SINCE JANUARY 1966 the city has issued permits for construction estimated to have a total value of $1,243,921. Of this $642,625 is for building other than new houses.

So far this year permits for $162,200 industrial and commercial building have been issued. Last year's permits for other than new homes had an estimated value of $316,665.

Included in last year's industrial and business building permits were $160,000 for Freedman's Artcraft and $137,000 for the new library.

The biggest single building project recorded in city files so far this year is the $65,000 city waterfront building.

CHARLEVOIX'S residential building boom has not carried over into any other area community. Petoskey so far this year has issued permits for two new homes. Boyne City has issued eight and East Jordan has issued three.

Receiving permits for new homes in the city so far this year and the estimated value of each have been:

Gordon Bartlett, on W. Upright, $7,500; Howard Struthers, Cherry St., $22,000; Maj. Woodrow Wilson, 504 E. Dixon, $32,000; Stan Whitley, corner of Garfield and Sherman, $10,000; John Reisch, 202 W. Garfield, $16,000.

Louis Oleksa, 304 Meech, $21,000.

ENJOYING SUNDAY'S Chamber of Commerce Cruise on Lake Charlevoix were about 60 people. They went to Boyne City and back and out to Medusa's slip aboard the Beaver Islander.

School Divides Bond Vote

CHARLEVOIX--The school board has decided to ask voters to authorize a nearly $2 million school building bond issue in December, but has given voters the option to approve only part of the program.

At Monday's meeting, the board decided to put two propositions on the ballot:

1--CONSTRUCTION of a new 24-classroom elementary school on the north side of town and renovation of the existing elementary school into an intermediate school. Cost is estimated at $1,530,000.

This is considered the most pressing need of the district due to bulging elementary classrooms.

2--Adding two classrooms, an auditorium and other improvements to the high school, costing about $400,000.

The decision to split the bond request into two issues was reached because board members feel there may be public opposition to the high school program.

The two-proposition ballot makes it possible for voters to approve either or both phases of the proposal.

City Clears Hurdles for Homes In Hampton Village Subdivision

CHARLEVOIX -- Only one hurdle remains before 24-lot Hampton Village can begin development.

City Council Monday approved dedication of roads in the subdivision on the south east edge of town, tentatively approved the street assessment roll, accepted $2,953 from James Hiechy to pay for water service to the area and accepted and then resold .53-acre of land from Cito.

The special assessments given preliminary approval Monday are: James Hiechy, $7,849 (2,000 feet of frontage); Robert Cook, $1,433 (634 feet of frontage); Edward Vogler, $287 (106 feet); Carl Olson, $340 (135 feet); Daniel Wopas, $355 (132 feet); Lester McElhose, $112 (132 feet); Lewis Julliford, $393 (145 feet).

Charlevoix Mourns Ralph V. Hess Sr.

CHARLEVOIX -- Charlevoix businessman and civic leader Ralph V. Hess Sr., 61, died Friday, following a long illness.

Mr. Hess died in Charlevoix Hospital, where he had been a patient for six days.

COMING TO Charlevoix in 1950, Mr. Hess started Hess Furniture Co. The company grew to become one of the area's largest furniture businesses. For several years it has been managed by his son Ralph Jr.

He purchased the former Smith House-furnishings Co. from E. J. Smith before going in business here.

In addition to his business interests, Mr. Hess served as a director of the Charlevoix County State Bank, was a member of the First Congregational Church's board, a member of Charlevoix's F and AM Lodge and the Kiwanis Club.

Born Mar. 6, 1906 in Calhoun County, he married the former Rhea Faust at Reading, Mich. in 1925. She survives.

BEFORE COMING to Charlevoix, Mr. Hess owned and operated a funeral home and furniture business in Nashville, Mich.

Surviving besides his wife, Rhea and son Ralph, are his daughter Mrs. Gordon (Joan) Finnie of Hastings and eight grandchildren.

The family asks that persons wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Hess contribute to the Charlevoix County State Bank Building Fund or Hidden Brook Foundation.

East Jordan Ok's Hike of $123,000 for School

EAST JORDAN -- A $123,000 budget increase has been approved by the school board.

The budget calls for spending $567,936 for operation during the 1967-68 school year. Last year $441,799 was budgeted for operation and $442,008 was spent.

INCREASES in teachers' salaries account for $74,422 of the $123,000 increase. Another major operational increase is more than $9,000 for improved school maintenance. Last year $10,386 was budgeted for maintenance. This year maintenance costs are estimated at $19,800.

Expenditures for capital outlay are expected to increase $11,000 this year, with $14,500 budgeted compared to $3,386 last year. Of this $4,500 will be spent for re-

Drop New Town Hall Plan

CHARLEVOIX--The possibility Charlevoix Township would build a new township hall has been abandoned, according to Supervisor Clarence Rabach.

Rabach said the township has been considering construction of a new township hall and fire hall on the north side of the city. But, he said, it was decided such a move is not practical.

AT ONE POINT, Rabach said, the township was thinking of swapping its present town hall site and building near the airport.

Chambers Plan Salmon Meeting

A joint meeting of the East Jordan Charlevoix and Boyne City Chambers of Commerce is being planned to discuss the possibility of the county raising and planting its own coho salmon.

Charlevoix Chamber manager Wally Loder said the three-chamber meeting date has not been firmly set, but he hopes it will be held by the end of the week.

Loder said he would like to see the three chambers ask the Board of Supervisors to invite Dr. Howard Tanner, originator of the coho program, to its meeting this month. Tanner, Loder said, has offered to outline all information concerning a county coho rearing program to the supervisors.

County Bd. Meets

The Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors starts its annual October session Monday, Oct. 2 in the County Building in Charlevoix. The supervisors will set the 1968 budget and deal with numerous other matters.

THE BOARD directed Supt. John Jurgensen to determine if a twice-a-year collection of taxes is warranted with township supervisors and the county.

Splitting the tax bill, Jurgensen said, would aid the school by relieving it of wartime all year for revenue and would ease the tax-payers' burden who often find taxes a headache right after Christmas.

Ellsworth's Enrollment Climbs to New High

ELLSWORTH--School enrollment here has increased by 38 students since classes ended last June, Supt. John Jurgensen reports.

This is a 14% increase since spring, but an increase of only five students over last September's enrollment of 291. The district lost 53 students between September and June last year.

THE STUDENT increase, Jurgensen said, has not crowded the school's classrooms. He said there is room for more students.

Jurgensen and the board projected the 1967-68 school budget on an enrollment of 290 or more students. Without the increase to at least 290 the budget would have fallen short due to less state aid than was anticipated.

According to Jurgensen the cooperative program with Central Lake is working.

Eighteen Ellsworth juniors and seniors are traveling to Central Lake for advanced math and physics classes.

CENTRAL LAKE band instructor Jerry Dawson is coming to Ellsworth to direct a beginners band for fifth through eighth graders. "Interest is real high, but how many (students) he has we don't know yet," Jurgensen said.

Russell Graves, Central Lake's guidance counselor is also coming to Ellsworth to work with students.

Ellsworth's science teacher, Bill Dewey, is teaching at Central Lake in the morning.

Jurgensen said he would like to have one more teacher, but the budget does not allow another. The fifth and sixth grades--with 18 students each--are combined for a half day.

Frank Smith Awaits Sentence

CHARLEVOIX -- Sentencing of Frank Smith on two charges stemming from the February 27 triple shooting at his motel on May St. is still pending in Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge Charles Brown is awaiting completion of pre-sentence investigation before sentencing Smith, who is free on bond.

SMITH DID NOT contest charges of possessing photographic materials and indecent exposure when brought before Judge Brown.

The two charges are misdemeanors. Smith was originally charged with at least one felony, but the charge of gross indecency between a male and female was reduced to indecent exposure. Several other morals charges were dropped.

Connie Nichols, 17, was killed in the shooting. Smith, 51, and Miss Nichols' roommate at the motel, Virginia Yell, 20, were wounded.

Juvenile Judge John Makol later found a 16-year-old youth guilty of the shooting.

Interestingly, the 16 permits issued so far this year are for a total value of $300,500 and the 21 permits issued in 1966 had a total estimated value of $300,236.

A considerable number of new homes have also been built or started in surrounding townships--Charlevoix, Hayes and Marlin. However, accurate records of home building in the townships could not be obtained.

THOUGH FEWER new-home permits have been issued so far this year than last year (16 compared to 21) the 1967 permits are for more expensive houses.

The most expensive home permit issued last year was for an estimated $21,000. This year permits have been issued for six houses estimated to be worth more than $21,000.

Last year's permits also included two for the trailer-type construction homes on May St., which had an estimated value of only $5,700 each.

Several of the homes for which permits were issued in 1966 were not completed, and in some cases not even started, until 1967.

An unidentified, elderly fisherman reportedly died while fishing from a boat off the mouth of Horton Bay Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff Phil Sumner would release no information on the cause of death or name of the victim. He reportedly did not drown, however.

County Medical examiner Dr. Robert Martin was called.

City Clears Hurdles for Homes In Hampton Village Subdivision

CHARLEVOIX -- Only one hurdle remains before 24-lot Hampton Village can begin development.

City Council Monday approved dedication of roads into the subdivision on the south east edge of town, tentatively approved the street assessment roll, accepted $2,953 from James Richey to pay for water service to the area and accepted and then resold .56-acre of land from CHGO.

Kip Sundberg Gets 3rd Ward Council Post

CHARLEVOIX--CIRION (Kip) F. Sundberg, 52, has been appointed to the City Council, replacing Del Terrill, who resigned.

Mayor Bill Fohtman Monday appointed Sundberg. His appointment was unanimously endorsed by the council.

A CHARLEVOIX resident since 1953, Sundberg works here for Petegas Distributing company. He moved to Charlevoix from St. Ignace, where he served on the city council.

Sundberg and his wife Dorothy live at 1246 Bridge St. They have four children. He is a past president of the Charlevoix American Legion and attends the Lutheran church.

street construction in the subdivision was spread over seven property owners, resulting in a per-foot of frontage basis. Final approval of the special assessments was withheld until Oct. 16 when a public hearing will be held.

The special assessments given preliminary approval Monday are: James Richey, $7,849 (2,000 feet of frontage);

Robert Cook, $1,433 (934 feet of frontage); Edward Vopler, $287 (102 feet); Carl Olson, $346 (135 feet); Daniel Wojan, $356 (132 feet); Lester McElhose, $112 (132 feet); Lewis Jullieret, $395 (145 feet).

Assessment for installation of 2,000 feet of six-inch water main from May St. to Leonard St. was not included in the special assessment.

CHARLEVOIX--The possibility of Charlevoix Township would build a new township hall has been eliminated, according to Supervisor Clarence Rabach.

Rabach said the township has been considering construction of a new township hall and fire hall on the north side of the city. But, he said, it was decided such a move is not practical.

AT ONE POINT, Rabach said, the township was thinking of swapping its present town hall site and building near the airport for city-owned property north of town that is city-owned. Under this arrangement the township would have provided space in its new town hall for a city-owned tire truck.

The major problem with the old town hall, he explained, is that it has no toilet facilities. This caused an unbearable problem for persons working all day on elections.

Running water and sewer lines to the town hall would have cost between $3,500 and $4,000.

Township voters will now vote in the VFW Hall on the north edge of town, where toilet facilities are available. Township meetings will continue to be held in the township hall.

ELLSWORTH--Collecting school taxes twice a year--in July and December--is being considered by the Ellsworth school board.

New state law authorizes schools to collect taxes in July and December. Instead of the traditional once-a-year December collection. Each taxpayer's total school tax bill would be evenly split between July and December.

THE BOARD directed Supt. John Jurgensen to determine if a twice-a-year collection can be worked out with township supervisors and the county.

Splitting the tax bill, Jurgensen said, would add the school by relieving it of waiting all year for revenue and would ease the burden on citizens who often find taxes a headache right after Christmas.

Splitting the tax bill, Jurgensen said, would add the school by relieving it of waiting all year for revenue and would ease the burden on citizens who often find taxes a headache right after Christmas.

THE BOARD directed Supt. John Jurgensen to determine if a twice-a-year collection can be worked out with township supervisors and the county.

EAST JORDAN'S newest addition to its Sportsmen's Park, the pony colt on the left, still doesn't have a name, Elmer Green, caretaker, reports. The colt's mother, Sandy, on right, became a mother July 15. Elmer's gone bird hunting for a couple weeks, but would be glad to have people drop off name ideas for the little one at City Hall.

CHARLEVOIX'S TOP-RATED marching bandmen may look like a pack of Army recruits at drill practice, but the miracle is that each one knew where they were going and got there during this football game halftime show. And they do it every week.

Band Boosters Meet Tonight

CHARLEVOIX -- A special meeting of the Band Boosters Club will be held October 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the band room of the high school to hear a report from the Ways and Means committee.

Ways and Means committee members are Don Brown, Robert Pearl, Robert Hamilton, Mrs. William Lusk and Mrs. Stan Fedorek.

Program committee members are Mrs. Dale Boye, Mrs. Art Pimmon, Mrs. Hudson Phelps and Mrs. Wayne Wood. Mrs. Claude Pearl will plan the Band Boosters Club plans to buy the band their "march meadow" new uniforms.

Duane, Aeronautical designer and builder, who had worked on the plane putting in hours of time and patience building it from scratch, decided this was the big moment. The sky was crystal clear and the winds light. Duane handed the controls gingerly to Bill who had never completed his flight training in take-offs and landings.

With a spit and sputter the engine started and took off with the sound of a super-jet jet.

Cakes 'n' Candles

CHARLEVOIX -- According to Mrs. Louise Hamerski, librarian at the East Jordan Public Library, the library has 11,500 volumes of which 7,362 are borrowed annually by adults and children.

Approximately 150 new books costing $654, were bought last year.

The library is self-supporting with funds for new books coming from fees charged for over-out books. It also receives some state aid which is turned back for new books. Mrs. Hamerski believes the library is doing quite well on the money it now has, but if money was donated she would use it.

The library was opened in July, 1919. It is owned by the city. Ground was donated by William Porter Sr. and the city. The Carnegie foundation supplied funds to build the library, now the city and township provide about $4,000 a year for operation and maintenance.

"With the building so close to the Iron Works it makes it hard to keep clean," said Mrs. Hamerski.

"I need more shelving for books but otherwise the library is well-equipped," she said.

The library is run by the Library Board and has as its members: Mrs. William Porter, president; William Gravel, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Hart, secretary; Mrs. Robert Burke, Mrs. Bret Kelly, Mrs. Desha Montroy, Mrs. Ted Malness, and Mrs. Louise Hamerski.

Mrs. Hamerski has been head librarian for one year. Assistant librarians are Mrs. Edna Waddy who has been on the job five years, they had to attend a workshop to get their librarians certificates.

Mrs. Hamerski said, "I wish more parents would bring their children to the library."

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hypothesis", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in the adjoining columns.

HARRY ADAMS of Michigan Center with the first deer brought back from Beaver Island this year. Adams nailed the 93-pound doe with an arrow last Wednesday. This is the second year in a row he's killed an island deer with an arrow.

Audit Shows $77,725 E-J Fund Balance

EAST JORDAN—The school district ended the 1966-67 school year on June 30 with $77,725 in assets, including $31,404 cash in the bank, according to the state-regulated annual audit.

Listed among the general fund balance is $27,681 in unpaid taxes, all of which will ultimately be received through delinquent payment or land sales.

A GENERAL fund balance of $37,020 was carried over from the 1965-66 school year. The audit shows the school had a total general fund income of $481,018. During 1966-67 the school spent $481,018 from the general fund.

The breakdown of general fund expenditures shows $144,818 spent on elementary teachers' salaries; $8,500 for the elementary principal's salary; $110,625 for high school teachers' salaries; $21,000 for the high school principal's salary; $13,500 for the superintendent's salary; $4,925 for health services; $35,760 for transportation; $35,019 for operation of the plant; $10,386 for plant maintenance; $9,183 for fixed charges; and $3,386 for capital outlay.

EAST JORDAN—The high school graduating class of 1967 left $550 in the bank when it received its degrees in June.

The school audit shows the Class of 1967 left $310 in its general class fund and $243 in its yearbook fund. During its last year in school, the class spent $1,965.

THE CLASS OF 1966, the audit reveals, enters its senior year with $243.

The school athletic association started the new school year with a $220 balance, having spent $10,693 last year.

Kit-chi-ossining

Every spring, after leaving their winter camps, the Indians rendezvoused at The Place of the Big Rock on Little Traverse Bay just north of Charlevoix. They called it—"Kit-chi-ossining."

Now, scientists, physicists and government leaders from all over the world visit Big Rock to see Consumers Power Company's Nuclear Power Plant. You too are welcome at Big Rock. A Public Information Center there has displays, exhibits, films and lecturers to tell you the exciting story of the atom at work—bringing electricity to Michigan's Lower Peninsula. The Center is open every day.

$21,876 In Taxes Not Paid

EAST JORDAN—Taxpayers in the city pay more than twice as much in school taxes as those from any single neighboring township, but the townships together pay more than the city, the annual audit shows.

City taxpayers last year were assessed $92,558 in school general fund taxes, of which $83,184 were paid and $9,373 turned over to the delinquent tax account.

EVELINE township property owners were assessed $41,682, of which they paid $37,692. South Arm was assessed $45,332 and paid $40,344. Wilson, Echo and Jordan townships were assessed less than $10,000 each.

The school collected $179,842 in general fund taxes of a total of $201,719 assessed. Leaving $21,876 in uncollected delinquent taxes.

Balance in E-J School Lunch Fund

EAST JORDAN—The school's internal activities fund and hot lunch account ended the 1966-67 school year with a $5,019 fund balance.

The annual audit shows $24,552 was spent by the school on lunches during the year, leaving a $697 balance. This is a considerable increase over the $37,07 hot lunch balance at the end of the 1965-66 school year.

The school spent $42,738 from the internal activities fund, which had a $4,322 balance at the end of the school year.

School May Require Less English Study

ELLISWORTH—School officials here may drop the English requirement from four to three years next fall.

Principal Paul Blise presented the school board with a proposed outline of requirements for graduation.

BLISE RECOMMENDED lowering the English requirement despite some criticism from the school board.

However, the board said it would discuss the matter later.

Present required courses are one year math, four years English, one year biology, one year U.S. history, one year government, one year typing, one year world history, two years physical education and one year science. Seven other courses taken for one year are also required for graduation.

THIS ONE DIDN'T come out of Susan Lake, as Dave Juilleret often tells non-fishermen when they try to find out where he catches the big steelheads. This, though, is the all-time champ. It weighed in at 15 pounds. Juilleret caught it somewhere in Lake Charlevoix. It is believed to be the biggest steelhead taken from the lake since the lamprey gained full control more than a decade ago.

Service Schools

CHARLEVOIX - U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin, Republican, has announced that young men seeking apprenticeships in the nation's service schools should write to him before the Oct. 16 deadline.

Applications are being accepted for the Air Force, Military, Naval and the Merchant Marine Academy for the school year that begins in mid-1968.

Finishes Boot

CHARLEVOIX - Marine Private Roger J. Grunich, son of Mr. Raymond J. Grunich of 545 Petoskey Ave., Charlevoix, has graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California.

THIS TOMATO Mrs. Nelson Christensen of Ironton holds is no fish story. It's a "pink beefsteak" variety and weighed well over two pounds, straight from their Ironton garden.

Hayes BayShore

Mrs. George Golke of Bay Shore and son Richard of Royal Oak visited relatives at Detroit and Rochester recently. Also, went by jet to Pompano Beach, Florida to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Costello. Mrs. Lawrence Funk of Burgess is a special medical patient at Munson Hospital, room 15, Traverse City. Out-of-town relatives here for the funeral of Mr. Dan Bassett of Bay Shore were his oldest daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Randal and family of Minneapolis. His youngest daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holland and family of Pontiac, Lake, Ill. only sister, Mrs. Carrie Murray of Constock Park, and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Troupe of Constock Park, also, Mrs. Bassett's sister, Mrs. Alice Madden of Toledo, Ohio. Mrs. Bassett wishes to express her appreciation to the ladies of the community of Bay Shore for the lovely dinner served the family, after the funeral service. Rev. and Mrs. Ray Freeman of Marinette, Wisconsin were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Koller. George Golke of Bay Shore spent several days visiting his son, Tom at Pontiac and other relatives at Detroit. He also attended the Tiger baseball games, over the weekend. Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maxwell were their son Tom and niece, Mrs. T.C. (Anna Mae) Baker and son Bruce of Marne.

Beaver Island

Edward Palmgren is returning to Farmington for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Buss, La Freniere of Chicago are at their home here for a few days. Bruce McDonough of Charlevoix visited his father, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough and other relatives. Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sundberg were their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Teresa Biss of Lexington, Ky. and Mrs. George La Blum of Charlevoix. Jack Cull of Chicago is visiting his mother Mrs. Mable Cull. Mrs. Marge Wagner and Mrs. Sybil Larson spent a few days in Lake City. Ed Boyle and his partner came for a boat which they bought from Clifford White to use at Manistee for trolling for Goto Salmon. The Beaver Lodge is open for the fall season and will be run by Matt Melville, Bert McDonough, Mary McDonough and Sophia McDonough and Lillian Gallagher. They had smorgasbords. Jack Cull of Chicago is visiting his mother Mrs. Mable Cull. Mrs. Marge Wagner and Mrs. Sybil Larson spent a few days in Lake City.

Surplus Used to Pay Bills

CHARLEVOIX--The Charlevoix school district ended the school year with $21,036.19 in the general fund, compared to $50,175 at the end of the 1966-67 school year.

The nearly $30,000 cut in the general fund balance is revealed in the annual, state-controlled, audit.

SUPT. REX MILLIGAN explained the general fund was drained because the district did not have adequate revenue to meet expenses last year.

During the last school year, the audit shows, the district spent $597,311. Of this $568,173 came from current revenues. The rest came from dipping into the balance from the previous year.

Major sources of revenue in 1966-67 included $253,634 from property taxes and $284,637 from state aid.

Operation of the elementary school cost $192,567. Of this, $167,086 went for teachers' salaries. Principal Glenn Snider made $9,545.

HIGH SCHOOL expenses totaled $215,970. This included $182,536 for teachers' salaries and $10,500 for principal Ray Carr.

Administration cost the school another $30,366. This includes $15,762 for Supt. Rex Milligan and assistant and $1,500 for the school board.

Other major expenses included $35,138 for transportation; $68,730 for operation of the plant; $8,408 for maintenance; and $15,820 for capital outlay.

MEGGISON'S SERVICE station on the southeast corner of Bridge St. and Belvedere Ave. will be torn down early next month and replaced by a more modern station, Karl Erber, owner, reports. Erber purchased the 50-year-old building in 1949 from W.H. Wallace.

Superintendent's Progress Report

The Charlevoix Public Schools is a member of North Central Association of Colleges and Universities, accredited by the University of Michigan and approved for collection of tuition by the Department of Education.

This past year our school operated three Special Education rooms--an Elementary Type A, a High School Type A and a Type B program for trainable students. Also in cooperation with the Charlevoix Intermediate School District we had the services of a speech correctionist, a school diagnostician, and a vocational education consultant. We also had available through the cooperation of the Intermediate School District and other schools in the area an excellent film center containing over $63,000 in films.

Our remedial reading program in the Elementary school completed its second year of aid to our students. In our modern society it is essential that good reading habits are established.

Last year our school established a Library and Materials Center at the Elementary building. Although it is a small start, it is a start and we will do all within our power to promote its growth.

The major problem, as all citizens know, is that of adequate classroom space for our students. Since the school year 1959-60 our enrollment has increased from 924 to 1444 students, an increase of 520.

We have, at the time of this letter, one section of Kindergarten in the City Building, and one section of sixth grade in the Community Reformed Church. We have remodeled the girls' shower room at the elementary school to make two classrooms; also, the coach's room for remedial reading, the athletic director's room for speech correction, the former shop paint room for a library, and are using the visual aids room for a classroom.

In the High School we have remodeled the enlarged corridor in the Junior High Area for Junior High study halls and classes. We have placed chalkboards in the cafeteria and at the present time are holding Algebra and health education classes in this area. We have without a doubt utilizing every inch of our building to its fullest capacity.

Last but not least, I would like to comment on our students. We have, beyond all doubts, one of the best student bodies in Northern Michigan. I find them, in most instances, courteous and eager to learn. May I take this opportunity to thank parents for their cooperation with the school in helping to mold our boys and girls into useful citizens.

Respectfully,
Rex Milligan
Superintendent of Schools

School Growth 'Official'

The "official" enrollment count for Charlevoix and Ellsworth schools has been completed, showing the previously reported increase.

Figures for East Jordan were not yet compiled Tuesday, Supt. Max Damoth said.

THE "OFFICIAL" count is taken in every Michigan school district on the fourth Friday of each school year. Each school's state aid for the year is based on the pupils in school on the fourth Friday.

If additional students enroll after the fourth Friday the state does not pay for them.

Rayders Show Heels In Grayling Route

CHARLEVOIX--Though by all odds Charlevoix is the favorite to take this year's conference grid title, coach Don Carey isn't counting victories before they're won.

Others may be giving Charlevoix credit for a win over East Jordan this Friday before the game is even played, but Carey isn't.

THOUGH THE Rayders seemed to trounce Grayling last week 48-12 without even trying, Carey says he's learned to never take a team lightly.

Carey's scouts have come back with reports that East Jordan is a "quick" team. Even the scouts haven't been able to make a meaningful comparison between Charlevoix and East Jordan because the two teams haven't played the same opponents.

Carey says East Jordan's fullback Allen Grauel and its center Terry Venemack have impressed Charlevoix's scouts as a couple of the top players in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference.

BUT THE odds makers are figuring on Charlevoix to add another victim to its unbeaten season record Friday.

With Boyne City's 16-13 win over Gaylord Friday, Charlevoix's chances for the league title increased. Charlevoix meets Gaylord Oct. 20. Though always tough, Gaylord reportedly hasn't beaten Charlevoix since 1941.

Manelton, the only other unbeaten team in the league, has yet to face Boyne City, Gaylord or Charlevoix, which are considered the strong teams in the conference.

Charlevoix didn't waste any time getting its attack underway Friday against Grayling. LEE CROSS scored for the Rayders on the fourth play of the game from the five at 10:56 to send Mike Lord added the conversion kick, the first of five for the night. Then, with 2:28 to go, Charlevoix recovered a Grayling fumble and took possession.

County must move now to get in salmon business

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY business and political leaders last week learned from the nation's foremost authority that we can get in on the coho boom if we take the initiative.

Dr. Howard Tanner, who dreamed up the idea of planting salmon in the Great Lakes and then made the idea work, spoke right to the point in talking to the County Board. Tanner said the county should have no doubts about the feasibility of raising and planting its own salmon.

FISHERIES biologists agree that the Jordan and Boyne rivers and Lake Charlevoix are perfect salmon habitat. The relative safety of Lake Charlevoix and the mass drowning of coho fishermen makes it even more imperative that Charlevoix County get in the coho business immediately.

Charlevoix's new Chamber of Commerce manager Wally Loder immediately took the initiative when he learned that Tanner has eliminated all doubt about the practicality of the county raising its own salmon.

Loder's first step was to ask leaders of the East Jordan and Boyne City chambers to gather for a joint meeting on the subject. In doing so, Loder should be commended for accurately appraising the issue. No one community can do the job alone.

Hopefully, the three chambers will come to a united front and ask the County Board of Supervisors to take Dr. Tanner up on his offer to speak before it. The county board meets this month. Dr. Tanner should be invited immediately to appear during the October meeting.

State fisheries officials plead poverty, meaning Lake Charlevoix.

At State's hearing on gill nets

Public Supporting fishermen

CHARLEVOIX - If anyone in Charlevoix wants to see the community's commercial fishermen put out of business they kept it to themselves rather than speak up last week.

Not a single local advocate of banning gill nets on Lake Michigan was heard at last Wednesday's Conservation Dept. hearing on the proposal at the high school.

NEARLY 100 PERSONS from the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula attended the meeting, conducted by Troy Yoder, regional department chief.

Except for a couple of angry remarks from the audience, the hearing was orderly and polite.

Speakers generally ignored Yoder's hint suggesting that the coho salmon program is not a part of the gill net issue and that it not be involved in the testimony.

Persons who wanted to speak were asked to fill out a card. They were then called to the rostrum in turn and granted whatever time they wished to present their opinion and facts, with no debate or discussion from the floor or Yoder.

AFTER NEARLY two hours of this formal testimony, Yoder closed the hearing and opened an informal question and answer discussion session. It was during this brief period that tempers flared in mid-air.

Commercial fishermen conceded their whittles fish gill nets have been taking some of the young lake trout planted by the federal government. They refused, however, to accept the department's "statistical" census that half of the 1,200,000 lakers planted in 1965 will have been caught in gill nets by the end of 1967.

The department claims the gill nets are literally ruining chances of restoring lake trout to a high enough population so they will maintain themselves through natural propagation.

Charlevoix commercial fishermen unanimously challenged the department's claim to prove they have caught any in their nets.

OTTO HARVEY of Petoskey said salmon can only be caught in the upper 30 to 40 feet of the lake. To catch them there, he said, gill nets would have to be floated, which has always been illegal.

Fishermen questioned the department's claim that the two year old trout - now 17 to 20 inches long - are readily entangled in their 41-inch mesh gill nets.

Persons testifying on behalf of the fishermen repeatedly ridiculed the department for proposing virtual elimination of commercial fishing in Michigan waters while fishermen will continue to operate in the adjoining waters of other states and Canada.

"This is shutting the barn door on one end of the barn only," Ed Chervensky, a Suttons Bay commercial fisherman charged.

The hearing reached its emotional peak when Charlevoix commercial fisherman John Cross walked to the rostrum. Cross had to raise his hand to quell the applause.

"I'M GONNA FISH!" Cross assured the audience, "whether in Canada or Torch Lake or anywhere else, I'm gonna fish!" he said.

Cross attacked the department's coho program. Referring to the recent drownings off Frankfort, he said the coho have "ceased a lot of weeping widows and all for an extra dollar on the fishing license."

Pointing out he's been fishing Michigan for "57 or 58 years," Cross said the coho may cause another crisis in the lakes to compare to the lamprey or alewife invasion.

"We're just getting out of one dead and if we get into another we're in bad shape," he said.

Only Mother Missing at Station

by KATHERYN GARTEN
CHARLEVOIX -- A mother in Kansas looking at a picture she received from her son of the Charlevoix Coast Guard Station would be misled.

Outwardly the station may look like another efficient government office building. But inside it is a self-sufficient little military garrison, complete with the aroma of a mess hall and fresh-starched fatigues.

THE FOUR OFFICES, with radios, telephones, Great Lakes charts and other equipment are only the beginning of the building.

When SA Keith Engstrom takes time out from his telephone machine to introduce you to BMC OAR McKeen, you step into a complex that would make any Kansas mother confident her son is being well taken care of.

Step down the hall and through the door a few feet from Lt. David Smith's office and you're in the Rec. Deck and mess hall.

The Rec Deck, is where the Coast Guardsmen shoot pool, watch tv, or sit in very comfortable chairs and read chat or think about home.

CSI Fredrick Fredrick, the cook who left Sept. 29 for duty aboard the Coast Guard cutter Mackinac and the new cook, CSI Jean Gamble, who has been there learning the ropes of the kitchen, are the real masters of the confined Rec. Deck and mess hall.

THE ONLY training they have is thru a correspondence course and working under a rated first or second class cook. Their menus are approved by the officer in charge. They buy food once a month from Kinchloe Air Force base and also more often from local stores.

There are 24 men on the station 12 of whom eat at the station.

The men get up at 6:30 and breakfast is served between 7 and 7:30.

Lunch is the big meal of the day and is served from 11:30 to 12:00 and consists of meat, potatoes, gravy, vegetables, salad, bread and butter, pie, cake or pudding, coffee and milk, all of which are made by the cook.

"All that, with a cast iron stomach and you might make it thru any enlistment," said BMJ Jonathan Stevens who was enjoying a cup of coffee and shooting a game of pool in the combination Rec Deck and Mess Hall.

DINNER THAT night was served from 4:30 to 5. The "light" evening meal consisted of grilled cheese and fried eggs sandwich, a specialty of cook Fredrick, and a specialty of cook Fredrick.

along with French Fries, hot Pork sandwiches, sliced tomatoes, butterscotch pudding, and coffee or milk.

None of the men looked like they were under-fed.

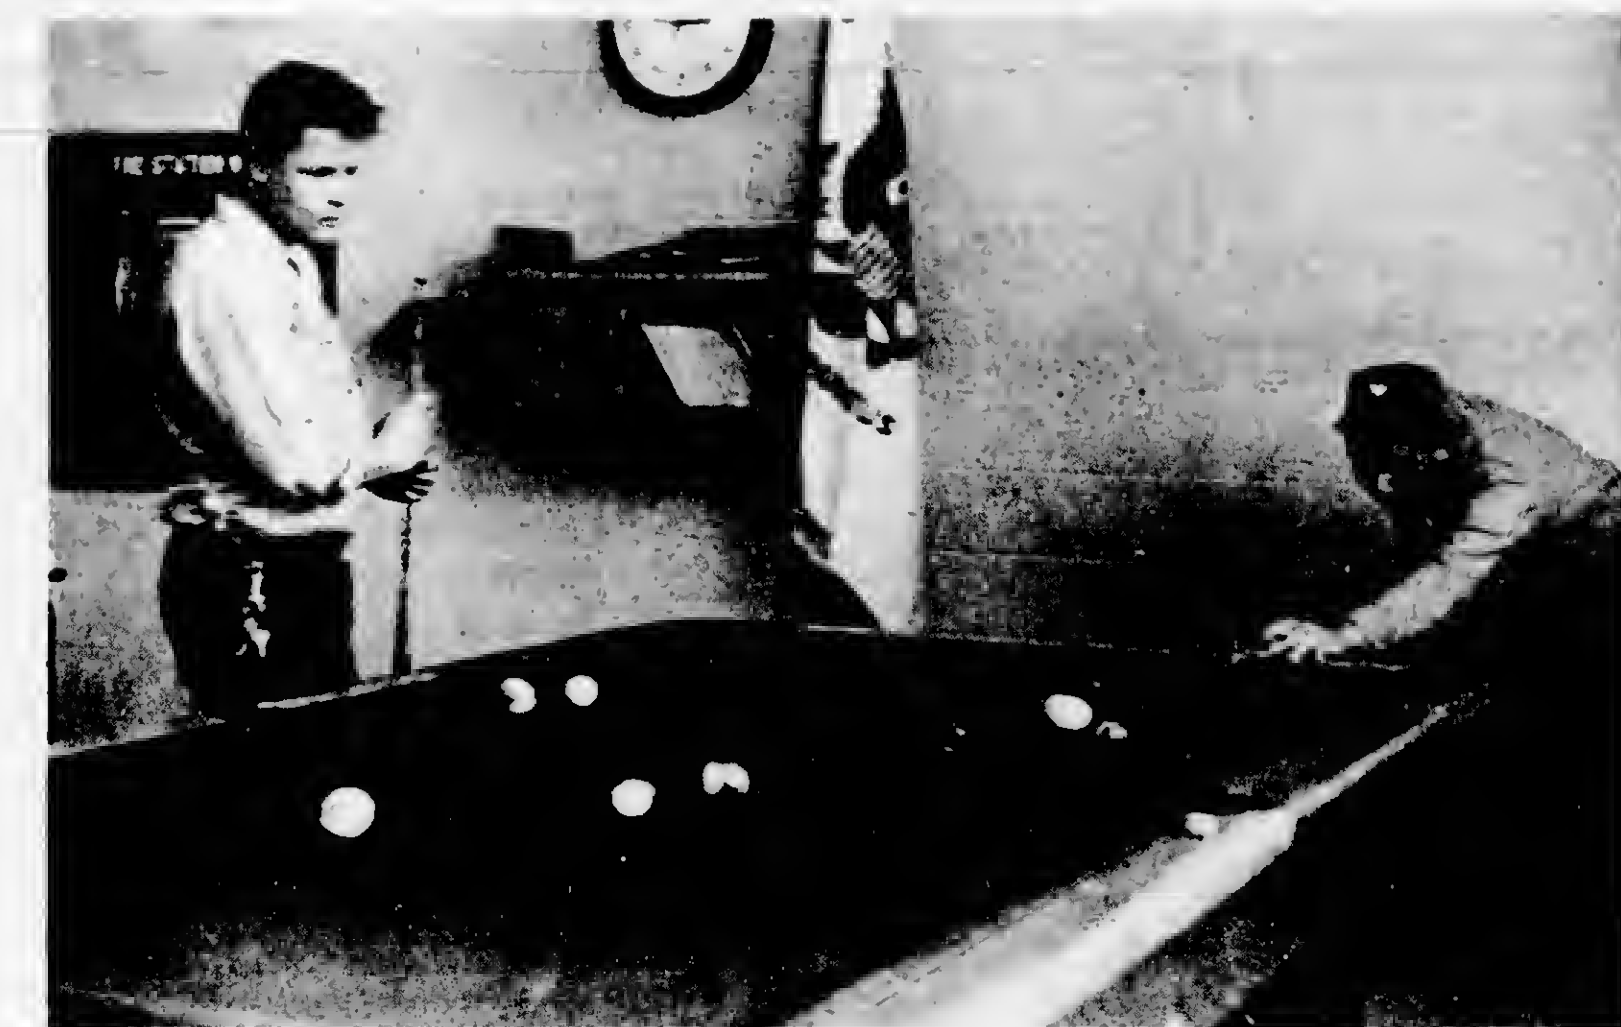

The cook has a very well-equipped, up-to-date kitchen almost to the look of a hospital kitchen and a well-stocked pantry and walk-in refrigerator.

The mess cook, who is a non-rated man, does the final clean-up, and this job is rotated weekly through the men at the station.

Beyond the mess hall are the quarters, or compartments as they are called, very neat, clean and homey, each room has its own bunks, easy chairs, desks with lights and lockers. The men do their own housekeeping. They have a laundry room with a washer and dryer where each man does his own washing. They have a compartment cleaner called a "house mouse" who cleans the "bunks" or bunks every day. The men take turns at house mousing.

Citizens Ask Counties to Void Ellsworth Tax Vote

ELLSWORTH--Antrim and Charlevoix County Boards of Supervisors have been asked to refuse to levy the 12-mill school tax voted here Aug. 7 on the grounds the election was illegal.

County boards must approve levying of all property taxes. If they refuse to do so, the 12-mill Ellsworth school operating tax levy, the school will be deprived of approximately $36,000, about one-fifth of its total budget.

ELLSWORTH Supt. John Jurgensen said he knew nothing about the election being disputed until contacted by the Courier. He said neither county board has contacted him.

obeyed all election laws.

Lynn Carpenter, a former 16-year member of the Ellsworth school board, was one of the signers of the letter requesting the Charlevoix board declare the election illegal.

the election illegal.

Carpenter said the school failed to obey the law on two points. He said the Antrim County Prosecuting Attorney advised him and others that this made the election illegal--meaning the 12 mills cannot be collected.

HE SAID THE two illegal procedures allegedly were:
1--The school board failed to include a statement from the county treasurers of all taxes above the 12-mill tax limitation that local governing bodies are authorized to levy. (Charlevoix's school election notices this summer did include this statement.)

From his experience on the school board and from reading the election laws, Carpenter said he is convinced violation of either one of these two requirements voids the election.

IF THE 12-MILL is ruled illegal by the county boards, Ellsworth can not vote to get them replaced in time to have them placed on the Dec. 1 tax roll, meaning it would have to wait until Dec. 1, 1968.

Carpenter said, however, that the school district could vote now and borrow operating funds in anticipation of the Dec. 1, 1968 tax rolls.

CHARLEVOIX HIGH'S 11-man Homecoming bombshell looks into the Courier's fisheye camera lens, causing the photographer to realize his good fortune in not being on the Harbor Springs football squad, which will meet the Rayders on Kipke field in Friday's Homecoming contest. The fisheye lens, the only one owned by a northern Michigan newspaper, takes a 180-degree picture, creating a slightly distorted image.

Homecoming Clash Pits Rayders Against Harbor, Will Pick Queen

CHARLEVOIX -- Friday the 12th of October is going to be a lucky day for some Charlevoix girls and odds are for hundreds of Charlevoix Rayder fans.

Superstitions be long, Friday the 13th is Charlevoix's Homecoming.

HIGH SCHOOL seniors have picked the five girls they like best. One of them will be chosen by the entire student body to reign as Queen.

The five beauties are Kris Lieberman, Geri Oliver, Janet Pease, Malin Torshaus and Laurel Wilson. One will be Queen. The other four will surround her with radiant youthful beauty.

High school classes have also been busy getting their floats ready for the Homecoming Parade, starting at 7 p.m. on State St. at Clinton.

Floats will be judged as they move up State St., across Bridge St. and onto the football field. The three best floats will win prizes, which will be awarded at halftime.

FOR THE FIRST time this year an alumni float is expected in the parade. The alumni float will not be eligible for prizes, high school principal Ray Carr said.

The Queen will be introduced at halftime. Her identity will not be announced until then.

With the Rayders unbeaten and all alone on top of the Northern Michigan Class ing fans to expand boat launching and docking facilities.

DR. HOWARD TANNER of Michigan State University and formerly head of the State's Fisheries program, has been invited to talk to Chamber, government and sportsmen's leaders as soon as possible. He will be asked to outline detailed information on how the county can and should rear its own coho from eggs supplied by the State. State officials have stated they will provide coho eggs to communities that are capable of rearing them.

Dr. Tanner has said that a county salmon raising program is both economical and technically practical. Salmon raising, he said, is inexpensive, simple and requires a minimum of facilities.

Salmon hatched from eggs this winter would be planted in the spring, he said.

REPRESENTATIVES of the three chambers said their members and communities are eager to get salmon planted, after seeing the economic explosion the imported fish brought to the Muskegon-Frankfort area this fall.

They were unanimous in feeling business and local government officials would financially support a salmon raising project after more information is obtained from Dr. Tanner. They also agreed the project must be launched immediately if eggs are to be obtained for this area from adult salmon.

CHARLEVOIX -- Reports that Charlevoix must re-draw its ward boundary lines were dismissed this week by Mayor Bill Fochtman.

Fochtman said city officials have received no official notice of the new law requiring city wards be apportioned on a one-man, one-vote basis before Dec. 1.

UNTIL THE CITY does, Fochtman said, he intends to take no action.

The law requires that each of the city's wards have the same number of residents. A variance of only five percent is allowed. The population of each ward must, according to the law, be based on the 1960 census.

LOCKWOOD -- MAC DONALD administrator Milton Rasmussen is in Canada on vacation and could not be contacted for comment.

Rasmussen's office, however, confirmed that the hospital has committed itself to reconsider the Osteopathy question.

Boyer City has been without a doctor for several months. The community has a small clinic, but no hospital.

Smith said a survey of Boyne City people revealed more than 70% of them would as soon go to an Osteopath as an M.D.

Several Osteopaths (O.D.'s) have said they would move to Boyne City and Charlevoix if they had the use of an area hospital, Smith said.

Smith's committee has been working since early this year to interest at least two general practitioners in moving to Boyne City. The Charlevoix Hospital Board has also been trying to get two more doctors to come to Charlevoix.

Smith said his committee has run into black wall in trying to interest Medical Doctors (M.D.'s) in a local hospital appears to be the only way the area can have adequate medical service.

"M.D.'s, WE'VE found, are going into specialization," Smith said. "They're going into clinics, like burns and setting up in big hospitals. They don't want the general run of cuts and bruises and snotty noses."

But the O.D.'s want the general practice and making house calls. The O.D.'s, he added, "are the ones who are going to be our general practitioners."

After failing to find O.D.'s welcome at other hospitals, Smith said, two O.D.'s who are interested in settling in Boyne City went to Lockwood-MacDonald.

They were welcomed by members of the staff and administration at Lockwood-MacDonald and promised the new Petoskey hospital would consider admitting Osteopaths, Smith said. This is confirmed by a Commission Chairman Ralph Dean said the action was taken because the consultants have not been successful in obtaining federal funds to repay part of their work.

The move to take Williams and Works off the job was initiated by Commission member Oscar Stroud, who has been an outspoken critic of both the planning firm and involved government agencies.

The Commission has been waiting two years for the federal grant. Some commission members feel Williams and Works are responsible for the "confusion" with state and federal authorities who must approve the grant.

Fochtman said redistricting on the basis of the 1960 census would probably result in wards being a multiproportion as they now are. The population of the wards, he explained, has changed considerably since the 1960 census was taken.

The city, however, under the reapportionment law, has the option of taking new census, Secretary of State James Hare explained.

IT IS NOT KNOWN what the State will do if the city does not comply with the law. The 1968 city election could, however, be nullified as illegal if councilmen are not selected from equal-population wards.

The County Board of Supervisors last spring reapportioned itself into equal-population districts in compliance with the law. This act has since been temporarily halted while final court action is pending.

During its reapportionment study the county board, under committee chairman Low Moorland of Charlevoix, drew new boundary lines from which Charlevoix's three county supervisors are to be elected.

Population figures for the county's new wards were obtained are based on the 1960 census, which gave Charlevoix a population of 2,751.

THE COUNTY'S PLAN would result in the first ward having a population of 891. The third and second wards would have 930 people each.

The population of the existing wards is not known. But there are 994 persons registered to vote in the first ward, 669 in the second ward and 576 in the third ward, showing a considerable difference of population.

Under the county plan, the new first ward would take in everything north of the center of Clinton St. The present first ward is everything north of the bridge.

The second ward would be everything south of the center of Clinton St., from State St. to Lake Michigan and west of the center of State St. to the city's south boundary. It now takes in everything from Park Ave. west of the center of State St.

The third ward would be everything east of State St., south of the center of Clinton St. The present third ward takes in everything south of Park Ave. and east of the center of State St.

WOODS HOODLUMS were at it again last week. Sheriff's Deputy Byron Stockwell, left, and Conservation Officer Harley Burris point out a hole blasted in a box toilet door at Bell's Bay campground by shotgun shells. Several minor children were charged with the vandalism. More than 30 shotgun shells were picked up around the toilet, the roof of which was also destroyed by shotgun pellets.

The board's architect, Richard Wiggins, will present firm figures on the cost of "building" a new elementary school, remodeling the present elementary and expanding the high school.

THE BOARD MAY make a decision on the plans. It has committed itself to hold a bond issue election before Christmas.

Interested persons can attend the meeting to the high school library.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "theory" or "theory" is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions; consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the "in-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Class of '68 Be 2nd Biggest

ELLSWORTH -- Unless it loses students, Ellsworth will have its second largest graduating class next June. There are 30 seniors enrolled at Ellsworth. Last year there were 19.

Hal D. Rose
CHARLEVOIX -- Funeral services for Hal Douglas Rose, 48, insurance executive, were conducted Tuesday at Chapel of the Chimes, Ingleswood Park Cemetery, Los Angeles, Calif., by Dr. Jesse V. Long, minister, Ingleswood Church of Religious Science. Inurnment will follow.

A native of Charlevoix, he attended school there and was graduated from Sarasota (Fla.) High School. He attended Los Angeles City College, San Jose State College and was graduated from University of California, Santa Barbara. He attended Officers Candidates School of the U.S. Marine Corps. He belonged to the Japanese-American Society and visited Japan regularly.

Obituaries Mrs. M. Thompson

EAST JORDAN--Mrs. Merle Thompson died in Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey on October 7. She was born May 19, 1904 in Leeward, Michigan.

She is survived by one brother, Gordon Wright of Grand Rapids and several nieces and nephews.

Services were held October 10 at the Watson Funeral Home with Rev. Davidson of the Lutheran Church presiding. Burial was in Sunset Hill in East Jordan.

Her husband, Merle, preceded her in death. Her mother was Phoebe Thompson and father was George Wright.

Survivors are his wife, Jane, Los Angeles, mother, Mrs. Catharine Deibel Rose, Hollywood, brother, Mason H. Rose, Hollywood, and John S. Rose, Ventura; uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Genor, Johannesburg.

Mr. Rose was the son of the late Mason H. Rose, Charlevoix Post Office employee and later superintendent of mills at Sarasota, Fla. His father was president of Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, a Mason, and a submarine diver with his father, Captain S. M. Rose, Great Lakes master skipper, game warden and mayor of Charlevoix. His mother was a teacher at Charlevoix High School and later became an elementary school principal and high school teacher at Sarasota, Fla. After moving to Florida, the Roses spent their summers in Charlevoix.

Every spring, after leaving their winter camps, the Indians rendezvoused at The Place of the Big Rock on Little Traverse Bay just north of Charlevoix. They called it—"Kit-chi-ossining."

Now, scientists, physicists and government leaders from all over the world visit Big Rock—to see Consumers Power Company's Nuclear Power Plant. You too are welcome at Big Rock. A Public Information Center there has displays, exhibits, films and lecturers to tell you the exciting story of the atom at work—bringing electricity to Michigan's Lower Peninsula. The Center is open every day.

Rayders Defeat Jordan, 44-7

by PAUL FIEDOREK
The Charlevoix Rayders, undefeated in conference action, romped over East Jordan 44-7. The win over East Jordan placed Charlevoix in sole possession of first place in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference, with a 3-0 record.

Charlevoix, not wasting any time, recovered a fumble on East Jordan's first play from scrimmage. Terry Blisset found running room around right end, for a 34 yard TD on the first play from scrimmage. Mike Lord booted the extra point making it 7-0.

CHARLEVOIX'S FRED Wabanimkee (84) is foiled in his attempt to catch this pass as East Jordan defenders swarm around him.

"Freedom of press" is a misnomer

by GLENN SHEPPARD
Who told that postman...
The answer is that there is no law that requires the Courier to cover the true story and full story behind public affairs. The Constitution says "Congress shall make no law... abridging the freedom of press." You can search every other law right down to the most recent ones and find nothing further about "the press."

"FREEDOM OF THE PRESS" is a misnomer. It really means the public's right to take part in and know everything about their officials are doing. And last week being National Newspaper Week it seems like a good time to make our point.

The Courier is not required to report city council, county board, hospital board or other affairs of vital interest to the public. Instead, the Courier's staff could stay home on meeting nights and sleep in late the next morning because it wouldn't be concerned with getting the story written that it didn't cover the night before.

Laws do not specify that "the press" must be given special treatment by public officials. Open meeting laws and laws requiring public access to public records never mention newspapers, reporters or news media. They simply affirm the right of the public to every Joe Doe's...

Obituary

C.B. Meggison

CHARLES V. MEGGISON, 73, former state representative for the Charlevoix district, who died Oct. 4 at Charlevoix Hospital where he had been a patient for two days, were held Saturday at the Winchester Funeral Home, Rev. Leonard Wingard officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Mr. Meggison had been in failing health for several years.

Born in Charlevoix, September 12, 1894, he attended Charlevoix schools and Michigan State University.

He was a veteran of World War I and member and past commander of the 1st U.S. Infantry Post No. 226, in the American Legion.

He attended the First Methodist Church.

Manager of the Charlevoix Cooperative from 1932 to 1932 he then served as the Charlevoix postmaster from 1932 to 1936.

He served as clerk of the court, 1936, judicial circuit from 1941 until 1954; state representative from 1955 until 1962; a member of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors serving Charlevoix's Third Ward for many years; member and past chairman of the Charlevoix County Republican Committee and a charter member of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club. He also served on the Charlevoix Board of Education.

He is survived by his wife, the former Sallie Bedell, whom he married in Flint, Mich., in 1924; a son, Donald B. of Charlevoix; three daughters, Mrs. Kenneth L. (Frances) Wilson, of Birmingham, Mrs. Jack (Betty) Dewitt, of Wyoming and Mrs. James (Faye) Alers, of Charlevoix. Three sisters, Mrs. Grant Mudge, of Eastport, Mrs. Theodore Gravely, of South San Gabriel, Calif. and Mrs. Lawrence L. McGowan, of Charlevoix and 17 grandchildren.

to attend meetings of public bodies and to investigate the records he is paying for. MRS. SMITH HAS as much right as the Courier does to "cover" the city council or probe the courts or police department's records for her women's club, or just for herself.

And this is the way the Courier, and other responsible newspapers, intend to see that it remains. But, of course, most people do not have the time or patience to become experts on government, education, taxes, etc. so they hire newspapers to do it. In Charlevoix people hire the Courier to cover local public affairs than ever voted for any local public official. And they're new this confidence in the Courier every week. (We'd be terrified to see the fast turn-around we'd have in public affairs if elections were held weekly.)

So the reporter attends meetings, files into records and asks questions as a member of the public. Hopefully, he is more "specialized" in public affairs than the average Joe. And because he spends his entire working life studying and reporting public affairs, he should know more about them than officials who are in office only a couple of decades, or less.

The newspaperman reports and comments on the affairs of his community as an ordinary citizen. While he is at it in his function by his training, he has no special rights. He can comment and sell his papers only as long as he keeps faith with the "public" -- which frequently isn't the same as keeping faith with officials.

The Courier is as apt to be mistaken in its work as an engineer is in designing an automobile or a mechanic is in fixing one. And we won't bore you with another long-winded yarn about our friends until National Newspaper Week next year. --Shep.

LEE CROSS (32) SHAKES his last East Jordan tackle and head for the goal as Charlevoix beat East Jordan

O'Brien Proves Kokanee Survived in Torch Lake

EAST JORDAN -- The first proof that the kokanee salmon planted in Torch Lake in 1965 have survived has been produced by Conservation Officer Julius O'Brien.

O'Brien, on the request of state fish biologists, did not let four kokanee from Wilkinson Creek near Eastport, where the thousands of young salmon were planted in the spring of 1965.

The kokanee -- a salmon variety of panfish -- were planted with great fanfare at the mouth of Wilkinson Creek.

Kiwanis

CHARLEVOIX -- Charlevoix Kiwanis Club met last night at the home of Lawrence Tenhopen. Its next president, He and his newly elected officers will be installed at a joint meeting with Potosky and Harbor Springs, in January.

The officers elected are: Loren Corbin, president; Earl Anderson, vice-president; Fred White, secretary and Raymond Carr, directors for terms of two years each.

Gov. George Romney officiated at the planting.

No kokanee, O'Brien said, have been caught in fisherman.

CHS Classes Draw Ellsworth Students

ELLSWORTH -- Three tuition students are attending Charlevoix High School this year. Principal Ray Carr reports.

Last year the tuition fee was $100. It hasn't been decided what the cost will be this year.

The students attending Charlevoix are Mary Barnes, a tenth grade student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Barnes of Eastport, Yvonne Stachett, a senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stachett of Ellsworth, and Daniel Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehead of Ellsworth.

Assuming Mr. Whitehead the attending student at Charlevoix High School because he is interested in college and advanced mathematics and also a graduate of private school here. They reside at 15 West Lincoln, Charlevoix.

Jon Goldstick in Army Basic

CHARLEVOIX -- Army Private Jon S. Goldstick is assigned to company E, 10 Battalion, 6 Brigade at the United States Army Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

He will spend two months learning fundamental Army skills. Following basic training, Goldstick will be assigned to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goldstick of Charlevoix, who are the parents of Jon.

He is a graduate of Charlevoix High School and is currently attending Charlevoix Community College. He is a member of the Charlevoix High School football team and is a member of the Charlevoix High School band.

Chamber Chat

Sorry folks, had to miss last week. Thank you for looking.

Warning! Do not pay attention to what the advertising, I refer to mail from Classified Advertising Publishers, Farzani, Calif., which often appears to some persons as a bill for an advertisement in yellow pages, and goes to the printer's office. Apparently this method of promotion is not illegal, and I am at a loss as to what one can do to prevent it. I have received these mail several years and have written the sender, and they yet come. Be sure to read all the fine print first. Then be governed accordingly.

Remember 1967 Fly-in-hold at our airport recently. It was a good display and the result of lots of hard work. Many persons enjoyed it very much. Two shows now should put the committee in better shape to produce a "Tour" in 1968 and become a well-advertised and promoted "annual". Good luck Charlevoix Flying Club.

Time for teachers to prove themselves

TEACHERS HAVE won substantial pay increases and virtual assurance of job longevity in the last few years. In doing so they have finally broken through the barrier of apathy and sarcasm from critics.

Having always felt that education is the most vital and influential factor in building a better community and better society, the Courier has supported these benefits for teachers.

HOWEVER, NOW that the public has delivered and teachers are in the driver's seat, it is time for educators to deliver tangible evidence they are worth their hire.

Undoubtedly the major reason teachers find so much resistance to their inclusion is that they are underpaid. It is time educators are skeptical of whether they are actually hiring teachers who are producing the caliber of education sought.

Of course, some teachers are. But, just as assuredly, many others are not. If the public is willing to pay a healthy wage, it is time educators pointed the finger at their own trade and demanded only the finest remain on the job.

Qualifications required to obtain a teaching certificate have no meaning. It is absurdly inept to tell an intelligent person (which includes nearly every citizen) that someone's judgment, communications skill, comprehension, enthusiasm, etc., are adequate simply because they hold a certain degree or took the right college credits.

MOST OF US IN our own trades have seen people with degrees and top scholastic records curl up in their pique and wither when it came time to deliver or get off the payroll.

Educators do not face this "produce or else" dilemma. Their boss--the public--has nothing on which to judge whether they are producing.

We all know children who have made it through grade school (and a few even high school) and still cannot read.

These tests should also be given to school administrators. The year a superintendent or principal does not outscore all of his teachers on comprehension and communications skill they should be replaced.

Teaching is the most important job in our society. Those who do it well deserve more pay than they are receiving. However, the Courier opposes any further salary increases for educators until we have proof everyone in the business is doing the finest job possible.

Mr. Hess's tenure in Charlevoix was much shorter than Mr. Meggison's. He did not become a part of Charlevoix public life until 1950 when he left behind during the busy months at the town hall. He had an opportunity to learn things worthwhile, but mainly it was a matter of skimming parties, his rides and the time.

The outstanding service these two men gave to our community continues to be carried on by their sons, Don Meggison and Ralph Hess Jr. Both have already demonstrated they inherited the leadership their father's so selflessly gave to Charlevoix.

34 country schools are victims

Shall we mourn 'dead' schools?

BY GLEN SHEPPARD

IRONTON -- It isn't always the victors who are cherished the longest. Sometimes mankind discovers, too late, that the losers, not the victors, were the true champions of human dignity and independence.

The influential, the ones who hear they know it about school affairs, may scoff, but sometime Charlevoix County may want to place a marker beside the school here.

THE MARKER MAY identify the last school in the little town's battle to preserve some semblance of control over its children's education and to live right to be what they are--not what remote, centralized powers say they must be.

This fall Ironton became the 34th, and last, one-room country school to lose its battle for survival and independence during the past 30 years.

Thirty years ago there were 40 school districts in Charlevoix County. Only six survive. They are all multi-room, consolidated schools: Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix, Boyne Falls, Wilton Lake and Beaver Island.

Since 1937 a way of life has died that began with the "split" that was heard around the world. We are no longer vital participants in local school affairs. Most people figure--and probably rightly so--that the schools are too remote and "big" to hear them.

AND THOUGH Intermediate Superintendent Robinson and Sen. Tom Seligman tell you kids are getting a better education than they were in the school "down on the corner," darn few of us are gullible enough to believe them. We just don't know what to do about our frustrations.

What about that marker outside the Ironton school? On it should be engraved the roll call of the losers--schools which have been eliminated by consolidation.

A look at the county's 1937 tax allocation Board minutes turns up the names of the schools which have disappeared in the last 30 years. They are: North Bay, Horton's Bay, Lakeside, Chandler, Tainter, Wilton, Advance, Ironton, Evelyn-Orchards, Murray, Hopton, Onondaga, Maple Grove, Boyne, Hargrove, Woodward, Barnard, Grand View, Lush, Phelps, Marshall, Center, Norwood, Hilton, Clarke, Sedro, Summerville, McKinley, High Island, Ramey, Knop, Cedar Valley, Afton, Slaughter and Deer Lake.

COUNT THEM for yourself. There are 34 that are no more. The loss of them, Ironton, was listed as "died in action" when the State and Intermediate school district ordered the October 1966 school reorganization vote.

Ironton's school--built in 1963--to replace the original school built in 1883 was the most modern one-room school the county ever had. It is still as sturdy and serviceable as any school building in the county.

It wasn't construction and materials weaknesses that brought the country schools to their grave. It was a depression and the power-hungry political tyrants it brought to office.

Their reach for control could only be realized if they broke America's one rock-hard local independence and erode through centralized education. The public, being naive, didn't seem to realize what was happening, and maybe still doesn't.

Selecting Mrs. Brock to continue in her post here was a stroke of genius. Where last year she taught ironton grade schoolers, she now teaches

THOUGH THE IRONTON school is now part of the Charlevoix 'city' school system, Mrs. Lula Brock, standing, keeps one fundamental 'country' school tradition alive: The kids say grace before lunch.

Comment

The enemy (the victor) is too difficult to identify and too well insulated behind political double talk, front offices and school board executive sessions.

Can you recall what would have happened in 1937 if the Ironton School District No. 9 school board had told parents they couldn't sit in and speak up at a board meeting?

I can tell you what would have happened in our little corner of Michigan. If the school board had pulled such a stunt, The Shepherd clan would have physically thrown the slugs out...right in the middle of their "secret" meeting.

Of course, we all know violence. (So we all know American boys for people who won't fight for themselves.) Violence wasn't needed in country school affairs.

SCHOOL BOARD members, then, were only ordinary folks who didn't figure they were an adult lot smarter than their neighbors.

Today there are still children attending the modern one-room Ironton grade schoolers, she now teaches Mrs. Lula Brock, who is Charlevoix County's last one-room school teacher, is still teaching here. But now she works for the 1,448-student Charlevoix school district.

Visiting Mrs. Brock's special education class depresses a person who MRS. BROCK continues to give her students at Ironton School close personal attention. She gathers small groups of youngsters together to give them lessons, just as teachers have for years in country schools. Other children, meanwhile, are busy at previously assigned lessons.

Country schools cheaper

A search of the county's Tax Allocation Board minutes over the last 30 years reveals more than the fact 34 school districts have disappeared.

The minute book, kept by County Clerk Pete Dulow, has some interesting tax figures.

FOR INSTANCE, in 1937 Charlevoix school district was allocated four mills, which raised $10,707. This year Charlevoix school district received 8.4 mills which raised $23,226 from local property owners.

East Jordan school district, in 1937, authorized the High Island School District to raise $34 in local property taxes.

In 1937 the Allocation Board, at the request of Ironton school district, authorized Ironton to levy five mills--an increase of one over 1936. The motion to approve the tax hike was made by recently retired County Treasurer Lullie Flinders. Ironton's five mills raised $1,084 for school operation.

Oh, and the Allocation Board in 1937 authorized the High Island School District to raise $34 in local property taxes.

We Country Kids Were 4-Hers, of Course

By Grace Ann McDaniels

Last week was national 4-H week. I realize I didn't cause any flags to be raised but it does give me something to look back on.

For you city folk, 4-H stands for hands, head, heart and health, or something similar and not necessarily in that order.

I'M A COUNTRY kid by association (not to mention neighborhood) and all my country kids belonged to the 4-H as a matter of course. Nobody liked to be left behind during the busy months at the town hall. He had an opportunity to learn things worthwhile, but mainly it was a matter of skimming parties, his rides and the time.

Somehow our entire class managed to improve enough to bring home nothing less than first and second place. I stuck with it through Food Prep, II, III and IV until I learned to bake bread. This turned out to be another lesson in how to avoid tunnels. I also found out that horses of broad hime around are a little more versatile than a counter covered with muffins.

To maintain membership we had to have a project. There was a long list to choose from. I picked my closest friends and ended up in Food Preparation. We spent a good share of that year learning how to make a muffin large enough to resemble a mine shaft.

I do remember how to rewrite a plug, but so do the city kids. That year could be chalked up as a failure except for the hayride.

And it was called "ach-vee". Long years of my life and I can rewrite a plug. But then, you'll never find a plug in any of my muffins either. Think I'll go out and raise the flag for Betty Crocker.

Jordan Council Ponders Airport Problem

EAST JORDAN -- The city council is studying reorganization of the city wards. The council also discussed the north-south runway at the city airport. No funds had been provided and they are trying to find the funds to do the job. This would cost over $1,800 and Consumers Power Company would provide the wire.

City Clerk Ben Bussard explained that under the State's equal representation law, the city has until Jan. 1, 1968 to reorganize its wards to provide representation on a one man, one vote basis.

EAST JORDAN has six aldermen, two from each of its three wards. The first and second wards have 250 people each and the third has 500, so people in the third ward are under-represented, according to state law.

It was decided that the city attorney examine the legal ramifications of the problem, along with possible solutions, and present them at the council's next meeting.

Aldermen Jerry Olsen, Guy Vallance and Bill Morrison were appointed to a committee to handle the affairs of the City Tourist Park.

Wins $75 for CG Suggestion

CHARLEVOIX -- Engineer first class Gary Fortner won $75 for a suggestion he submitted to the Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District.

The suggestion was for providing a safe-guard against accidental starting of the engines on a 44-foot fibroblast.

Fortner is attached to the Beaver Island Coast Guard Station, and received the award from the Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District, Admiral Charles Tighe.

The 'Beach' is Dead

THE BEACH HOTEL refused to die the tranquil death scheduled for her. The last of Charlevoix's once several grand resort hotels, the Beach had been reduced to a pile of rubble by wreckers and was destined to be hauled away ingloriously in trucks to a dump.

Instead, she caught fire about 11 a.m. Monday. Flames and smoke filled the sky and shoreline at the end of Dixon overlooking the channel mouth all day and night Monday and into Tuesday morning. Firemen, feeling it futile to attempt putting the blaze out, merely kept it under control. The picture immediately below shows the Beach during her heyday. In bottom picture is all that remained Tuesday.

School Salaries to Cost $573,440, 79%

CHARLEVOIX -- The Charlevoix school board Monday adopted a $573,440 deficit budget, which it expects to balance by using surplus funds left from last year.

Salaries will eat up 79.84% of the total budget, or $573,440, Supt. Rex Milligan said.

THE BUDGET CALLS for spending $236,936 for salaries in the elementary grades and $241,002 in the high school. Administration salary costs will total $37,900. Salaries for transportation will cost $23,260 and for operation of the plant $34,092.

Total anticipated revenue during the 1967-68 fiscal year is $708,128. Of this $403,157 will be raised from local property taxes and $275,711 in state aid based on $133.89 per pupil.

To balance the $718,234 budget, the board will use $10,100 from the $26,936 balance left at the end of the last school year.

This is expected to leave an operating fund balance of $16,830 at the end of this school year.

Architect Richard Vignola gave the board a total cost estimate of $2,069,000.

THE BOARD has decided to ask voters in December to approve the sale of bonds to pay for the building program.

Voters will be asked to approve two separate propositions:

- 1-Construction of the northside elementary school, costing $1,287,000.
- 2-Additions to the high school, costing $457,000.

County Voids School Tax

Ellsworth Loses $46,000

ELLSWORTH -- The Antrim County Board of Supervisors has decided to void the Ellsworth School District of approximately $46,000 in operating funds.

The county board last week acted on a citizens' petition charging the Aug. 7 election for 12 mills for operation was illegal. The board acted, County Clerk Laura Malmgren said, on the advice of the county prosecutor.

AT THE SAME time, the Charlevoix County Board ignored the petition and ordered the 12 mills levied in Marion and South Arm Townships, Charlevoix board chairman Lee Sauter said.

The 12-mill levy on Ellsworth's small amount of Charlevoix County valuation will raise less than $5,000 for the Ellsworth schools.

The loss of the $46,000 in tax revenue in Antrim County is more than a fifth of the school district's total 1967-68 operating budget.

Ellsworth Supt. John Jurgensen said the school board has retained an attorney, Zarfa and Zarfa of Elk Rapids, in an attempt to overturn the Antrim County Board's decision.

JURGENSEN said he does not know if the board's attorneys will take the matter to court or attempt to fight it in another way.

Several citizens asked the two county boards to refuse to levy the 12 mills, charging the election was illegal.

1-The school board failed to include a statement from the county treasurers of all taxes above the 15-mill tax limitation that local governing and school bodies are authorized to levy.

2-The school also failed to notify the county treasurers within five days of the election's outcome.

County Moves on $500,000 Jail

Preliminary steps toward constructing a jail that will ultimately cost taxpayers $500,000 was approved last week by the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors.

Voters will have to approve a bond issue before the jail can be constructed.

THE BOARD approved taking "immediate steps toward construction of a new jail complex."

The first action slated is to select a site for the jail and option property. The board authorized an appropriation of $4,000 to pay for land options and pay the architect, Steve Gerganoff.

Gerganoff presented plans to the board for a 31-prisoner jail. The basic construction cost, he said, would be $292,000.

In addition to the $292,000 would be equipment costs, architect and legal fees, construction of a $40,000 apartment for the Sheriff, tearing down or remodeling the present jail, purchasing land and interest.

THOUGH THE plan he presented to the board called for construction of the new jail on the site of the present jail, Gerganoff recommended that a different site be found, probably in the relatively undeveloped southwest section of Charlevoix.

THE PROPOSED jail outlined by Gerganoff would meet all state requirements and meet Charlevoix County's needs in the immediate future, he said, it could be expanded in the future.

The State has ordered Charlevoix to remodel or vacate the old jail, which was built in 1919 at a cost of $28,000.

Gerganoff said that if the present jail is razed and the new one constructed on the site, the county would have to pay about $55,000 to house its prisoners elsewhere during construction. Purchase of the two adjoining houses on Antrim would also be required, he said.

The jail must be located within the corporate limits of Charlevoix, the county seat.

WORKMEN ARE TEARING out the Charlevoix High School gym floor, which was ruined by water. Nearly the entire floor is being replaced. The entire cost--estimated at more than $10,000--is being paid by the school's insurance company.

Coach Don Carey reports he expects the job to be completed in time for pre-season basketball practice.

Renew Conflict Charge at Hampton Village Hearing

CHARLEVOIX -- Monday's City Council hearing on special assessments for Hampton Village road building turned into a renewal of charges of conflict of interest on the City Attorney John Michael's part.

Mrs. Jean Vogler repeated her charges that Michael's partnership in Hampton Associates constitutes a conflict of interest.

SHE ALSO CHARGED that other city officials have been working indirectly on behalf of the developer, but failed to prove this or show where it could constitute a conflict of interest.

Mayor Bill Fochman told Mrs. Vogler she was out of order, he said the hearing was called to hear grievances on the special assessment, and that her charges were not relevant.

She insisted, however, on continually returning to the subject.

Rob Cook, whose special assessment will total $1,400, said "We have had this thing forced on us without even knowing what is going on. This thing has been a whole series of things of this nature."

THE CITY, COOK said, is paying 48% of the cost of developing streets in the subdivision, other property owners will pay 11.3% and Hampton Associates will pay 40.7%.

Louis Julleriet, who is also in the special assessment district, joined out when he came to Charlevoix 17 years ago and went in business the city did not subsidize him "and it doesn't subsidize any other business."

There will be a float parade at 2:30 after which there will be a pep rally during the judging of the floats.

The floats will be re-paraded at half-time and the king and queen will be crowned.

Teenager refuses to quit lifelong battle

by KATHRYN GARTEN

In sports they call it guts. The Army calls it valor and courage.

Wherever you call it Linda Stolt has it.

Linda has refused to crawl into a shell and give up even though she's been suffering with what was thought to be incurable, crippling polio for 14 years. Now she has new reason to believe the years of suffering have been worthwhile.

LINDA IS NOW a patient at Georgia Warm Springs Foundation at Warm Springs, Georgia, which was frequently visited by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who also suffered from polio.

Doctors at the foundation have been checking the growth of Linda's legs for the last two years and finally decided she had gotten all her growth so they started a series of painful operations.

First they broke her right leg, then did several operations moving the muscles and changing the shape of the legs. After these operations Linda is in great pain and can only have pain shots every three hours.

The doctors did spinal webbing on her back so she could sit up like a normal person. Her back is very bad but there is too much risk involved to operate as it sometimes makes the back too hard.

LINDA HAS TO wear a solid plastic jacket but does not complain even though it becomes very hot and uncomfortable during the summer.

Even though Linda hasn't walked a step since Aug. 14 and won't walk again until the hospital and comes her lessons, she is taking Algebra, French, English and History. When she has time she does a little writing and has done some short stories. She would like to take typing and biology but can't because of being confined to bed.

Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stolt of Boyne City hope that Linda can shed her braces and hope they can find a back brace more comfortable for her. They won't be going to visit Linda again until they bring her home in Jan. or Feb.

Mr. Stolt is employed by the Emmet County Road Commission as a mechanic.

The March of Dimes is helping financially as is the information which will be available in the near future.

Maybe Charlevoix area is next, who knows. I read an interesting article in Resort Management Magazine, entitled "Snowmobiles Score With Guests". One resort reported having 20 two and three man snowmobiles which rent for $6.50 an hour or $25 a day with expenses shared with riders. Another place located near a variety leasing agency, has about three snowmobiles on hand renting at $4 an hour or $25 a day. (You know they are making the winter now.)

As renting or leasing increases, they merely call the agency for more equipment. It was indicated maintenance was at an extreme minimum, and no riders were wearing them to have some bearing on business stimulation.

ALONG THIS line for winter sports, it seems to me that a controlled good toboggan slide would be a venture and worth looking into. How about it?

Now to the other extreme. Be reminded that Michigan Week Program is May 19-25, 1968. Greater Michigan Foundation, Michigan Minutemen, and the many other allied organizations are at work, and climax their efforts by celebrating Michigan Week each year. The individual communities, small towns, cities, and metropolitan areas in Michigan have so very much and so few seem to know and appreciate it, seems. One of the purposes of the Foundation is to bring about all phases of interest and development to the progress is known by friends and neighbors throughout Michigan and especially over its borders. It should be realized that Michigan has tremendous advantages.

The writer, for three years, enjoyed very much being a part of this most interesting program as Charlevoix County Chairman for Michigan Week. The present County Chairman is Jack Dickhout, Postmaster, Boyne City, and the Regional Chairman is Mr. Noel Tanner, Mgr. Boyne Highlands, Harbor Springs. Already this Chamber has had inquiries having to do with Michigan Week, date, May 19-25, 1968.

Chamber Chat

BY WALLY LODER

CHAMBER MANAGER

Your Chamber has had requests for winterized cabins, chalets, or cottages, especially for family group and parties and other winter sportsmen. Are any to be available?

Parties in seven of the city cases have requested a jury trial. However, it is now known if the jury will be called, it seldom is.

The October term opens in the County Building Oct. 16. Should Judge Charles Brown decide to hear a jury case, the following persons will be called to sit on it:

From East Jordan, Bernard Broman, Ray Spivey and Marvin Thompson. From Charlevoix, Pauline Hamilton, Esther Livingston and James W. Gallagher.

Members from the township will be William Kurtz, Bay James G. Boars, Charlevoix, Charles Warlick, Eveline, Ronald Buckner, Hayes, Homer Warner, Marion, Clara Schumacher, Peasley, Rogers W. Carlisle, St. James, Donna M. Anderson, South Arm, Joseph Tymocz, Boyne Valley, Perry Magner, Chandler, Carl D. Jolly, Evan, Gulliver, Annabelle Jenkins, Hudson, Louis Jones, Milrose, and Howard Carson, Wilson.

From Boyne City, Kathryn Gilbert, William D. Sanson, William Christensen and Edna Burris.

Remember those people expect eating places available for one thing. Maybe a rescheduling of open and closed hours might help, or what is the answer?

No, it is not too soon! I have been working with a couple of sources to be available.

Linda Stolt is employed by the Emmet County Road Commission as a mechanic.

The March of Dimes is helping financially as is the information which will be available in the near future.

Maybe Charlevoix area is next, who knows. I read an interesting article in Resort Management Magazine, entitled "Snowmobiles Score With Guests". One resort reported having 20 two and three man snowmobiles which rent for $6.50 an hour or $25 a day with expenses shared with riders. Another place located near a variety leasing agency, has about three snowmobiles on hand renting at $4 an hour or $25 a day. (You know they are making the winter now.)

As renting or leasing increases, they merely call the agency for more equipment. It was indicated maintenance was at an extreme minimum, and no riders were wearing them to have some bearing on business stimulation.

ALONG THIS line for winter sports, it seems to me that a controlled good toboggan slide would be a venture and worth looking into. How about it?

Now to the other extreme. Be reminded that Michigan Week Program is May 19-25, 1968. Greater Michigan Foundation, Michigan Minutemen, and the many other allied organizations are at work, and climax their efforts by celebrating Michigan Week each year. The individual communities, small towns, cities, and metropolitan areas in Michigan have so very much and so few seem to know and appreciate it, seems. One of the purposes of the Foundation is to bring about all phases of interest and development to the progress is known by friends and neighbors throughout Michigan and especially over its borders. It should be realized that Michigan has tremendous advantages.

The writer, for three years, enjoyed very much being a part of this most interesting program as Charlevoix County Chairman for Michigan Week. The present County Chairman is Jack Dickhout, Postmaster, Boyne City, and the Regional Chairman is Mr. Noel Tanner, Mgr. Boyne Highlands, Harbor Springs. Already this Chamber has had inquiries having to do with Michigan Week, date, May 19-25, 1968.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Ski factories top industry for North

THIS IS NOW A sking factory. This factory is on cold snow and when its product is all completed it melts away and leaves no social or economic problems or scars and the quiet woods restore themselves to nature.

Sound like somebody trying to be poetic. It isn't. The statement is hard-nosed industrialist Everett Kircher's, overlord of "Boyme Country" -- as he calls his Boyme Mountain, Boyme Highlands, Thunder Mt. and Walloon Hills sking complex.

KIRCHER WANTS people to think of his sking empire as a factory. No one can argue with the definition. As much as an automotive firm produces a product for people, Kircher is an industrialist who produces a product for people.

His product is sking. The hills of Charlevoix and Emmet County were around long before Everett Kircher became bored with the Oregon Ski Club in 1948 and decided to see what he could do with a hill overlooking the junction of US-131 and M-75 at Boyme Falls.

But the hills weren't producing sking. Now they are. This year Kircher and his consultants estimate "Boyme Country" will generate $7,600,000 business in Charlevoix and Emmet counties. As many as 28,000 persons will ski on Kircher's slopes.

THEY'LL SKI THERE because Everett Kircher, a former Detroit engineer, has a special talent for engineering the snow condition and grade on the north's previously useless hills. Though Modusa Portland Cement Co., Penn-Dixie and a few other factories in the area may have a gross product that equals or surpasses Kircher's estimated $7.6 million, most of their's is controlled and spent by downstate and out-of-state firms.

Just the opposite is true with the ski resorts. Even their top executives -- like Kircher -- live here year-round.

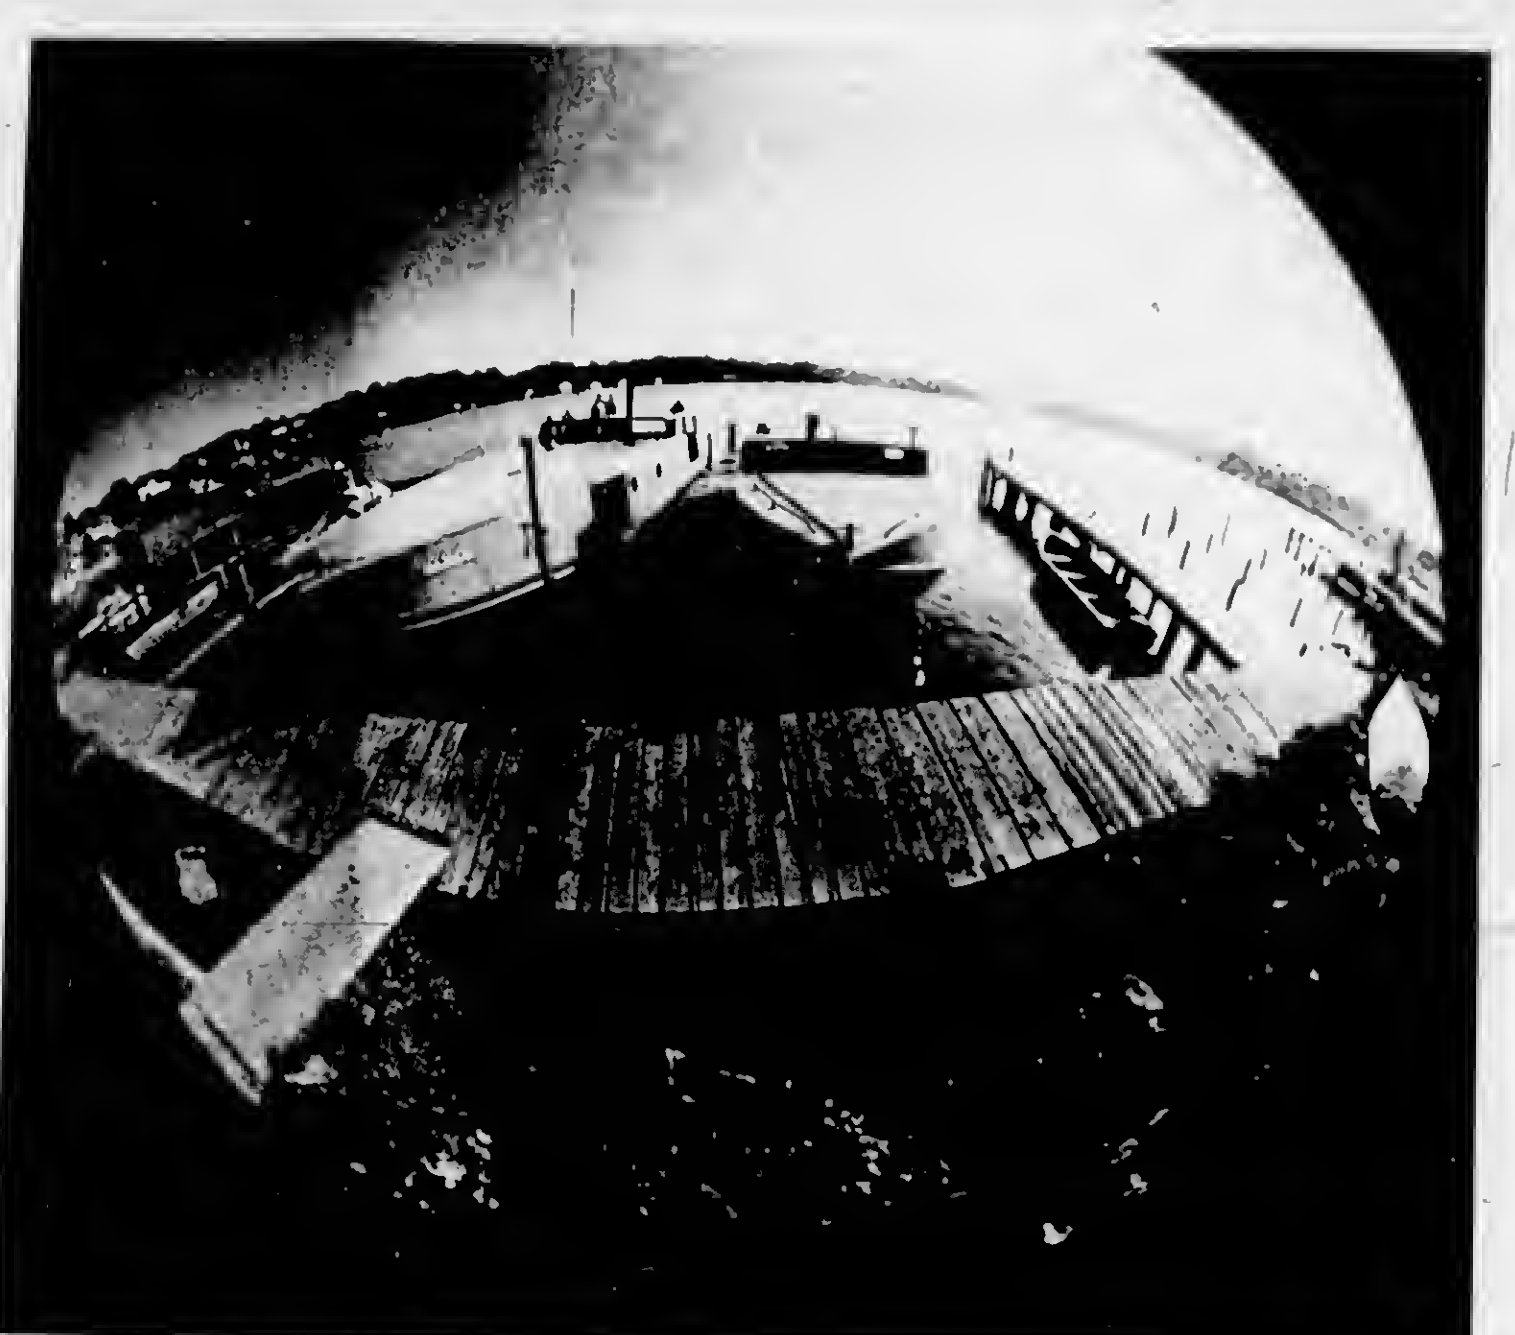

Yet many area people continue to look on the ski industry as something a shade less respectable than a factory that makes metal, concrete or plastic products.

We would be well advised to put more effort and money into accommodating skiers with ski-week packages that include lodging, food, after sking recreation and child care services.

East Jordan and Charlevoix do not have ski resorts at their back door to lure skiers. But the Courier believes we can double, or even triple, our share of the ski factory business by offering skiers the little accommodations they want.

Ellsworth is a hotbed of emotion when it comes to the school issue. When voters approved the 12-mill levy in August they shot down the opposition's hopes of seeing the school forced to disorganize due to lack of funds.

THE FACTION proposing annexation has been driven to this desperate act by the unwillingness of the other side to sincerely discuss a compromise.

THEY SAY A CAMERA can't lie, but we're not vouching for the honesty of the Courier's fisheye lense in this view of Round Lake. We thought it was sorta fun, though.

Nice guys don't make good poverty warriors

by GLEN SHEPPARD
Charlevoix, East Jordan and Ellsworth people need to have the unabridged face of poverty shoved down their throats. They need to be made to choke on the empty world of a child born in real poverty. Not until the people reach out desperately to stop the cause of poverty should the clicking stop.

This, though it might be hard to guess, is what the firing last week of area War on Poverty director Jack Mulder Jr. was all about.

MULDER WAS NOT generating the "community action and concern about poverty" that he was paid to, it's that simple.

Most of us refuse to face the truth about poverty. We like to say it is impossible to help poverty's miserable victims. Or we say they don't want to be helped and point to the few who have lifted themselves from this grimy fate.

The anti-poverty agency is officially designated the "Community Action Program" (CAP). And community action is exactly what Mulder was hired -- at ten grand a year -- to generate.

Mulder was supposed to jam these truths down our throats. He was supposed to understand that people have been given centuries to face up to these truths and haven't done it, so it will take drastic measures to make them look squarely at the emptiness of poverty and make the effort to fill it with hope.

Yet Mulder spent much of his time trying to figure out ways to get more federal money.

For more than a year a minority of the members of the anti-poverty agency's controlling board have realized the program was off target. Their efforts to find a new director were stubbornly rejected by others who argued Mulder was a nice guy. And Mulder, a former preacher, is a nice guy. But the War on Poverty is not a nice fight. Nice guys never have an answer will win it.

But the proof is easy to find. Look into the court records. For generations the same names appear for minor offenses. Public health and welfare workers have been dealing with one generation after another of the same families.

Obviously, it is too late to help the adults. And, probably, it is too late to save those beyond grammar school.

But the wee ones! The children whose I hope you don't mind being let in on the annual report, but I owe all of our relatives a letter.

Dear Folks: What a great time for you to visit us. This area is beautiful with the color at its peak. You'd better hurry though because it's been raining constantly and it might not last long.

Frost hits county's corn crop

50 Years Ago

CHARLEVOIX--Charlevoix county's board of supervisors select E. C. Chew of Bay Township as chairman.

Dabcock & son, local farmers carry off twelve first prizes at the Charlevoix County fair.

Because of frost damage the corn crop will be of poor quality.

The temperature dropped several degrees last week and the first snow of the year fell, not much, but enough to let us know that a real down-fall will be here in a few weeks.

A 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell.

Arthur Edwards enlisted in the services of Uncle Sam and left last week for Chicago and the Great Lakes Training Station.

35 Years Ago

CHARLEVOIX -- Henry Fike died Friday after prolonged illness. He was former deputy sheriff and served as conservation officer for eight years.

The city council voted to extend the four-inch water main on the Bayview resort and to extend the main from Bridge to State streets on Carpenter Street.

25 Years Ago

The Rayders beat Onaway in decisive 34 to 0 victory.

Charlevoix board of commerce has established an information center for the convenience of motorists and those who wish rides to other cities.

Weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. F. McMillan were Mrs. McMillan's sister Harry Dagwell, Joseph Arvill and Dr. and Mrs. Edward Zolevsky.

HER BIG JOB is identifying poverty problems and trying to find help for the families involved. For some of them she finds jobs through the Michigan Employment Security Commission. Others she gets placed in training programs and for some she obtains medical and various financial assistance for which they are eligible.

Few people realize that poverty's real victims do not even know how to contact the agencies that can help them, like the Employment Security Commission. And if they do know how, many simply don't believe the agencies are REALLY there to help them.

Janet would not pitch out on her own. If she applied for a social worker's job, but because she talks anxiously and like the people she is working with, she is more effective than "proper" college-educated social workers. Poor people are more inclined to trust her and, most important, believe she really wants to and can help them.

Having spent most of her time in the homes of poor families since coming to the job 14 months ago, Janet can produce documented evidence there are more than 150 families in the county with less income than the federal guideline for poverty.

(TO BE POVERTY stricken, the feds claim, a man and wife and one child must have an income of no more than $2,500 and no more than $500 more for each additional child.)

Several hundred more county families, she says, exist on less than $4,500 a year. Whether the federal government agrees or not, she figures that is "poverty" in Charlevoix County. More than 350 county families are living in substandard housing, she adds.

Members of Charlevoix County's anti-poverty committee are Chairman Moore of Boyme City; Harlow Pettis, Mrs. Gladys Shewey, Jean Milles, Clarence Rabach and John Reynolds of Charlevoix; Betty Robertson and James Shepard of East Jordan; Mrs. Marie Kent of Boyme City, and Mrs. Phyllis Pandolf of Boyme Falls, she says.

Love from us all, Grace Ann

PEABE TOWNSHIP will pay $3,734 to the county, $4,331 to the township and $3,832 to the schools, for a total of $11,897, on a tax rate of 28.92 mills.

Evelline Township will pay $39,870 to the county, $6,575 to the township and $141,856 to the schools, for a total of $188,301. The tax rate will be 28.81.

Norwood Township will pay $5,603 to the county, $928 to the township and $16,890 to the schools, for a total of $23,421. The tax rate will be 27.8 mills.

The millage figures given are the average throughout each township and will vary depending on the school district property is located in.

In addition to the more than $2 million raised locally by these taxes, Charlevoix County residents pay many times more into state and federal coffers, a portion of which is returned to the local schools, townships and county.

Woman will head County's tax office

The key job of getting out Charlevoix County property tax bills and setting property assessment values is being taken over by an attractive young woman.

Mrs. Rex (Joan) Blanchard was appointed county equalization director by the Board of Supervisors.

County Seeks more Fed. Health Money

Affiliating District Health Dept. No. 3 with Grand Traverse, Benzie and Leelanau counties was voted last week by the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors.

Instead the board urged the district health unit to obtain "increasing state and federal participation" in its financial support.

County ok's $9,200 to get tourists

Tourist promotion is becoming too expensive to suit some members of the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors.

Seven board members last week voted against appropriating $9,200 for tourist promotion in 1968. They were outvoted by 18 other board members.

PRINTING THE county brochure will take $7,500 of the $9,200. Another $600 goes for membership in the West Michigan Tourist Association and full page ad in the association's brochure. $600 more is for printing color tour guides. Another $500 is allocated for miscellaneous advertising.

Auditors order county changes

State Treasurer Allison Green has ordered changes in the way public funds are handled for the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District and the Charlevoix County Road Commission.

Green's orders came as the result of findings made by his department while auditing the county's 1966 records.

THE INTERMEDIATE School District, his report revealed, has been receiving funds directly from local units of government, which is contrary to the law.

He ordered that in the future the intermediate district's taxes be paid to the County Treasurer, who will then disburse them to the intermediate district. Taxes collected for all other schools have been handled in the lawful manner.

The Road Commission's purchases—rental agreement for its garage at Ironwood—were illegal, Green's auditors declared.

The Road Commission, according to Green, "entered into an agreement with Banta-Brooks for a new garage costing $55,650 to be paid over a seven-year period at $662.50 monthly. The Attorney General, in several opinions, has consistently held that such 'Purchase Rental Agreements' are contrary to law."

A Dec. 15, 1966 dinner at which the Road Commission hosted "a few local corporation representatives" was also cited as illegal.

be taken to pay the remaining balance from funds on hand or moneys borrowed in accordance with state law. Green's report stated with underlining.

The Road Commission was also directed to halt its improper use of expense funds.

The Commission, according to Green, illegally paid its clerk lump sum travel expenses. The payment of travel expenses must be paid on the basis of invoices and itemized statements, the Treasurer's office declared.

A Dec. 15, 1966 dinner at which the Road Commission hosted "a few local corporation representatives" was also cited as illegal.

Kiwanis to Host 800 on Halloween

CHARLEVOIX --The biggest parade of beggars in local history will stage a public appearance Tuesday, Oct. 31, for the annual Kiwanis Halloween party.

Elementary School Principal Glenn Snider reports more than 800 kids will be in the Halloween costume parade.

THE BEGGARS WILL assemble, in costume, in front of the school on Grant St. about 12:30. They will march down Grant to Antrim to State to Clinton.

At Clinton St. the fourth, fifth and sixth graders will break off and go to the theater where they will be guests of the Kiwanis Club.

All grade school children, including those from St. Mary's will attend the movie, "Clarence the Cross-Eyed Lion" and receive free treats from the Kiwanians.

Due to the record school enrollment, the children will attend the show in three different groups. The afternoon kindergarten, grades first and second and the Ironwood School will attend Monday afternoon, Tuesday morning St. Mary's, the morning kindergarten and the third grade will go to the movie.

THE MOVIE, SNIDER said, will last about 100 minutes. All of the children will be lectured on proper "trick or treat" manners.

EAST JORDAN --The Rotary Club will treat both high school and grade school students here on Halloween.

Contests and games between the different classes will highlight the high school party. Students will be in uniform and have cider and donuts for treats.

The costumed grade schoolers will have cider and donuts at the school.

ELLISWORTH -- Due to a parking problem downtown, Ellsworth grade schoolers will parade in their costumes in front of the school this year instead of in the business district. Supt. John Jurgensen reports.

According to Jurgensen the kids will parade in front of the school for parents between 2:30 and 3:30 Halloween afternoon. Before they go outside the kids will have parties in their rooms and travel from room to room showing off their costumes.

Chamber President Tom Galmore was authorized at last week's meeting to attempt to obtain the eggs from the State.

ACCORDING TO Chamber Secretary Mrs. Jay Hite, Galmore is now attempting to contact Conservation Dept. officials. The three private trout pond owners in the East Jordan area have agreed, she said, to hatch the eggs and raise the salmon until spring, when they would be planted.

In line with the salmon program, the Chamber decided last week to ask Dr. Howard Tanner to speak at its annual meeting Dec. 7. Dr. Tanner is now with Michigan State University. He formerly directed the State's fisheries program and is a native of Deltaire.

In other matters, the Chamber voted to amend its bylaws so the annual meeting can be held in December, instead of January.

This, Mrs. Hite said, will make it possible to get the Chamber organized and the membership drive wrapped up earlier. In the past organizational and membership efforts have delayed actual summer tourist promotion until late spring.

A NOMINATING committee, made up of Mrs. Walter Thorsen, Bill Bennett and Bill Sturgeon, was named to present a proposed slate of directors at the Dec. 7 meeting. Directors whose terms are expiring are Mrs. Hite, Galmore and Sherman Thomas.

The Chamber's next meeting is set for Nov. 16 in City Hall.

CHARLEVOIX--The 1967 Community Chest drive is assured of surpassing its $14,670 goal, Chest President William Peck reports.

Double Tragedy Hits Area Family

CENTRAL LAKE -- Just about everything that members of a family wake up in a cold sweat thinking about has happened to the Roy Heddén family.

It's hard to even imagine how any family could have more suffering brought to it than the five Heddén children have seen in the last six weeks.

MR. HEDDEN'S MOTHER, Mrs. Chris Heddén, moved in to take care of the children.

Still in serious condition at Little Traverse, Mr. Heddén couldn't attend the funeral. Mr. Clemens Metal Products of East Jordan had a telephone installed in his hospital room so he could at least hear the funeral service for Mrs. Heddén.

The people of Central Lake and their neighbors were dumbstruck by the night-

Construction of New Hotel Will Depend on Medusa

CHARLEVOIX -- Owners of the former Beach Hotel site expect to decide in December whether they will build a $1.5 million hotel on the property next year.

Benny Hogan, who with Don Parsons owns the property, said the decision will depend on Medusa's control of air pollution from its South Point plant.

HOGAN SAID strong sulphur odor from the plant in early September had been discouraging. Before the decision to build the hotel is made, he said, there will have to be better assurance Medusa will not continue to pollute the air with dust and odor.

If serious pollution from Medusa makes it unwise to build the hotel, Hogan said, he and Parsons will begin to consider construction of a Holiday Inn-type motel on the site.

A decision on the hotel must be made no later than December if construction is to begin early in the spring, he said. Arranging financing and building contracts will take at least three months, he estimated.

The State director of air pollution control, Bernard Bloomfield, said Monday his office has taken no steps to determine if Medusa is violating the new state anti air pollution law.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE hotel was scheduled to begin earlier, but was called off due to Medusa's announcement that it would build the plant on South Point.

Hogan, contacted Monday at the Birmingham (Mich.) Eccentric, of which he is co-publisher, said he was in Charlevoix early September when sulphur odor from Medusa was very noticeable.

Since then there have been few complaints of odor.

The old Beach Hotel was completely razed last week by a contractor hired by Hogan. Fire started in the rubble left from the demolition and smoldered for several days.

The proposed new hotel would have eight stories with a revolving bar on top. A feasibility study, Hogan said, has determined that with promotion of year-round business, such a hotel would be profitable here.

ONE OF HOGAN's original complaints about Medusa was that it would destroy the scenic view from the hotel, at the foot of Dixon overlooking Lake Michigan. He did not mention this again Monday.

However, he cannot linger too long in moving to make use of the hotel site with-

State Eyes E-J Foundry Smoke

EAST JORDAN--The East Jordan Iron Works is going to be made to comply with the State air pollution law, Bernard Bloomfield, chief of the Michigan Health Dept., air pollution section told the Courier Monday.

Bloomfield said the East Jordan foundry is seriously violating the new law, which went into effect Aug. 15.

THE IRON WORKS, he said, can install equipment that will eliminate the great excesses of impurities not emitting from its stacks. He estimated the cost of installing this equipment at around $500,000.

Bloomfield said his department has studied the air pollution problem caused by the foundry in East Jordan and will insist it be corrected, in accordance with the law.

Dustfall values at the six sampling stations ranged from four to 26 tons per square mile per month. With the greatest amount at the Lake Michigan beach.

At that time open plastic containers having an eight inch top diameter and containing one liter of distilled water were left at six sampling stations. Every 30 days impurities in the distilled water is analyzed by the State Health Dept.

THE CONTAINERS are located at North Point, the Marathon gas station, Imperial gas station, Coast Guard station, Charlevoix Hospital and former National Fish Hatchery (now Great Lakes Fisheries Station).

During the first two years, Bloomfield said, the tests revealed there is a geometric average of from 9 to 12 tons of dust in the air per square mile per month.

Double ring rite unites Otis, Cronk

CHARLEVOIX -- St. Mary's Catholic Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony which united Sharon R. Otis and John S. Cronk on October 21.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Otis of Charlevoix.

THE BRIDEGRROOM's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cronk of Charlevoix.

The bride's cousin, Father Patrick Jackson of St. Thomas Catholic Church in Ann Arbor performed the ceremony. Organist was Mrs. Frank Oleksy and soloist was Jim Jackson, cousin of the bride.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Sheila Doty of Madison Heights. Bridesmaids were Sandy Sundberg, Mildred Otis, sister of the bride, Flower girl was Caroline Beschke of Clemens.

Best man was Lyle Cronk of Saginaw, groom's brother. Ushers were Duane Cronk of Charlevoix and Tom Otto of Petoskey.

BRIDE'S BROTHER, Howard Otto and groom's brother, Patrick Cronk served the Mass.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hypothesis", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Chamber Chat

BY WALLY LOOER
CHAMBER MANAGER

Apparently disagreeable weather and maybe other unknown factors have hindered work on the new harbor building, where, when it's finished, your Chamber of Commerce will be housed. However, they there does not alter the need for new office furniture and equipment to replace old, much worn, some broken down furniture we now have, and a couple pieces of obsolete equipment. Any offers or ideas? We have a small fund, and I mean small, but it can be transferred. Unfortunately we have not been able to afford adding a few dollars now and then to this fund for quite some time. Don't be lousy. Thank you.

Anyone got a line on a good used, some sort of "copy machine"? For instance like a "ditto" in which could be used type-written stenils.

MY WIFE AND I, weekend October 14th, enjoyed a color tour in the fascinating Upper Peninsula, stayed over night at one of our regulars, The Vacationer, at Nauset. Asked a few questions, of course, and learned that in addition to the skiing attraction, snowmobiles have been in the spotlight. This year's snowmobile affair of sports events and races, I was told, will have several thousand dollars backing for prizes and etc. It was said people come from all over, within and outside of the state, to participate in this annual. Looks good.

Two young women who didn't have to, volunteered to take a stab at whipping poverty in Charlevoix County.

Here at Vista (Volunteers in Service to America) workers, a part of the Federal Government's War on Poverty, are Lorna Pollock, 23 of North Wales, Pa., and Sherry Anderegg, 22 of Piedmont, Calif.

They are assigned as Charlevoix County field representatives for the Northern Michigan Rural Employment Program, which is headquartered at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey.

Lorna and Sherry both left better paying, more comfortable routine jobs in their hometowns to volunteer for a Vista assignment.

Vista is the government's domestic answer to the Peace Corps. Vista volunteers work with the poor in the United States, while Peace Corpsmen work with people in underdeveloped foreign nations.

Lorna says her inspiration to work for Vista was sparked by the great amounts of money she was handling in an office job at home. Her thoughts, she said, kept turning to the thousands of Americans who never see enough money to live.

SHERRY WAS tutoring children in California. The thought kept bothering her that thousands of American children do not have a chance to get even a public education, let alone private tutoring.

Lorna is a 1966 graduate of Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa. Sherry graduated this year from the University of California.

The NMREP, sponsored by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, is designed to help the unemployed and underemployed, through job placement, basic education or vocational training.

Sherry said, "Peace Corps is a romantic thing but there are problems here in our country too. I would rather learn from actual experience with people rather than from books. It is heartening to find out that people are really people."

MISS POLLOCK said, "In our work for NMREP we think of people as people rather than cases."

At Petoskey they work with trainees and potential trainees in NMREP, who come to them with their problems. Their job consists mostly of listening to people who have never been listened to before.

The girls are now getting acquainted with the social services, so they can refer people to the right agency for service.

Born Edith M. Nowland, May 13, 1935, in Marion township, she married Mr. Zettler on June 3, 1956.

They made their home here until moving to Florida in 1955.

Mr. Zettler died in September 1966.

Mrs. Zettler was a member of St. Mary's Church, in Charlevoix and St. Luke's Church, in Lake Worth, Florida.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Jean Gallagher, of Charlevoix and Lake Worth, Mrs. Gideon (Mary) Tukacs, of Detroit, Mrs. Ronald (Theresa) Shahan, of Parma Heights, Ohio and Mrs. Leonard (Janice) Rayman, of Anaheim, Calif.; six sons, Harry E., of Lansing, Fla. and Charlevoix; Bruce N., of Norfolk, Va.; John J., Jr., of Oxford, Cal.; Carl D., of Lake Orion, Detroit; and Kenneth, of Detroit; and one daughter, Mrs. Clara Curtis, of Herndon, Va.

Frank Nowland, of Miami, Fla. and Maurice Nowland, of Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Lillian Moore, of Charlevoix; and a daughter, Patricia Ann, preceded her in death.

High School.

SHERRY'S parents are Mr. and Mrs. Davis S. Anderegg of Piedmont, Calif. She has three brothers, Dave, 24, and two others.

$500,000 County jail plan grossly absurd

BEFORE ANOTHER hour passes the Courier wants to make its opinion clear on the County's plans to spend $500,000 for a new jail. We're against it!

Anyone who tells us we haven't heard all the facts might as well spend their time. We're opposed to spending a half-million dollars of Charlevoix County money to house 31 bad guys, regardless of any new facts that may develop.

Consider for a minute that the Charlevoix Public Schools are talking about building a $41 million school in which to educate about 500 good kids. That means that if we buy the idea of a half-million dollar jail for 31 drunks and crooks we have to, somehow, rationalize that criminals are worth eight times more than educating our children.

The Courier cannot and will not buy any such absurd notion. Nor does it believe the people of Charlevoix County are gullible enough to let lobbyists for the building and architectural trades take them down this road.

We know that the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors isn't happy with the proposition. But, unfortunately, board members do not have the time to devise ways of fighting the entrenched State bureaucracy.

Certainly, some improvements in the old jail—built in 1919—are in order. Regardless of what an architect says, the cost of renovating and, perhaps, expanding the old jail wouldn't be outlandish.

AND, AS BOYNE CITY Manager Forbes Tompkins pointed out recently, the jail is still structurally sound. Darn few of us live in homes that have as many years use left in them.

Courier survey indicates

Public backs school

If a Courier public opinion poll is any indication, the school board just about has the $2 million bond issue election won.

Virtually everyone contacted in the Charlevoix business district by Courier reporter Kathryn Garton indicated they feel the school has to have more classrooms... whether they like paying higher taxes or not.

THE SCHOOL BOARD has decided to ask voters to approve a $1,587,000 bond issue for construction of a new 29 or 30 classroom elementary school on the north side and converting the present grade school into a fifth grade through eighth grade intermediate school.

Also on the ballot will be a separate request for $457,000 to enlarge the high school by adding a 600-seat auditorium, a new athletic locker room area and at least two new classrooms.

The board is committed to put the $2,069,000 proposition on the ballot before Christmas.

The tentative election date in early December was set to give the school time to get bids by late winter or early spring, when architects report contractors come in with the lowest bids of the year. Even if the deadline is met, children will not be in their new classrooms until September of 1969.

THE TOTAL PACKAGE will cost taxpayers something like four or five mills, bringing the total school taxlevy in Charlevoix to 23.65 or 24.65—the highest in Charlevoix County.

The more than a dozen Charlevoixians questioned at random by the Courier feel burgeoning enrollment makes the tax increase inevitable. The school now has children attending class in makeshift rooms from the Community Reformed Church to the library and City Hall, as well as in cubbyholes in the basement of the grade school.

The real pressure is in the elementary grades.

Elementary school enrollment has nearly doubled since 1957. In 1957 406 children were in kindergarten through sixth grade. This year there are 794.

THOUGH HIGH SCHOOL growth has been nearly as rapid—262 in 1957 to 547 this year—the new high school, built in 1960, was designed to cope with much of this increase.

By pulling the seventh and eighth grades from the high school and putting them in the converted old grade school, there will be at least six more rooms in the high school for grades nine through twelve.

So the school district can get by without the $475,000 expansion of the high school. Which is why the school board decided to split the bond issue into the $1.5 million elementary and intermediate school program and $427,000 high school program.

The board also fears there is still considerable voter resentment over the small amount of practical classroom space purchased for the $1 million spent on the new high school in 1960. It doesn't want to see the critically needed new grade school defeated for this reason.

THE COURIER's on-the-street survey did not reveal much about this suspected resentment.

School board president Glenn Kenney has promised that the design and construction of the new north side elementary school will be entirely "practical" and efficient. No frills will be bought, he says.

Until the new elementary school is constructed, students will continue to use improvised space and four portable classrooms now being installed on the high school grounds.

Putting all of this together, Charlevoixians appear to have come to the same conclusion as the school board: They're going to have to pay more taxes to build more classrooms.

MRS. BERTHA STERNAMAN at Ole-son's Variety Store was typical of many people questioned by the Courier. "They need the new school. With crowded rooms the children don't get the right education. If (a bond issue) is the only way they can raise the money," she said.

Another citizen, who asked to remain unidentified, asked, "If we don't want this bond issue what should be done to get more rooms?"

Joe Williams also echoed the thoughts of many others. "I don't like it because it will raise our taxes, but I guess it is necessary," he said. "There are a lot of things we don't like to take that we have to live with."

"I have kids in school. If they need more school room in order for my kids to have a better education I am strictly in favor of it," Henry Supernaw said. "I know taxes are terrible, but you can't get away from them," he added.

JAY FERGUSON was just as resistant to higher taxes. "You can't fight progress," he said. "What will we have in 1975 when enrollment is again? We need the facilities. Teachers have a tough job with so many kids in one room."

Another citizen, who asked to remain unidentified, asked, "If we don't want this bond issue what should be done to get more rooms?"

2 Democrats prove were worth vote

BERTHA STERNAMAN

When it came time to vote back in November 1966 I did something I had never done before. In fact, I did it twice.

I voted for two Democrats, Zoltan Ferency for Governor and Sid Wiser for State Representative. The last few weeks have convinced me I voted for the right people.

I HAD NO EXPECTATIONS either would win. But that long ago ceased to be important.

It has become more important to me, at least—to vote for men I think sincerely believe in something other than winning an election and seeing how long they can stay in office. I couldn't then, and still can't, see that Bob Davis, who was the GOP's winning State House candidate, and Gov. Romney stand for anything but themselves.

People's COURIER Comment

Editorial Page

Charlevoix Courier, Wednesday, October 25, 1967 Page 13

AUDREY MOUSSEAU

It is no longer so axiomatic important to a candidate stand for what I believe in. When Barry Goldwater lost in 1964 I gave up ever again expecting any constant for major office to see things the way I do.

So I quit being a Republican and decided to cast my lot with anyone who is man enough to at least stand up for something.

IN THIS CATEGORY Sid Wiser, Prosecuting Attorney from Gaylord, makes a great candidate. Sid's been tatted around from one end of the hard-knocks world to the front lines of World War II. Most of it not because he had to be, but because he just couldn't keep his long, scrawny neck out of the hotspots and his beaked nose in the safe spots.

Financially Sid's far more conservative than any Republican official in Lansing or Washington from this part of the state. When it comes to government affairs, Sid's forever getting his nose bent because he doesn't like Lansing and Washington telling the folks in Gaylord what to do.

But Sid's a Democrat because he's stuck with the impression the Democrats have the average Joe's best interests at heart. (Joe's having a hard time believing it today.)

FOR MONTHS Sid has made himself anxious to others and his own life miserable by refusing to quit his battle to get a new man heading the War on Poverty program. As a good Democrat, Sid should have kept his yap shut. The program's director, Jack Mulder, was doing the kind of job most people in the Democratic program are doing—a safe job.

JAY FERGUSON
main anonymous, reopened old wounds. "They should have built the high school so it could have been enlarged more easily," she said.

Several other persons said they have no personal opinion about the school issue. "We can't do anything about it, anyway," one of these persons said. "If they want it they're gonna do it no matter what I think."

A number of other people said they realize the school has to have the room, but they are going to wait to see the plans before they decide how to vote.

Her bicycle is gathering rust

By Grace Ann McDaniels
A little red convertible was royally welcomed into our driveway a week ago. After years of grabbing for the family car on grocery days, I suddenly felt like the whole world has become liberate.

The bicycle will probably become rusty and my leg muscles may end up around my ankles but right now I couldn't care less.

IF SOCIETY permitted, I'd move my wardrobe into the back seat and eat out of the glove compartment. It was meant to be occupied.

Until a short time ago I felt my owning a car was an unnecessary extravagance. Before marriage (etc.) I considered buying one to get to work and back home. With the help of Dad, I test drove a few looking for a likely buy. We toured the coun-trystide in different models comparing knocks and smoke trails. I couldn't hear to part with my savings and his generous offer to drop me at the office was all it took to make me forget about an automobile of my own.

Even recently when my demand for the car was more frequent, I dreaded the thought of extra gas and repair bills.

Besides, hoofing 't was the only exercise I could depend on getting regularly. I could walk down town in several minutes flat. I reminded myself all the way how great it was to be breath fresh air. But more and more of ten I've found myself walking flat and breathing the trip twice a day.

When I spent that much time on the road, and the maid consistently failed to show up, the housework suffered mildly. The Master looked after and decided perhaps I should be put on wheels. When it comes right down to it, I'm easily influenced, and who's going to argue with him anyway?

ONCE RED'S KEYS were placed in the hand of the housewife, I was off to the window. I'm actually pleased when the kids miss the bus and I have to take them to school myself. It's surprising how often I have to go downtown every day. As for exercise, it will get me quickly to the gym for ladies night every week.

And I'm quite pleased with setting a precedent. No used car salesman will ever be able to say that a little old lady drove this one only on Sundays.

Hotel blaze was unexcusable

LAST WEEK'S CREMATION of the once grand Beach Hotel may have made good page one copy, but it was also a grossly disrespectful and irresponsible act.

The discomfort suffered by dozens of neighboring families—and especially the Josh Barnes' and Kit Carson's—was intolerable and unexcusable.

The owner—who as far as we can determine is still Henry Hogan—and the wrecking contractor were well aware of the extreme fire hazard. Mayor Bill Footman and City Manager Jim Taylor had repeatedly warned of the fire danger. The contractor knew he was responsible for preventing fire.

A FIRE IN THE hotel, Fochtman cautioned before demolition started, could easily spread to numerous neighboring homes. The only reason it didn't was due to the cooperation of the weather.

Had Lake Michigan whimsically decided to churn up a good northwestern and another serious fire broken out in town the damage, and possible loss of life, could have become full-scale tragedy.

Charlevoix firemen can never be "paid" for the hours they dutifully stood by, keeping the blaze contained. But the city should insist on collecting all of its actual expenses.

Things like this should not be taken lightly. We hope city officials will see to it they are not!

Another citizen, who asked to remain unidentified, asked, "If we don't want this bond issue what should be done to get more rooms?"

LT. DONALD Luedke, right, takes command of the Charlevoix Coast Guard Lifeboat Station from Lt. David Smith.

He relieves Lt. David Smith, who was transferred to the Plans and Program Staff, Washington, D.C.

Lt. Smith and his wife Sara and their children, Mike and Susie, left Charlevoix for Washington October 23. They were transferred here August 15, 1964. He took command of the station July 1, 1966.

Lt. Luedke comes to Charlevoix from Leavenworth, Kansas, where he served two years. He previously had served on the cutter Kew at Cleveland, Ohio. He has been in the Coast Guard 21 years.

Lt. Luedke and his wife Nedra, and their children, Randy, Sue and Phillip are living at 71501st on Susan Lake.

Library notes

The Nettleton doll collection is still receiving lots of attention at the library. These beautifully carved and painted wood figures, made by Mrs. Rosa Nettleton to illustrate costumes throughout history, are a most attractive addition to our display of new children's books.

Just a few of the new titles for children are:

How to save your wife and over $140.00 with a new Gas dryer.

If your wife is drying clothes on a line, she's working for less than 2¢ a load. That's all it costs to do it in a gas dryer. And that's the thriftiest, easiest way in the world. It's 1/5 the cost of the next best way—with electricity.

So when you consider the number of loads dried by an average family, they could save over $28.00 a year with Gas. In 5 years that comes to $140—the purchase price of a new Gas dryer. And since installation is free, you can save right from the start.

No wonder we say Gas makes the big difference... Costs less, too.

See the latest models at dealer or Gas Company showrooms.

7 out of 10 families now using dryers have Gas dryers. Care to make it 8?

Isn't it time you bought her a new Gas dryer?

Township Talks Annexation

CHARLEVOIX -- The Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission was told last week it should give top priority to merging the City of Charlevoix and Charlevoix Township.

Both city and township officials openly cited the merger (annexation) as an inevitable development in the immediate future.

OSCAR STROUD, a Township trustee and member of the Planning Commission said, "The Township may have to take the City in if they (the City) doesn't get busy (on annexation)."

Charlevoix Township Supervisor Clarence Rabach Thursday morning, after the Wednesday night commission meeting, said, "That's (annexation) one of the reasons we went along with the Planning Commission."

Nayer Bill Fochtman, who attended the commission meeting, said the city foresees the necessity of a merger, but wants to see some careful pre-planning done first.

Fochtman said the planning commistion should study problems that may arise from the merger so there can be sensible development of streets, water, sewer and other utilities in the township. The city, he said, will not be able to immediately extend utilities to all areas of the township.

AREAS OF THE TOWNSHIP that have the most critical need should be given priorities and the people should understand how fast the enlarged city would be able to go in extending utilities, Fochtman said. He asked that the commission determine these areas of "priority" so that the two municipalities can proceed accordingly.

The Planning Commission, Fochtman said, should make a complete enough study so the public will have a thorough picture of the advantages and any disadvantages of a merger.

Fochtman said the commission may find that it would never be practical for Pine Point to become part of the city. If this is true, he said, Pine Point may want to become part of Hayes Township.

"We should try to be as realistic as possible about annexation," Fochtman said. He added he would be opposed to bit-by-bit annexation of township areas as they develop and require water, sewer, police protection, etc.

STROUD SAID several sections of the township are in serious need of water. Due to the increased congestion, he pointed out, wells are threatened by contamination from septic tanks.

Charlevoix Township Treasurer Rose Bergman said people are paying $1,400 to $1,700 to have wells dug.

Township residents now pay 29.38 mills in property taxes, compared to 34.38 in the city (five mills more in the city). Of this the township gets three mills (two for roads, six-tenths for fire and four-tenths for operation). The city gets eight mills of the 34.38 it levies. The rest of the millage goes to the county and schools.

Stroud said he has talked to many township people and they favor merging with the city. He added that people favoring the merger realize that paved streets, water and sewer lines and other services could not be extended throughout the township immediately.

THE ANNEXATION discussion came up after commission Chairman Ralph Doan asked Fochtman to outline what he and the city council feel should be given top priority by the planners.

Fochtman said the commission should also study the city and township zoning ordinances, including Marion Township's, and update them.

Stroud questioned whether the commission should continue to seek a federal grant to pay for a $36,000 comprehensive planning project with the help of planning consultants, Williams and Works, he said going through the federal government boosts the cost "a hundred times."

Fochtman pointed out that no matter what a professional consulting firm comes up with the decisions "are still going to have to be made by local people."

The commission should know by December whether it will receive a two-thirds federal grant for planning. If the grant is approved, the commission tentatively agreed to accept it.

Band Boosters Dinner Tonight

CHARLEVOIX -- More than 600 persons are expected at tomorrow (Thursday) evening's Band Boosters dinner in the high school cafeteria, according to George Lusk, president.

The dinner is the first major phase of the Boosters Club drive to raise $10,300 for new band uniforms.

THE CLUB must have $5,150 in January when the uniforms will be delivered. There is now $1,500 in the uniform fund. The total $10,300 must be paid by February 1969.

Tomorrow's dinner starts at 5:30 p.m., with serving (cafeteria style) continuing until everyone is fed. The dinner has traditionally become the biggest annual fall event of its kind.

Topping the menu will be swiss steak, mashed potatoes, gravy, vegetable, cole slaw, hot rolls, apple crisp, milk and coffee will round out the menu.

Thirty-nine band members will help clear and reset tables, so families can find a place to eat as promptly as possible.

ALSO PRESERVING tradition, the dish washing will be done by men. (There is no extra charge for good natured heckling.)

The new, lighter weight more versatile uniforms will be maroon and white. They will replace the 15-year old uniforms that have become a continual repair problem.

The uniforms consist of four parts—an adjustable waistcoat, tuxedo-style jacket, white shirt and tie and the words "Charlevoix the Beautiful" on the left sleeve.

The body of the uniform is maroon, trimmed with white soutash on the trousers (double stripe), shoulder straps with white soutash trim and the words "Charlevoix the Beautiful" on the left sleeve.

THE MATERIAL is a blend of 55% dacron and 45% wool. The material reportedly was developed especially for band uniforms. It is crease resistant, stain resistant and has greater strength than 100% wool. The uniforms are guaranteed for five years.

The band has ordered 110 of the uniforms. They will cost about $95 each. The old uniforms will be turned over to the reserve band.

The school is paying none of the cost of the uniforms.

Until the uniforms are paid for, the Boosters Club has decided to cut back on its usual projects. This year only $500 will be spent for routine band support. They will pay expenses to the state band festival and send two students to Interlochen.

City Loses Ambulance Due to Cost

CHARLEVOIX--There is no longer an ambulance in the Charlevoix area.

Leonard McRoberts, who has been operating a private ambulance service here for several months, closed his business Oct. 26.

AFTER SEVERAL weeks of negotiations with the city and county, McRoberts, a Boyne City policeman, said he could no longer afford to operate the ambulance here.

The ambulance, he said, was costing him approximately $80 a month to operate and he was only taking in about $40 in fees.

One of his major problems, he said, was collecting for ambulance calls. Charlevoix people, he said, were much harder to collect from than Boyne City people. He has an ambulance service in Boyne City, which he will continue to operate.

McRoberts said he was averaging about four calls a month here, at $15 a call.

The city offered to pay McRoberts $50 monthly if he would continue the service. McRoberts said this would barely make it possible for him to break even.

MAYOR BILL FOCHTMAN said he talked to Potosky Ambulance Service, which is operated by James Scholz, and he will cover the Charlevoix area in an emergency from Potosky until something can be arranged.

Fochtman said the city will not subsidize Mr. Scholz until they find out what the townships are going to do.

If an arrangement can be set up, Scholz will station an ambulance in Charlevoix, Fochtman said.

Airman First to Ace Grid Games

The first perfect score in the Courier Football Contest was made last week by Lawrence W. Flint, an airman at Bay Shore.

Flint picked the winners of all 18 of the games in the contest (which appears on page 10 of this week's Courier). In the four years the contest has been sponsored by Charlevoix merchants, no one has ever before made a perfect score.

Three other persons last week missed only one game and six missed only two.

Old Survey Creates Confusion Over Ironton Property Lines

IRONTON--People who own property on the lake near Ironton Ferry may think they own it.

That is, they may own property, alright, but the way things are shaping up they may not own the property they think they own.

(If that's confusing it isn't going to become much clearer.)

IT LOOKS LIKE early surveyors and Ironton Ferry operators sort of arbitrarily located the quarter section line where they found it most convenient to dock the ferry. As water and shoreline conditions changed so did the ferrydock's location--and with it the quarter section line.

If you'll notice the next time you drive through, the ferry dock on the east side of the South Arm is a hundred, or so, feet south of the dock on the west side. And yet the road on both sides is supposed to be the quarter section line, which should be a straight, unbending, line.

Quarter section lines just aren't supposed to jog. Private property lines, for small homestead lots or 40's, are located from section lines. So on one side, or the other, of the South Arm it would seem that everybody's lot line is off a hundred feet or so.

A mistake like this could mean everybody from Ironton to East Jordan, on one side or the other of the lake, actually owns the 100 feet of property to the north or south instead of the property on which their home or cottage is located.

THE CONFUSION came to light in mid-summer when Marie Scott was the high bidder on the piece of property Eve-line Township owns across the street from Scott's Boat and Bait Shop at the west ferry dock.

Scott and the County Road Commission got to checking into the deed on the property before Scott made total payment to the township. At this point both parties wish they could somehow bury the property deeds and continue to live in the blissful ignorance of the past.

Scott bought the 200 feet immediately north of the west ferry dock in 1959 from Bob Beville. His abstract shows his property starts 33 feet north of a stake (supposedly the quarter section line) in the middle of the road. Which puts his property line just about one step in front of his bait shop and store.

The original plat (1881) and abstract for the property he is tentatively buying on the south side of the street locates the quarter section line about 17 feet from the store's front door. Old timers recall that until about 1925 the ferry docked north of the present dock, or about 17 feet from Scott's doorstep.

The Road Commission figures this means that it actually owns 33 feet west of the supposedly "original" quarter section line, or about 16 feet of Scott's shop is on the road right-of-way.

IF THIS IS SO, though, the south side of the ferry dock is partially on the property Scott is buying from the township.

EAST JORDAN -- The Jordan River Watershed Commission has been formed as a legal governmental organization to "save the Jordan."

The Commission's first formal meeting was held Monday evening in East Jordan, when it adopted a constitution and by-laws.

FORMATION OF THE commission was finally made possible when South Arm and Kearney townships approved a resolution, picking approval and support of the Save the Jordan effort.

Previously, East Jordan, Marcellona and Echo townships approved formation of the commission. Six more townships have been asked to participate in the effort.

Under Michigan law, the commission becomes a sort of legal arm of the two cities and nine townships, uniting them behind a common problem. The commission will be able to advise, but not enact laws to prevent spoiling the Jordan.

There will be 16 members on the commission: one from each of the cities and townships, one from the Alta Sportsman's Club, one from the Jordan River Sportsman's Club, one from the Marcellona Lions Club and one each from the Charlevoix and Antrim Soil Conservation

Linda McKay exchanges vows with Irntonon man

IRONTON--Miss Linda Ann McKay became the bride of Terry W. Jentzen October 28 at the First Presbyterian Church of Jackson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Wm. McKay of Jackson and Mrs. Wm. Alley of Atlanta, Georgia.

THE GROOM is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Jentzen of Ironton.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Wm. McLeister of Jackson. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Allan L. McKay.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Douglas Coon and bridesmaids were Mrs. Allan L. McKay, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Robert D. McKay, brother of the groom.

The flower girl was Robin Lynn Marry, niece of the groom, and the ring bearer was Mickey Henschewerdt, nephew of the groom.

A reception was held for the 200 guests immediately following the three-o'clock ceremony in the church.

The groom's parents were hosts to an evening reception at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Henschewerdt of Nantahala.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Holiday Inn of Jackson. Guests attended from Charlevoix, Detroit, Royal Oak, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Atlanta, Georgia and Toledo, Ohio.

Dolly was a three time winner in 1965. She was Miss Traverse City, Petoskey Winter Sports queen and Miss Michigan Winter Sports queen.

Dolly is employed by Southern Bell Telephone at Miami Florida. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Nina Cuderkirk, 403 Mason St., Charlevoix.

There are five patrols and eight new members. The five patrols are called: The Lipzans, The Space K, The Active Eight, The Super 7, and the Grannies.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it prove true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Library notes

A few more of the new children's books that are delighting young readers at the Public Library are:

"Whistle for Willie" by Ezra Jack Keats. A book for Kindergarten and First Graders about a little boy who tries to whistle for his dog the way big boys do. That the little fellow is a Negro is evident only from the illustrations, - an important lesson for a young white child. A human being can be a Negro without having anyone remark on the fact.

"Chitty Chitty Bang Bang" by Ian Fleming (of James Bond fame). A story for fourth to sixth graders about a magical car owned by the Potts family. On a journey from their English home they found, by chance a gangster's cave. Their only hope of escape from the clutches of Joe the Monster and his goe, was Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and she was only a car-or was she?

"A First Electrical Book for Boys" by Alfred Morgan. For fifth to eighth graders with a mind for science. It covers things electrical from telephones to Telstar.

"Ape's" by Francis M. Christy. A complete handbook on the care, understanding and appreciation of all kinds of animal pets.

"C. W. Anderson's Complete Book of Horses and Horsemanship." A book for fifth to eighth graders who own a horse, expect to own a horse, or maybe just like to dream about owning a horse of their very own. It tells the history and development of the horse, describes the different breeds and gives instructions on selecting, riding, training and caring for a horse.

County free of brucellosis

CHARLEVOIX County was recently recognized as a certified brucellosis-free county by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the 81st county in the state to achieve this status, says B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of cattle that has cost herd owners millions of dollars over the years. It causes abortion in cows with resultant loss of milk and calves which eventually reflects in higher food costs for consumers. The disease under certain conditions is transmissible to man in the form of undulant fever.

FOR A COUNTY to be certified brucellosis-free means there are no quarantined herds in the county and that less than two-tenths of one per cent of the cattle have shown infection within the past 18 months.

County free of brucellosis

CHARLEVOIX County was recently recognized as a certified brucellosis-free county by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the 81st county in the state to achieve this status, says B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of cattle that has cost herd owners millions of dollars over the years. It causes abortion in cows with resultant loss of milk and calves which eventually reflects in higher food costs for consumers. The disease under certain conditions is transmissible to man in the form of undulant fever.

FOR A COUNTY to be certified brucellosis-free means there are no quarantined herds in the county and that less than two-tenths of one per cent of the cattle have shown infection within the past 18 months.

COMMUNITY CHEST $600 over goal
 CHARLEVOIX--The Community Chest drive has already topped its goal, according to Bill Peck, president.
 With more to come in, Peck reports $15,288 has already been collected. This is $600 more than the $14,670 goal.
 THE BIGGEST single gift to the Chest drive this year was $1,000 from Medusa Portland Cement Co. The Medusa donation brought the Industrial Division's total to $4,632. The division's goal was $3,697. John Lachman heads the Industrial Division.
 Jim Williams, Professional Division chairman, has finished with $1,346 collected. His goal was $1,496.
 Four divisions -- Industrial, Professional, Residential and Special Gifts-- have completed their drive. Three other divisions -- Organizations, Commercial and Outlying Areas--have not made their final report.
 Charlevoix's Lee Cross regained the lead with 350 to go in the first quarter on a three yard dive with Al Venestra making the conversion good for a 13-7 lead.
 Mancelona came bouncing back with a 30 yard pass from Bob Wilcox to George Moeke for TD.
 Torry Buze made the conversion giving, Mancelona a 7-6 edge.

Rayders win handily, 42-13, over Mancelona
 by PAUL FIEDOREK
 CHARLEVOIX -- Charlevoix downed Mancelona last week 42-13, in a game that was played on a cold and windy night.
 The win gave Charlevoix an almost certain share of the conference title, with Polliston the only game left.
 CHARLEVOIX got on the scoreboard, with only 27 seconds gone in the game, when Ralph Dean, on a double reverse, found running room around end for a 47 yard TD, making 16-0.
 Mancelona came bouncing back with a 30 yard pass from Bob Wilcox to George Moeke for TD.
 Torry Buze made the conversion giving, Mancelona a 7-6 edge.

Ellsworth closes with perfect league season
 ELLSWORTH -- The big teams in the Northern Lakes Class C Conference are going to be puzzled over this season, Little Ellsworth just couldn't be whipped.
 Ellsworth made it five straight last Friday, giving it a perfect season as it beat out the three yard line where Cross fumbled, but his teammate Fred Wabankmoke fell on the ball in the endzone for the score. Venestra made the conversion for a 20-13 lead.
 Minutes later, Rayder Torry Blissett picked up an Ironmen fumble and galloped 25 yards for the score.
 THEN LEE CROSS scored for the second time on a six yard run with Brad Carcy hitting Wabankmoke with a pass for the conversion giving Charlevoix a 33-13 edge going into the final period.
 In the final stanza Mancelona's quarterback, Bob Wilcox was smeared in the endzone by a host of Charlevoix's defense for a safety.
 Then with 4:50 showing, Al Venestra plowed his way down the sideline for a 45 yard TD and added his own conversion, with the game ending 42-13. Charlevoix 13 0 20 9 42. Mancelona 7 6 0 0 13.
 First downs 13 4. No. of passing plays 9 4.
 CHS MHS
 Total no. of plays 286 119. yards gained 2,810 2,448. No. rushing plays 47 44. yards gained 268 89. Total no. of plays over, per play 5.10 2.48. Fumbles lost 0 2. Penalties 5-45 2-20.
 Suddenly Summer is the dull season of the year
 In the third period Ellsworth tied the game up at 13-13 when Joe Jurgensen scored from the 12 and he put the Ironmen ahead on his own conversion.
 Jurgensen came back on a 23 yard run and later Stan Drenth intercepted a Charlevoix pass and went 20 yards to score the final TD giving the Ironmen the win.
 In the second period Central Lake went in front again when Gordou passed to Jim Erickson covering 24 yards to score.
 In Friday's contest, the last of the season, Ellsworth again proved its champion-ship caliber as it beat Central Lake 25-18.
 Central Lake got on the scoreboard first when Chuck Little Ellsworth just couldn't be whipped.
 Gordou covered 12 yards to score.
 Joe Nachazel of Ellsworth came right back and tied it up at 6-6 on a 14 yard run.
 In the second period Central Lake went in front again when Gordou passed to Jim Erickson covering 24 yards to score.
 In Friday's contest, the last of the season, Ellsworth again proved its champion-ship caliber as it beat Central Lake 25-18.

City busy Olds
 CHARLEVOIX -- The city Council accepted the bid of Parcel Garage for a 1968 Olds Delmonico, which with trade-in, will cost $2,290, for the new police car.
 Though the final score didn't indicate it, there was plenty of suspense in Friday's Charlevoix-Mancelona contest. At halftime the score was tied 13-13. As these two pictures show, though outclassed, the Ironmen fought hard, never giving an inch they could hold.

Red Devils lose 32-0 to Ramblers
 EAST JORDAN--The Red Devils' hard-playing, but inexperienced, team met defeat again last week as Boyne City rolled over them 32-0.
 The loss was East Jordan's fourth of the season, with one win and one tie to its credit. Things don't look any brighter this week as the Red Devils meet top-rated Gaylord on Boswell Field.
 In Friday's contest Boyne City, without the services of their big end Chris Trotter who is out with a shoulder injury took a 20-0 edge over East Jordan and went on to roll up a 32-0 victory.
 In the first period Brad Price passed to Jack Schador covering 20 yards for the first TD and Andy Schmittel booted the conversion. Later in the same period, Gary Braun went 40 yards to make it 13-0.
 In the second period Price heaved a 25 yard pass to Don Holzschu for a touchdown with Schmittel making good his second conversion of the night.
 In the third period Boyne City's running wild with Holzschu hitting from 54 yards out and Braun followed with a yard TD play to bring the total to 32-0. Both conversions were missed.
 The Rambler reserves took over the action in the final period but neither side scored.

What a COLWELL EXCLUSIVE Means to You!
 In listing your property for sale, rent or lease you will hear us ask for an exclusive meaning that the property cannot be listed with anyone else during the term of the contract.
 This may appear to be an arbitrary attitude to assume, but our sales record proves the importance of this procedure. Our Charlevoix office has completed nearly $150,000 in real estate sales in just three short months. When we have an exclusive the property receives the complete attention by each of our five offices in Petoskey, Charlevoix, East Jordan, Walloon Lake, & Boyne City.
 You will never see a Colwell & Co. for sale sign on any property where other signs appear.
 The exclusive listing is just as much for your protection as ours and is one of the main reasons for our success in the real estate field.
 Right now we need listings. Especially we need residences for clients who are ready to purchase. Contact Northwest Michigan's leading real estate firm today, if you are in the market to buy or sell.

State negligent on air pollution

HENRY HOGAN LAST week brought up a point that is past due for local consideration. Business district developer Hogan explained he and his partner Don Parsons feel they cannot afford to borrow $1.5 million and sink it into a 120-room hotel here until they have positive assurance Medusa Portland Cement Co. will be made to abide by the State's air pollution law.

Hogan shouldn't have to bring it up. But he's wise enough to know he does. Charlevoixians should be equally concerned.

WE CANNOT ASSUME the State is going to do a thorough job of policing Medusa air pollution. After talking to State air pollution control chief Bernard Bloomfield we know he is not even attempting to see to it that Medusa lives by the letter of the law.

Bloomfield's statements to the Courier that he "believes" Medusa intends to control air pollution and that he does not feel his department has to take a close and continuing look at Medusa because it has had no complaints from citizens are totally and shamefully irresponsible.

The State of Michigan passed a law that makes it a crime to pollute the air. This law was passed because the people of Michigan do not want polluted air. It was not passed for Bloomfield to enforce when he thinks there is a problem. The law is very specific. Bloomfield was hired by us to see that these specific guidelines are not violated.

IF BLOOMFIELD cannot handle the job we don't want to hear his excuses. We want a new man on the job. A man who will do the job.

It is not up to the people to complain about air pollution before Bloomfield's department starts checking. Bloomfield and his staff was hired to do the job. Michigan outgrew citizen law enforcement and vigilante law when it hired officials to do the job.

All Charlevoix businessmen and citizens have a perfect right to ask for assurance there will be no air pollution from Medusa. Hogan's problem is more obvious. A $1.5 million hotel on the site of the former Beach Hotel could be a financial disaster if Medusa is allowed even "once in a while" to pour crud into our air.

Persons who haven't appraised the value of Hogan's 120-room hotel to Charlevoix would

We hope the Legislature and citizens will not tolerate the same shamefully negligent enforcement of air pollution laws.

Petoskey hits new low as Charlevoix hits high

PETOSKEY, THE community where businessmen once boasted their town was the economic hub of northwest Lower Michigan, is in a desolate slump. Many of us have seen it coming for three or four years, but now the community's leaders are beginning to recognize it.

Mitchell T. stores are empty. A major department store has moved out. Other businesses, too, have folded. Only $82,000 worth of building permits for three homes have been issued so far this year, compared to $300,500 for 16 in Charlevoix.

FIGURING PETOSKEY has more than twice Charlevoix's population, it would have to have about 40 new homes a year just to keep pace with Charlevoix's growth. And Charlevoix's boom

Let's set High Island aside

BEAVER ISLAND--Early November must be the worst time of the year to drum up interest in High Island. But Sunday as we hauled and cranked to get this department's boat out of the water High Island seemed to become important.

Maybe it didn't--for the other haulers and cranks--Bob Lieberman, Larry Wallace and Don Fuller--but it suddenly dawned on me that I've been waiting all summer to say we oughta get on our high horse to set High Island aside for our kids, and their kids.

HIGH ISLAND, if you don't know, is a good-sized chunk of real estate almost within rifle ball distance of the west shore of big Beaver Island. It's by far the prettiest of the smaller islands to the Beaver group.

It's hills and hardwood forests are a sharp contrast to the mosquito-infested cedar bogs of Hog and Garden Islands. Though it, too, has its mosquito hills and sand dunes along the north end, with one of the most scenic sand dune outlooks on the lakes at its north-west tip.

High Island harbor, at the island's extreme northeast shore, is one of the safest in the island group, being protected from everything but a stiff easterly or northeaster.

The State owns the entire island. The Conservation Dept. has two clean, white frame cabins just a few yards off the harbor, where it also has a staunch portable dock. There's a well for public use and the two cabins are owned by the public so they, too, should be open.

ONLY A FEW YARDS behind the cabins, on a low sand dune leading to the island's interior, are the remains of the old house of David's community house. Further inland are cleared fields and several large livestock sheds. Left to nature, all of this will be overgrown in a few more years.

The island, actually, has nearly as much history as Big Beaver. It wasn't until the depression that the House of David deserted its colony on High. From its High Island outpost the sect exported food and other products to its main colony in Benton Harbor.

Numerous attempts to settle the island or use it for livestock grazing have proved unprofitable. The hunting and fishing aren't anything to rave about.

The point being that High is a charming, but not very valuable, hideaway that can be safely reached by persons who are not too fond of the outdoors.

Flannelette nightgowns were selling at 75¢ and Men's Union suits were $1.50.

Home of Mr. C. Woodgate burns with loss of everything, fire started above the kitchen stove.

Each day one should drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoon of limestone phosphate in it, to clean the alimentary tract before eating that day.

really seek wilderness and temporary seclusion from civilization's madness.

IT SHOULD BE left that way. High Island, by formal legislation, be set aside as a sacred part of the Great Lakes that man can never again tamper with. A wilderness area.

Americans -- through Congressional action--have finally recognized the essential need for preserving small pockets of wilderness to which people can physically or mentally retreat in the centuries to come.

Areas dedicated to wilderness should not be too readily accessible. Nor should they contain important economic resources. High Island, then, is perfectly suited.

For millions of people just knowing the existence of a wilderness area is the only ruler has great value. They may never visit High Island.

"In wilderness," Thoreau claimed, "is the preservation of the world."

SUPREME COURT Justice William O. Douglas has stated, "If we are to survive we must make Kathmandu the symbol of our struggle for independence from the machine that promises to enslave us. We must provide enough wilderness areas so that, no matter how dense our population, man will have a place to go to get out, now and then, and if nothing is done, High will continue to be at man's mercy, until someday it is permanently spoiled.

High Island right now is being disturbed by man. The Conservation Dept. should be stepped from using heavy equipment on the island to study things as they are. They have gardens and they are fine. They have gardens and they are fine. They have gardens and they are fine.

Someday loggers are going to find High Island ripe for plundering. They will leave it scarred with ugly bulldozed trails and litter.

As the pressure for recreation increases, the State may be inclined to step in and develop their ugly, luxury campgrounds.

NONE OF THIS should be allowed. The State Legislature can give the island wilderness status -- thus barring any changes by man. Or the island can be turned over to the Federal Government with the understanding it will become part of the Wilderness System.

But none of these steps will be taken unless people start demanding them now. And if nothing is done, High will continue to be at man's mercy, until someday it is permanently spoiled.

Let's lose face, not your sons

"A lot of people have thought we should start to get out, now some of them are questioning the 'get in' part."

Don Riegle, our Republican congressman from Flint, was talking about the Vietnam war. He said his mail showed that more and more people are turning sour on the war that seems to be taking "the good guys" nowhere except the cemetery.

Here's another quote:

"I can't help being bitter. That's a politics business over there. We're not fighting a war. I'm a World War II veteran and I know what it is to fight to win ground and keep it. We're not doing that over there."

Joseph Kropp, a Lapeer butcher, was also talking about the Vietnam war. He had just been notified that his son, Vic Gordon Kropp, had been killed in Quang Nam. Twenty-year-old Kropp had been seriously wounded 3 months earlier but had recovered and was sent back into action--die.

We agree with Riegle. More and more people are getting fed up with our so-called commitment to a civil war that we can't win and which is probably none of our business anyway. Look at George Romney, he cooes more like a dove every day. We are certain that George has held a wet finger in the political wind. He suspects the Vietnam issue might help him into the White House. We suspect he is correct and, while we might chuckle at his motivation, we applaud his method. If George is for getting the heck out of Vietnam, we are for him for president.

It is not so difficult for us to understand a man such as Joseph Kropp. His son is dead. What did he die for? Some of the most respected men in this country say he died in a vain quest for a victory that cannot be won. Let's crew has made countless optimistic predictions which were actually little more than lies. No real gains can be seen in Vietnam, unless you take comfort in the endless count of enemy killed. And this is small comfort to a parent whose son is also a bloody statistic. Who can blame these parents for being doubtful and bitter?

But we'd rather lose face than one more Gordon Kropp. -- LAPEER COUNTY PRESS.

Costume woes upset their home

I hope Dixon Ave., Antrim St. and the rest of our lucky town streets survived the night of the gremkins.

There are definite advantages of living in the only house on a short street. I'm always well prepared for the masses. Let us shy away from our own desolate area, and I'm left with enough goodies to keep me in tooth aches for two weeks.

"BECAUSE" OF THEIR changing minds, probably the biggest draw back to Halloween is deciding on suitable costumes for the kids. One day the ideal is to dress like a devil. The next it is to trick or treat as someone hallowed like G. I. Joe.

The first year our kids were big enough to beg on the streets, they weren't too aware of the costume bit. At the last minute, we fixed them up with masks and baggy sweat shirts, and piled them into the car.

At the first stop, darling daughter jumped out with her mask at an angle causing total blindness. Without giving the drivers the advantage of a "trick or treat," she proceeded to plop into the corner of their house, nearly knocking out a good size chunk of it.

Our son met another pint size monster on the sidewalk in full skeleton uniform. A foot apart, they silently glared at each other, then our mighty hero pulled back his fist and made an attempt at smashing the four year old foe. The impact wasn't great, but I've often wondered if the little guy figured Halloween wasn't all it was cracked up to be.

OURS CAME HOME excited and anxious to spread out their treasures and devour the back ones before bedtime. A few were hidden under pillows for first thing in the morning.

Every year it becomes a bigger event and I stock up on more treats than before. Next Halloween you're all invited to our place. To find us, just remember, we're the only house on a short street.

Regarding communists planting salmon: The matter has not been dropped. Seems as though someone especially being counted upon has laid down on the cars somewhere, however, he will be found, but in the meantime, there are now interests and thinking has come into being, but regret nothing compiled enough at this writing to publish and/or offer.

Remember? One of Michigan's many firsts. The Nation's first regularly scheduled air passenger service originated in Michigan in 1920 when Stout Air Service began round trip flights daily, Detroit to Grand Rapids, and soon thereafter, between Detroit and Cleveland. That is when I made my first commercial plane flight. Stout used tri-motor Stinson made in or about Wayne, Michigan. Ford Motor Company also had been experimenting and began aircraft production and developed a good tri-motor plane then for commercial service, and lo, the government was a big taker for these planes for the military. It was not very long before Stout became Ford Aircraft Division consulting engineer.

offer by the Courier for use of a mimeograph machine at their office. Thanks.

A couple of issues ago I mentioned having resolved several complaints and criticisms, and merited handling, having to do with certain Michigan highway department signs and other ownership signs. I wrote the district traffic engineer who the next day came to the office from Cadillac. After a discussion I was given a very unfavorable "no". This, of course, I could see was based on technicalities and engineering viewpoints. I again wrote the gentleman with a copy of this time further down a practical standpoint of view, of course, not altering original intent of signs. Suddenly, I received a phone call indicating a work order then would

One of the big signs involved in complaint was found to be Charlevoix County Board of Supervisor's problem. This sign is at the junction of M-60 and M-131 at Mancelona. The matter of this particular sign is before the proper authority, and I was assured correction would be made as soon as funds permitted. I will, of course, follow up. How about it? So far so good, all in about ten days.

Gregg Shadko will turn his transit in after 43 years

CHARLEVOIX--It seems unlikely any Charlevoix County man has probed as much Michigan wilderness as Gregg Shadko.

Shadko may have been the last person to intimately know the State's once vast roadless tracts.

Generally, it wasn't long after Shadko visited a wilderness area before workmen came in to hack out roads, campgrounds and other improvements that took the wilderness out of the wilderness.

Shadko went to work as a state highway department surveyor and engineer in 1924. Immediately after his graduation from Michigan State University.

His early jobs included surveying the state's first 40-foot wide paved road, then called a "major highway." It ran between Saginaw and Bay City.

AS CHIEF OF A survey crew he opened up much of the route for U.S. 27 in Northern Lower Michigan. Though now flanked by motels, restaurants and other adornments of civilization, the routes these highways take were then virtually untraced wilderness.

After a short adventure as a surveyor-engineer in the Bahamas from 1926 to 1928, Shadko returned to Michigan. This time his major duties took him from director of CCC camps to survey work in the swampy wasteland of the Upper Peninsula.

For years the tough, Russian-born, surveyor, as he puts it, "craved" UP swamps on snowshoes trying to make some sense out of hit-and-miss early survey methods.

In 1931 HE CAME to Charlevoix as a state employee. In 1932 he was named chief of Conservation Department survey operations throughout the state, with 13 men working with him.

Five years ago his operation was restricted some as the department's work expanded and Shadko became chief of survey and engineering for public fishing site development in the Northern Lower Peninsula.

His office on the second floor of the Charlevoix County Building is being closed this month. His two assistants, Fred Wagonschutz of Kalkaska and Lyle Crawford of East Jordan, will work out of their homes.

The Conservation Dept. is holding a retirement party at the Argonne Nov. 15. It will be a stag social evening.

THE PARTY MAY BE a gay one, but it won't signal the final chapter in Shadko's long career. He will be back in the summer. "I would be satisfied living anywhere but here (Charlevoix) year-round," he explains.

Regardless of Civil Service options, he's far from worn out. A skier decades before stretch pants and chair lifts were thought of, Shadko continues to enjoy a fast downhill run. Three years ago he went to the Rockies skiing.

He'll also keep his hand in the surveying and civil engineering business as a private consultant. Shadko figures his rugged complexion and sturdy body are due to his years of outdoor activity. He has no intentions of changing his habits just because he can.

In the winter he and his wife Polly expect to do some traveling. But they'll be back in the summer. "I would be satisfied living anywhere but here (Charlevoix) year-round," he explains.

State grants money for snow removal

All area counties this winter will get State Highway Commission funds for snow removal.

Charlevoix County will get $13,397. Antrim's share is $16,091. Cheboygan will get the largest amount, $25,072, with Emmet getting $15,930 and (Keweenaw) $17,281.

The amount received is based on each county's average snowfall was 109 inches; Antrim's was 120; Emmet's was 117; Cheboygan's was 120 and Keweenaw's was 137.

As usual, little Keweenaw County in the northern tip of the Upper Peninsula had the most snow last year, 229 inches. Gogewic was second, with 207 inches.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Something Special!
For total performance, try our new & improved gasoline

LEONARD PREMIUM 500

now 5 ways better

1. Better carburetor cleaning. Keeps new carburetors clean and bright, cleans even dirtiest carburetors for better mileage, improved performance.
2. Better ice-protecting properties. On cool, damp days, ice may form on the carburetor throttle plate, causing annoying stalling. The new additive forms a slippery film on molecular thick on the metal surface. Ice never gets a chance to build up.
3. Better rust protection. The same molecule film protects metal surfaces against corrosion—an engine parts as well as the entire gasoline distribution system.
4. Better exhaust emission control. Works on exhaust emission devices, like Positive Crankcase Ventilation just as it works on the carburetor—cleans and keeps clean, reducing the need for expensive maintenance.
5. Better ignition. A special compound in Premium 500 suppresses pre-ignition and sparkplug fouling caused by combustion chamber deposits. Car performance is noticeably improved.

Girl Scouts

CHARLEVOIX -- The Girl Scouts of Troop 275 have decided on their Patrol names. They are: Lolly Pops Patrol; Go Go Patrol; and Peanut Patrol.

They had a long discussion on their badges. Last year the troop worked on the sewing badge and the dramatics badge.

The girl scouts are planning to make a Thanksgiving basket.

Their leader is Mary Cook.

Church women aid band drive

CHARLEVOIX -- Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. Glen Kenney. During the meeting the group voted to donate $20 toward the new band uniforms.

Norwood church women fete Allard on 96th birthday

July 9, 1967 at the age of 96.

CHARLEVOIX--William F. Allard was 96 years old Nov. 6. He is at Grandview Medical Care Facility in East Jordan.

The Norwood WSCS held a birthday party for Allard, who enjoyed the cake and coffee with the group.

Allard was born 1871 to Jerry and Melvina Allard and he originally came from South Bend, Indiana when he was 30 years old.

He married Ruby Vandusen on Nov. 27, 1907. She died.

Allard has a niece, Mrs. Stanley Lord who lives in Norwood and a brother, Isa Allard, 93, in Atwood.

Library notes

Among the fresh titles loaned to the Charlevoix Public Library by the Grand Traverse Area Library Federation can be found:

Japanese Print Making by Toshio Yoshida and Rei Yuki, a handbook of traditional and modern techniques presenting the painstaking process from beginning to end.

Virginia Harvey's Macrame presents the art of creative knot tying. Nearly a lost art, macrame is an ancient way of tying knots in string to create lacy-patterned decorations.

Yule Club checks out

CHARLEVOIX -- A total of 400 Christmas Club Savings checks totaling $47,000 will be mailed between Nov. 6 and Nov. 15, according to the Charlevoix County State Bank and Charlevoix State Savings Bank.

Charlevoix County State Bank mailed their Christmas Savings checks on Nov. 6. They sent a total of 250 checks amounting to $31,000.

Charlevoix State Savings Bank will mail 150 checks totaling $16,000 on Nov. 15.

Frank Fisher is in England

CHARLEVOIX -- Army Private First Class Frank E. Fisher, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Fisher, Rt. 1, Ellsworth began 30 days of training Oct. 19 with British Army units in England.

Pvt. Fisher is a rifleman in the 2nd Battalion's Company. He is stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Convert your home or business to economical Natural Gas heat today and pay nothing for six months.

Convert now to Gas heat, and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company will buy your unused oil or coal—even remove your oil tank—all at no cost to you. What's more, whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we'll pay the bill. And all you pay us, for the next six months, is for the Gas you'll use to make this your most comfortable winter ever. Here's how this special offer works:

1. If you're now heating with oil, we'll buy what's left in your storage tank—at the price you paid for it. What's more, we'll remove the tank from your home or business and even haul it away if you want. All at no cost to you.
2. If you're now heating with coal, we'll take what coal you have on hand, off your hands. And pay you what ever it cost you originally.
3. Whether you convert your present furnace, or even install a new Gas furnace, we'll pay for it and its installation by a participating Gas heating contractor, and it won't cost you a penny for six months after installation. At the end of six months, you can pay for the unit and its installation with no carrying charge whatsoever. Or if you prefer, you can then start making equal monthly payments, including carrying charges, on your Gas bill, over a period of up to three years. Either way, there are no carrying charges until six months after installation, and you need make no payments until then. If you live in the areas we serve, you're entitled to take advantage of this special offer. So act now. Call your participating Gas heating contractor or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company office today for details.

Remember, too—when you heat, with natural GAS—you save up to 1/3 on your heating bills.

GAS MAKES THE BIG DIFFERENCE... COSTS LESS, TOO.

Chamber Chat

BY WALLY LODER
CHAMBER MANAGER

Mr. Businessman Who knows, there may come a day when your Chamber of Commerce has, from time to time, a "Michigan Trade Bulletin" and at the present time has an office copy of "Exporting Made Easy".

Immunization

CHARLEVOIX -- An immunization clinic for under-school-age children will be held Nov. 13 at the Health Dept.'s office in the Charlevoix County Building. All children too young for school are eligible for the shots.

Also the writer, having been a young family man, from time to time, is forwarding a letter stating a decision to relocate in Charlevoix or immediate area, therefore needing employment, a home for self and family.

With this letter was a volume-like personal resume including many certifications.

Accordingly, this chap is well qualified. The result of our operation, however, sorry no takers here. Walter Thorsen at East Jordan Tool & Die apparently can use this fellow November 4 or 5, at which time he and his family will call at this office. This young gentleman wrote a fine letter expressing appreciation and thanks for the cooperation by your C of C.

It should interest you good people that the pile of mostly old bills, several hundred dollars worth which the writer inherited, among other things with the undergarment appointment, plus current normal bills as the weeks passed, are all finally paid up and even our office rent paid to January 1.

By no means folks, to this signed to lay down on the other. There needs yet to be constant pulling together.

Members! Do you know that Indian River Regional C of C membership fee starts at $50 annually. East Jordan C of C starts at $25 for a certain category in minority, and for voting rights membership, so called, $40; $30; $20; $10 and $15, based on certain conditions. Hoyne City also has a graduating schedule. For instance voting rights membership for business, professional, and industry is $35, $50, $75, $100, $200, and $400, all based on certain conditions and/or information available to the Board of Directors. They also have a $25 membership for schools and churches. And too, $5 for farmers and non-business and non-professional people which group is known as associate members or in the contribution category. In comparison your members in the Charlevoix area supporting this C of C are, I don't think are treated severely so far as fees are concerned.

Your cooperation and/or investment in your community through the C of C is reasonable to expect and very much appreciated, furthermore, it is necessary, as success requires people and some money. It was gratifying to note, last week a number of late fee checks were received. Keep 'em coming friends, soon we'll all be caught up.

It is hoped allied business- and all others concerned are thinking, planning, and etc., so no one is caught between the barn and the house with broken suspenders. I have one avenue to explore before letting up on a fish plant, (King salmon). Will report the findings later.

There is urgent need for City of Charlevoix maps, and it do not mean maybe. To relieve the emergency, there must be a quicker way of making some copies besides the long process by a printer, and for the moment, cheaper. I have one good clear cut simple reasonably up to date. Any volunteers or ideas? Let's have 'em.

Rayders Crush Pellston 59-0 to end season

CHARLEVOIX --

The Charlevoix Rayders romped over Pellston 59-0 last Friday in the cold and snow at Pellston, to share the NMCCC football crown along with Gaylord and Boyne.

Out of 32 years Charlevoix has won 14 times, Gaylord 5 times, and Boyne 10 times.

Charlevoix struck fast and didn't let up with everyone seeing such action throughout the game. Charlevoix turned four touchdowns from the Pellston center on punts into scores.

Lee Cross lead off on a 16 yard scamper to paydirt early in the first quarter on the second play from scrimmage, giving the Rayders a 6-0 lead.

Another had center on a punt by Pellston gave the Rayders the ball on the 19 yard line where Brad Carey on the first play hit paydirt giving Charlevoix a 13-0 margin at the end of the first period.

In the second quarter the Rayders recovered another fumble with Terry Dilsett covering 38 yds. on the first play hit paydirt. Lord came through with the extra point giving Charlevoix a 20-0 lead.

Charlevoix again capitalized on a fumble on the 13 yard line this time calling on sophomore Kraag Lieberman who carried it in for the score for a 25-0 lead.

Moments later Carey uncorked a pass to his flanker, Terry

PELLSTON, (in light uniforms) didn't have a chance Friday as the Rayders romped over it 59-0 in the final football game of the 1967 season.

RAYDER COACH Don Carey starts on what is intended to be a ride to the showers on the backs of his victorious Rayders after they wrapped up a share of the conference title at Pellston Friday night.

EAST JORDAN -- The Red Devils ended the grid season Friday a lot wiser, but not a lot happier than they started it.

In Friday's final contest, East Jordan lost 26-0 to Gaylord, to conclude the season with a 1-5-1 record in Northern Michigan Class C Conference play.

Gaylord, the only team in the league to beat Charlevoix, thus throwing the conference into a three-way tie for first, was never threatened by East Jordan.

Gaylord's Tom Johnson wrote his name in the record books for Gaylord in helping it win the title share. He passed to Dave Hird for another TD, to Jerry Crandall for another, to Art Fedor for another, to Scott Hector for one conversion and scored one himself.

He completed 11 touchdown passes for the season for the Blue Devils.

The first TD over East Jordan came with only 53 seconds gone at the start of the game. Johnson passed to Dave Hird covering 64 yards and a touchdown.

With 7:10 to play in the second period Bert Heath went over from the 14 and Johnson passed to Rector for the conversion for a 13-0 edge.

Johnson then found Crandall open for the third TD just before the half ended and Crandall went 18 yards into paydirt.

In the fourth period Johnson passed a 12 yarder to Art Fedor for the final TD and he elected to score his own conversion to round out the 26-0 total.

Gaylord piled up 327 yards rushing and passing while East Jordan was held to 103 for the night.

dustries. Maaja is a member of the national ski team and is a member of the national ski team.

Mid-America skier is designed to fill the information void between the lay-hazard coverage of skiing by the city newspapers and specialized stories in national magazines. Reporters from throughout the Midwest are writing for the publication.

Packaged in a breezy, easily-read format, Mid-America skier will be published nine times this ski season, with a season subscription costing $12. The newsstand price is 25 cents.

Metropolitan area skiers—both with memberships running into the thousands—are purchasing subscriptions to Mid-America skier in blocks for all of their members.

Both skiers and ski industry leaders received the first edition with enthusiasm at the Detroit show.

United States with 150 other Finnish exchange students from Helsinki to be in Detroit on August 21.

Maaja is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carr and their three daughters and one son at 410 E. Dixon.

"In Finland we have different subjects each day and we go to school on Saturdays, too," Maaja said.

Last year she had to take five languages: German, English, Swedish, Latin and Finnish. In Finland high school starts with grade one to eight. You must be 11 years old to start grade one of high school.

Maaja said, "When I return to Finland I will be a teacher."

Dri-Slide for Local Viet GI's

Dri-Slide, the small arms lubricant that is reported more popular with front-line riflemen in Vietnam than the government-supplied lubricant, is available free for all area men, the Charlevoix VFW auxiliary reports.

A container of Dri-Slide will be sent to every infantryman in Vietnam if their address is sent to William Bradford, 3174 Three Mile Rd., Traverse City, Michigan. The Dri-Slide VFW commander.

land it will be in the seventh grade but will be 18 years old. I have been killed a lot about only being in the seventh grade by me fellow seniors here."

"I have become used to the five minute breaks between classes but in Finland we get ten minutes breaks and the classes last 45 minutes," she said.

"In Finland you study either long English or German for seven years or short Latin, English or German for five years; algebra and geometry for six years; physics and chemistry for one year," she said.

"If you fall in one subject you take the whole year over or you can double the grades," Maaja explained.

Maaja said "In Finland we have lots and lots of homework and no discussion. I like the way you have here of the teacher and students discussing the subject. In Finland a student hardly ever asks questions in front of the whole class, he waits until everyone leaves then he asks the teacher his question, and when you recite you always stand up, you never sit," she explained.

"I like the teachers here, they are very friendly and frank with the students. In Finland teachers are more detached from us," Maaja said.

"Before you graduate you must take some very strict exams. They last for six hours and are taken for two weeks," she said.

"They play soccer in Finland but I like football. At first I was embarrassed at the Pop meets that I just listened and now I lose my voice every Friday night," she laughed.

"I PROMISED to eat 900 hamburgers when I came but don't think I will make it as that would be one every day," she replied.

"Back home they only drink pop when they go out at night. They drink more milk than you do and we eat rye bread—never white. I sure love corn-on-the-cob, we don't have it in Finland," Maaja explained.

"People don't show their feelings like here, they, the Finns are always in a hurry and don't stop and take time with you," she said.

When asked what she would do when she got out of school Maaja said, "I am an impatient person. I would like to be an interpreter, but mother would like me to be an airline stewardess."

Maaja will return to Finland on July 30, 1968. She will fly by jet from Detroit to New York where along with all the 130 exchange students she will go by boat across the Atlantic.

Maaja has a sister, 23, and brother, 21, who are studying in the south of Finland.

"I don't want to think about going back to Finland yet, there are too many things I want to enjoy. I think I came to the right town, the right school and the right family," Maaja said.

SOMETHING SPECIAL: AN IMPROVED GASOLINE FROM THE TOTAL PERFORMANCE PEOPLE

LEONARD PREMIUM 500

Factually 5 ways better:

Fact 1. Better Carburetor Cleaning. Leonard Premium 500 cleans your car's carburetor as you drive. And keeps it clean.

Fact 2. Better Ice-proofing. Premium 500 sets up a protective film on the throttle plate and all other internal parts of your carburetor. Protects against stalling due to ice formation on cool, damp days.

Fact 3. Better Ignition. Power-robbing pre-ignition and spark-plug fouling are suppressed by a special compound in Premium 500.

Fact 4. Better Rust Protection. The same protective film that ice-proofs also protects your fuel system against rust—from tank to carburetor.

Fact 5. Better Exhaust Emission Control. Exhaust emission control devices work better, need less adjustment with Leonard Premium 500 gasoline.

More than ever,
you can depend on Leonard!

Township merger plan worth study

UNIFICATION of the city and Township of Charlevoix was ultimately inevitable. The danger was that a crisis of some sort would develop and piecemeal, or wholesale, annexation would be rushed into.

"Annexation" has become a word Michigan city and township officials prefer to avoid. The word has a controversial stigma on it. In other sections of the state communities have been bitterly divided over annexation plans.

THIS BITTERNESS has gone so far that some townships have incorporated as separate cities rather than morgan with existing core cities. Other foolishness even more absurd has gone on.

Charlevoixians (and for all meaningful purposes that includes everybody in the Charlevoix school district) will be spared the nightmares over growing communities have lived through. City and township leaders here have foreseen the inevitable and are moving to meet it in a calm, cooperative spirit.

By asking the planning commission to begin now to anticipate the problems that will develop from expanding the city's boundaries, city and township officials have assured that this will be a well reasoned step.

Of course there are problems. Charlevoix township is becoming more and more congested. It is no longer a sparsely settled "country" area. It needs police protection, a fire hall on the north side of town, paved streets, water and sewer.

As officials from both the Library complaints appear long overdue

FOR SEVERAL years there has been an undercurrent of discontent with the services of the Charlevoix Public Library. Somehow, this dissatisfaction was temporarily diverted toward constructing the new library.

Rather awkwardly—after $150,000 has been spent—the condition of the old library building was never the real bone of the problem. Until the new library was built, people were largely upset due to the lack of new books.

NOW THAT THE new library has been open several months the old complaint about the scarcity of books has been renewed, along with several new gripes. The Charlevoix VFW Auxiliary took a responsible move by formally lodging its dissatisfaction over the library's operation with the school board.

We concur with the Auxiliary on several counts. This year Librarian Dorothy Olmstead reports she had $5,000 worth of books to purchase new books. This means approximately 1,000 more books.

We believe the best interest of Charlevoix taxpayers will be served by getting those new books on the shelves as soon as they can be delivered.

As for the VFW Auxiliary's other complaints, we find several of them well justified. The mere fact we have heard them from numerous other people and township have pointed out, all of these utilities cannot be extended to the complete township at once. Areas of greatest need are going to have to be determined before any merger is attempted so the people know just what to expect.

CITY OFFICIALS ARE to be commended for insisting they will have nothing to do with annexation unless the people first have a thorough understanding of everything involved.

Township citizens are going to find the merger—which is probably a year or more off—their best tax buy in years. Township taxes are now only five mills less than the city's. But if the township were to add police protection, water, sewer, lights, etc. it will cost much more than five mills because it does not have the foundation on which to build.

As Charlevoix Township Supervisor Clarence Rabach has pointed out, the city should discard its ancient Fourth Class status and adopt a locally-written Home Rule charter. This, however, should not be attempted until township people have a voice in the matter and can sit on the commission which will write the charter.

Contrary to some viewpoints, township citizens will actually be gaining more say-so in their local government and more control over their local affairs. Township Board meetings are now so unimportant and poorly attended they are not even newspaper mention. Under city government they will suddenly find—as city people now do—find that local government is a vibrant part of their life.

And there wouldn't be any more business like Steadman Murphy's face's pumpkins. Pert Little Murphy's Mom and Dad drove north to find two such pumpkins—only to have them stolen Sunday evening. Trucks are one thing. But causing a gas to cry is another.

THE LIBRARY'S failure to have a complete card catalog completed is, in our opinion, inexcusable. The cards are on hand from the old library for old books and everytime a new book is purchased it comes with a full set of cross reference cards from the publisher. All that has to be done is slip them into their proper place in the catalog.

Not having the card catalog makes use of the library very clumsy. It discourages patrons.

We also sympathize with the VFW's concern about the disappearance of the "memory" shelf. Dozens of Charlevoixians and local clubs have contributed books in someone's memory. This is a fine local tradition.

This is not to be as practical as integrating the "memory" books into the regular shelves. But we do not feel practically rates priority over matters of the heart.

IT WOULD SEEM reasonable, however, to ask for more practical library hours. What these hours should be we cannot readily ascertain. But an effort should be made to find out.

Miss Olmstead appears sincere in her desire to smooth out these problems. She will find Charlevoixians cooperative in helping her once they know a sincere effort is being made to operate the library in the best interest of the adult reading public.

Weak teams Causing Troubles

By GLEN SHEPARD

One thing you will never hear anyone say is that this department knows anything about spectator sports.

Once, a decade or so ago, they made me sports editor of a good-sized downtown daily newspaper. I found I could survive in the job by being a good reporter. But I never learned a thing about sports.

I WANTED to tell the story (so I'll bore you with it) about the school's athletic director called to excitedly announce that Fanchon Gonzales was coming to town.

I waited for a moment for him to explain they were going to have a circus, or something, to raise money for a new athletic field. When he didn't

I asked, "Well, is the Cisco Kid coming with him?"

"Sure, and I honestly think Fanchon was the Cisco Kid's partner. How was a kid who had chores from the minute school was out until dusk ever going to learn that Fanchon Gonzales was the, then, world's tennis champion?"

All of which is a roundabout way to peekily suggest that comment on the past football season probably isn't worth much from this corner. . . But I'm gonna do it anyway.

THE REASON PM attempting to let Paul Fiedorek, a darn bright and dependable Charlevoix High junior who's been doing a dandy job of writing sports for us, says he doesn't want to comment on the imbalance in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference. So many people are talking about it that someone at the Courier has to report what's being said.

Pelliston's miserable performance what really makes the league so obviously awkward has been a six-year failure on the grid field.

Many people try to explain this by pointing to Pelliston's size—about 600 kids, which makes it the smallest school in the league.

But this, on its own, doesn't hold much water. If you sent Ellsworth or Central Lake to Pelliston they'd whallop the stuffins out of the Hornets. And Ellsworth has only 295 kids.

HARDOR SPRINGS, with about 680 kids, isn't a whole lot bigger than Pelliston. And though Harbar was not one of the big guns this year, nobody's counting it out next year. The Harbar Springs crowd is always considered a potential powerhouse.

Manelona, with about 800 kids, has in recent years consistently been stronger than East Jordan, with about 1,000 kids, and Grayling with about 1,300.

Charlevoix, with more than 1,400 kids, has become the biggest school in the league. Many people think East Jordan and Grayling should also be cut.

Further suggesting numbers alone are not a cure-all method for evenly matching school athletic teams, Charlevoix this year gained a whole passie of new kids. But only one of them was out for football. If a couple three more had turned out the Rayders might have copied the loop crown all for itself.

WHAT APPEARS to have made Charlevoix, Boyne City, Grayling and even Harbar Springs produce consistently proud teams has to be chalked down to community support and coaching.

Look at East Jordan. Even Charlevoix coach Don Carey couldn't have done much with the East Jordan Red Devils this year if he had suddenly shown up on the practice field for the first time in September.

East Jordan has been changing coaches so frequently that neither the kids nor the fans have any idea what to expect. If the Red Devils can hold onto Coach Duane Thompson, indications are he'll build them into a strong contender.

Someday soon the imbalance in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference has to be faced up to. This department is mighty glad the job is up to somebody else.

Pepto Bismol tops for chasing down an aspirin

by Grace Ann McDaniel
Our little Miss Sarah Bernhart just asked the penicillin habit after being dosed a week by the nondescript bug that hit town.

She knows that I couldn't possibly be disagreeable with her when she's sick, so my last few days have been filled with her little girl demands.

FROM THE LIVING room couch I heard a faint wail, "Mom, I'd like something good and different to eat."

"What is it honey, anything you want."

"I think I'd like a peanut butter and jelly sandwich, a milkshake, some orange juice and a glass of water. And bring it on a tray."

I must have gone through a thousand diets cups and four gallons of ice cream.

"Here you are, I hope it tastes good."

"Please feed me mom, I feel so weak."

ALTHOUGH THE trips weren't necessary, she frequently ran for the bathroom holding her head. At first I was sympathetic, but I soon learned to stop running races with her to give my comfort. Nevertheless, once in kneeling position, she'd yell an order for me to "come quick!"

I'd hasten again and listen for my instructions. "Think my hair's back now. Oh, I'm going to be sick. Hang onto my hand, Oh! I feel so terrible!"

(If anyone's interested, the bed anecdote for nausea seems to be kept talking.)

Luckily she's wild about taking her medicine, but this too got a little wearing. "I think I need some more aspirin and I'll wash it down with Pepto-Bismol."

Church school complicates Ellsworth controversy

ELLSWORTH--The Ebenezer Christian School has the deceiving appearance of somehow being uninvolved and removed from the controversy that has split Ellsworth over the public school.

Partisans on both sides of the "Great Ellsworth School Debate" are aware, though, that the small church school is at the root of the problem.

WITH THE COMMUNITY nearly evenly split over annexing the public school to Charlevoix and continuing as now, the private church school has become a sort of "unmentionable" factor.

If the 54 students in grades kindergarten through eighth at Ebenezer were in the public school the public school would receive about $10,000 more in state aid. Adding the 54 students to the public classrooms would--perhaps even more importantly--make it possible to expand the elementary school program so that it would be more comparable to that in Central Lake and maybe even Charlevoix.

Time and again, an effort has been made to work out a compromise between the church school and public school. Again late this summer, public school leaders tried to hammer out an agreement whereby Ebenezer would send its children to the public school long enough each day to qualify the public school to draw state aid on them.

For awhile, some members of the Christian Reformed Church said they thought a compromise might be in the offing. No public exposure was given to the effort, which may have been just as well. It failed.

DIE-HARD ADVOCATES of annexation proclaimed all during the compromise discussion that it was hopeless and no settlement was possible.

Ebenezer Christian school is supported by the Christian Reformed Church at Atwood and Ellsworth and by the Atwood Reformed Church.

There are 65 families in Ellsworth and 25 families in Atwood who help support the school through tuition, plus a collection is taken every two weeks in the churches.

THE ONLY AID received from the Intermediate School District is the film library, which is made available to them and they have remedial reading in the summer.

The basic subjects are taught; arithmetic, English, history, civics, geography and others.

Teachers are Alra Postma, kindergarten through second grade; Diane VanderArk third, fourth, and fifth grades and the principal, Paul Krause, has the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

School board officers are John Kooyer, president; Thomas Wynsma, vice-president; Carl Pott, secretary and Harold Jensen, treasurer.

IF THESE IMPROBABLE Ifs work out, the Moon People will see the Earth man wearing a metal cloth suit. The yarn for the suit will have been made at Hoskins Manufacturing, on the hill right outside town on M-66.

And what yarn is it? A single thread is about the diameter of the smallest regular sewing thread used by women, according to the thread salesman, who compared it to the thread he sells at his department store.

But then you divide the size of the thousand of these minute strands are wound together through a series of micro-precision steps at Hoskins to make a single strand of the complete yarn.

THE FINISHED YARN is shipped to a firm in Pennsylvania that weaves it into cloth. The cloth is then sewn into a space suit for the Apollo (man-on-the-moon) program by a Delaware firm.

Hoskins is the only firm in the world known to be making such precision yarn. All of it is made at the Charlevoix plant.

Each time the wire goes through one of the dies it is "stretched" 1/32 smaller than it was when it came through the preceding die.

Toward the end of the operation the wire is so tiny you can't touch it without breaking it.

Each inch of this strand must then be checked for flaws before it is united with 29 other strands to make a single thread of the yarn.

The process by which the 100 strands are formed into one thread is "off limit" to cameras. Lachman will show it to a reporter he knows doesn't understand it, but he's not going to let it be photographed so the competition can get hold of it.

HOSKINS GOT INTO the space suit business almost by accident. It was developing the ultra-fine wire process for other applications when the space people became interested.

Only about 10% of the plant's total effort is devoted to wire for the space suit, but it is hoping other applications for the 2005 wire will be found.

Most of the plant's 40 to 50 people use 20,000 square feet of space is devoted to producing heavier wire for other uses.

Explains Salmon mystery

Persons hoping the recent runs of maverick coho in Charlevoix County streams will trigger major salmon runs are in for disappointment.

According to Chuck Harris, Conservation Dept., deputy director for resource and management, biologists do not expect the salmon attempting to spawn in various creeks off Lake Charlevoix and nearby Lake Michigan to be very successful.

THE COHOS that created such a stir when they were discovered running up Porter Creek at Advance late last week are fish the department planted in the spring of 1966 in the Platte River, Harris said.

Comment SEE PAGE 11

Cohos from the same planting-- weighing well in excess of ten pounds-- were also reported running up Loeb Creek, McCook Creek, Whiskey Creek and others that dump into Lake Charlevoix, Lake Michigan and Little Traverse Bay.

Harris said department biologists suspect the fish did not return to the Platte, where they were planted-- like a good salmon should-- because they did not stay in the Platte long enough after being planted before running into Lake Michigan.

BECAUSE THEY WERE not in the Platte long enough to become "acclimated" there, he explained, the "homeless" fish were confused, causing them to seek other streams.

Geneit Asks Help on Yule Gift Mailing

CHARLEVOIX -- Postmaster Dan Geneit has issued a reminder list of mailing dates for Christmas gifts and parcels. These are final deadlines suggested by the Post Office Department to make sure all mail is delivered on time.

Geneit asked the public to cooperate by shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes to encourage the most efficient Christmas postal operation ever.

Special attention will again be placed on the delivery of mail to servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area, and encouraged the use of APO and FPO numbers on all overseas military mail.

Deadlines for mail to all members of the Armed Forces abroad are:

- Parcels five pounds or less, letters and greeting cards--December 1.
- Air mail gifts and greeting--December 11.

Hoskins Mfg. is aiming for the moon

CHARLEVOIX--If you momentarily ignore a lot of Ifs, it seems probable the first Impression Moon People have of Earth People will be influenced by a Charlevoix product.

City is selling its old light poles

CHARLEVOIX -- The last of Bridge St.'s renowned decorative light poles is taken down by city workmen Monday.

The city is selling most of the old poles for from $5 to $10 each. They are being kept at the city garage on Silver Rd. Increased buyers should contact City Manager Jim Taylor.

The old lights were replaced by new

1,000 watters on sleek 30-foot high aluminum poles. The new lights, which met a storm of protest when ordered several months ago, were turned on over the weekend. (See picture on page 11.)

Taylor said a few problems were encountered when the color-corrected mercury vapor lights were turned on, but they were all solved by Monday night.

Members of the board of directors are Richardson, Aul, Nelson, Richard Van Orden, George Richardson and James Shepard. They purchased the Inn last summer from Earl A. Young.

Purchasing of the majority stock in the Terrace was announced Monday by the three owners of the Inn: Richard J. Aul, George Richardson and James Shepard. They purchased the Inn last summer from Earl A. Young.

The controlling share of stock was purchased by the Weatheravne Inn, Inc. from Robert G. Nelson of Lansing.

THE NEW MAJORITY owners have assumed management of the Terrace. No management changes were announced.

The new management said it will cooperate with the Lodge of Charlevoix in seeking ski groups and off-season convention business.

Commitmen actually walked the streets in their wards counting the number of persons in each family to arrive at a ward districting plan that meets the one-man-one-vote edict.

THE IMBALANCE in the old wards was not planned that way; it just developed.

Next spring councilman will be elected under a new ward plan.

The Council also considered dividing the city into four wards or electing councilmen at-large. These suggestions were dropped.

Any registered voter can reportedly challenge the new districting plan through Circuit Court.

The new third ward is everything north of Garfield. Everything south of Garfield and east of a line running down the center of Second St. to Easterly and east to Third St. then south to M-32 is in the new second ward. The first ward is everything south of Garfield and west of the center of Second to Easterly to Third to M-32.

Library will open Saturdays

CHARLEVOIX -- The school board last night announced the public library will be open four more hours a week and a concerted effort is being made to set up a card catalog.

The board's library committee - Mrs. Fran Hooper and Jack Fisher - said the library will be open from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, starting Nov. 25. This will be in addition to its present hours of 10 a.m. Monday through Thursday and 1 to 5 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Hooper said librarian Dorothy Cloninger and her assistant Mrs. Charles Duerr are making progress in setting up a comprehensive cross-reference card catalog.

She said the librarians are "moving slowly" on the cataloging, but explained that it is "very expensive and time consuming."

Many of the cards brought over from the old library, she explained, are in poor condition and not complete enough. These cards must be remade and more copies made of them to provide more cross-references for readers seeking books.

Mrs. Robert Martin, high school librarian, said it takes 15 minutes or more to make a card on a "you know nothing about."

CHS bands plan fall concert

CHARLEVOIX -- The Charlevoix High School senior and reserve bands are planning their annual fall concert Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. Almost 200 student musicians will perform.

Proceeds will be used to help defray expenses of the senior band, which has been invited to appear at the Midwestern Conference on School Vocal and Instrumental Music on the campus of the University of Michigan Jan. 12 and 13.

THIS IS AN honor accorded five Class C high school bands, according to band director Clarence Odmark. Charlevoix is one of only three Michigan High School Bands appearing at the conference, which will attract over 2,000 music educators from all over the state.

Less than three weeks after its last marching appearance, the 109-piece senior band will present several numbers to be played at Ann Arbor, plus several favorites of local audiences, such as the "Civil War Fantasy" by Beke, and the Carmen Dragon arrangement of "America the Beautiful," at the fall concert, Odmark said.

The 84-piece reserve band will open the program with a group of selections, including the "Lullaby of the Sea" and the "Appalachian Suite," listed on the required festival lists for Class C and D Junior High School Bands. Also included will be the "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

The Band Boosters Club, currently raising funds for Band uniforms, will have its Christmas candle display set up and will take orders at the concert.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of either band or may be purchased at the door. The concert will be held in the High School Gym.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Starford of Detroit visited in the Charlevoix area with relatives and friends. On their return to Detroit, they were accompanied by his sisters, Mrs. Edith Pearl and Miss June Starford, they will spend a month in Daytona Beach, Fla. for the winter.

Miss Florance Miller attended the meeting of the Michigan State Librarians in Detroit. Miss Miller also attended the meeting of the Medical Librarians.

Sp/4 Roger L. Selph son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Selph is home after one year in Viet-nam. He will be home for 30 days, Miss Donna Lawson and Miss Sandra Gore-St. Louis, Mo. visited him at his parents home for a week.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Tom Webb 7-3 2-40

THE SENIOR linemen, who have been much less publicized than the backs and ends, deserve much recognition. The senior linemen, who have thrown their last block in high school are Mike Bascom, Jim McCollan, Larry Martin, Charles Patenka, and Bernie Ward.

All of those who went out for football will look back on it as probably the best days of their high school lives.

Bellare boys on the squad are Kent Tricketman, Rob Edgerton and Duane Jolein. Doctor, giving the latter three the distinction of being selected for both lineups.

Boys making the all-conference squad from Central Lakes are Jim Wilson, Chuck Gordon and Ralph Payton, Wilson was selected twice.

Bellare's six letter winners are St. Doctor, Randy Ruis, Harold DeYoung, Stan Drenth, Fred Taylor and Bruce Chellis.

Last year the Lancer squad won 16 of its 19 games. The boys only starts Nov. 26 with a home game against McLean.

Ellsworth dominates League 'dream' grid squad

ELLSWORTH -- When Northern Lakes Conference grid coaches sat down to pick an all-conference "dream" squad they just about filled it with Ellsworth players.

Of the 18 slots filled (nine on defense and nine on offense) for the all-conference picks, Ellsworth boys were selected for nine of them, Central Lakes for four, Bellare three and Mackinac City two.

OF THE NINE SLOTS filled by members of coach Dave Patchkowski's Lancer lineup, three were selected twice; meaning only six Ellsworth boys were actually selected.

One Central Lake and one Mackinac City player were also selected twice.

Names to the all-conference offensive squad from Ellsworth are Bruce Chellis, end;

HIGH WIND Saturday blew this portion of the roof off one of the covered slips at Brow Marina. Lynn Porter said it will be rebuilt by spring. The roof section lifted off one side of the slip and flew across to the other side, finally landing near the office door.

Gertrude Colwell
IRONTON -- Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude B. Colwell, 66, mother of Mrs. A.B. "Pete" Bennett, Ironton postmistress, were held at the Watson Funeral Home in East Jordan Nov. 11. The Rev. William Harmon, pastor of the Ironton Congregational church, officiated. Burial was in the Dunsmore cemetery in Echo township, Antrim county.

Mrs. Colwell died Nov. 8 at the Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for a week.

Born at Central Lake May 16, 1879, Gertrude Bradshaw was married to Mr. Colwell in 1900. They lived in Eastport, St. Helena, Ore., and in various northern Michigan communities as Mr. Colwell followed his work as a lumberman.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. A. B. (Mary) Bennett of Ironton; a sister, Mrs. Harriet Barber of Central Lake; 12 grandchildren; 48 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren. Two daughters, three sisters and two brothers also preceded her in death.

Council ok's Neff's bid to sell liquor

CHARLEVOIX -- City Council Monday evening approved Neff Brothers' application to the State Liquor Control Commission for a package liquor license.

This is considered a formality that they must go through in order to apply to the Liquor Control Commission. This is the third time in 15 years the council has approved the Neff Brothers application. Council also told City Supt.

Jim Taylor to grade the Hampton Village Rd. but that it is too late for blacktop this year.

A survey will be made of the alley in back of the Charlevoix County State Bank before a decision can be made on whether it should be made a one-way alley.

Mayor Fochtman has met with the township and presented the problem of ambulance service to them. As of yet there has been no solution to the situation.

Bills were read and approved in the amount of $34,030.74.

The car was pulled from the lake after skin diver Don Meglson, a skin diver secured a line to it.

Mike Cook, 18, of East Jordan escaped from the car and Cook was issued a ticket for reckless driving.

Road Commission meets obligations

THE WEEK AFTER the first snowstorm seems like a good time to say some things about the Charlevoix County Road Commission. Some nice things!

Like a bundle of other things, most of us have come to take the Road Commission and its snowplows for granted. We expect the roads to be plowed. And that's that.

BUT IS IT? How long ago was it when county roads were more treacherous through snow drifts the morning after a storm. If memory serves well, the first storm of the season was one of the worst. Equipment didn't work. Operators were out of practice.

Now we can rely on the road crews having their big plows smashing through the snow minutes after it starts. And their new equipment and, apparently, thorough training get the job done like we never used to dream possible.

Due to the nature of their work, road commissions generally operate well out of the public's view. Their work isn't dramatic. Few citizens can claim to be experts at road building or maintenance.

The result was that for decades Michigan's county road commissions were operated by notorious opportunists who knew how to squeeze every possible penny of personal profit out of public funds.

IT WAS ONLY a few years back that reporters found road commissions the most secretive government agencies on the local scene.

Not anymore. Charlevoix County Road Commission Chairman Ivan Phillips is almost begrudgingly open about all of the Commission's activities. Commission meetings are wide open to the press. If someone doesn't get the facts, Ivan is fast to snap that it wasn't because the Commission or its employees wouldn't provide them.

Recently the State released a public document criticizing the Commission's financial methods on three points: 1)

It paid its secretary lump sum travel expenses. 2) It paid the expenses for lunch at which several representatives from local industry were present, and 3) The Commission's lease-rental arrangement on its Ironton garage is illegal.

Phillips didn't hesitate a minute in calling the State on the carpet.

FIRST OF ALL, he almost snarled, the present Commission (Lew Sommerville of East Jordan, William G. Korthase Jr. of Boyne City and himself of Charlevoix) halted the lump sum travel payments several years ago.

And though Phillips admits the lunch might have been a legal mistake, he figures it paid big dividends for taxpayers. At the lunch, the Commission hosted representatives from Medusa, Medusa, he points out, had been stalling on meeting its commitments to restore the grade at its railroad crossing over the Elsworth Rd. near the Belvedere Golf Course and other road work connected with its new plant. An agreement, saving taxpayers thousands of dollars, was worked out over the lunch table.

And, third, Phillips says the Road Commission has an attorney's opinion that its arrangement to pay for the Ironton garage through a rental agreement is legal. Until the State proves the Commission's attorney wrong, Phillips figures somebody in Lansing will get just about as far as riding the Ironton Ferry 24 hours a day as they will telling the Commission it can't do what it is doing.

This isn't to suggest the Commission makes fewer mistakes than any of the rest of us. But it is to say we're pretty well convinced it tries as hard as anyone to do its job right.

(We do, though, seriously question Phillips' judgement on one score. He insists a bridge must ultimately be built to span the Ironton Gap. We sort of favor Pete Bennett's plan to make it a tunnel.)

Newspapers improve when freed of printing woes

SEN. PHILIP HART has been holding hearings in Washington on a problem that has again come to roost in Charlevoix County.

The Michigan Democrat's anti-trust subcommittee has been digging into reasons why many American newspapers have found it necessary to merge their printing operations while editorial and advertising staffs remained competitive.

THE SENATOR, being something of a tiger when it comes to monopoly-busting, has discovered that many newspapers find it impossible to survive if they must foot the entire bill for modern printing equipment and high labor costs. Because presses are used for only brief periods, there is no reason several papers can't be printed on the same machinery.

By keeping the presses rolling for several newspapers, many publishers who would have closed shop have been able to survive.

Though Sen. Hart is primarily interested in big city newspapers, these "central plant" operations--as we call them--have resulted in the biggest revolution in community newspaper history.

Traditionally smalltown newspapers have been run by printers. This was natural as the biggest investment in a newspaper was its equipment. Publishers were tied to their equipment, so of course that's where their primary interest was.

With the shackles of printing equipment debts off their shoulders, smalltown publishers are becoming a new breed: Professional journalists are replacing journeymen printers in the editor's desk.

The Courier learned this lesson in 1963. Since October of that year it has been printed on a rival newspaper's presses. Charlevoixians will generally agree the community has benefited.

The East Jordan newspaper has now followed the same path. We hope it will be as successful for its youthful young editor and his father--Gregg Smith junior and senior--as it has been for Charlevoix.

Reader protests protests

Dear Editor,

Once upon a Wednesday dreary I woke in mood not too cheery. Wondering what I might perchance find To keep me from becoming bored. Suddenly I did remember

On this grim morning in November The Courier was out And so the newswoman I walked toward,

Back to the house with step much lighter Journal in hand and mood much brighter Expecting fully to enjoy

My coffee and my "weekly" news. The front page first I planned to scan My glance over the second then I ran And so on to the final pages

The entire paper I did peruse. Alas! my mood was not uplifted As the weekly news I sifted And my mood became so sullen

As the paper did "sullen" I read. As I threw aside the pages Which often send me into rages

My fate most not more pronounced I simply could not seem to shed. "Methinks Medusa" he does write "Air pollution, grime, and blight

Crowded schools and extra classes Skies that fill with smoke's output. When will we ever, I ask myself, be free

Of this endless, pointless labor?" "Grieveless, 'NEVERMORE'" Rosemary G. Horton Charlevoix

Chris's Mom finds warmth in Fem-levity

Dear Editor,

My friend in Charlevoix sent us the article Grace Ann McDaniel wrote (Fem-levity, Oct. 4) on Chris. I read it and I cried when she read it because it was so typical of Chris.

She then sent it on to us, knowing we would want it. It was sincere and very heart-warming. We both appreciate it very much. So glad we didn't miss it.

Please write your representative Robert Davis and your senator Thomas Schwedger at the Capitol, Lansing, Mich., and urge them to vote for one of the proposed therapeutic abortion bills up before the legislature, supported by the following groups: the Metropolitan Council of Churches, Y.M.C.A., Michigan Medical Society, State Bar Association,

Edith W. Gilbert Charlevoix

Puzzler

Credit goes to the Charlevoix High School paper, the Crimson Flash, for the following brain teaser:

Two men start walking towards each other from two points ten miles distant. One man walks at the rate of six miles an hour and the other at the rate of four miles an hour. A bee leaves the nose of the first man as he starts, and flies back and forth between the two men at the rate of 25 mph. When the two men meet, how far has the bee flown.

Answer: Since the bee flies for one hour at 25 mph, the distance is 25 miles covered.

Coho Debate Political

by GLEN SHEPPARD

Coho-craved area anglers and businessmen may never know if it is politics or good judgment on the part of the biologists that squelched a plan to have Charlevoix County rear its own salmon.

The only thing that seems certain is that East Jordan, Boyne City and Charlevoix were all set to put up the money to raise salmon and the Conservation Dept., unexpectedly did a complete turn-around by flatly and arbitrarily refusing to supply the eggs.

ANOTHER THING that's for sure is that the department had millions of salmon eggs it cannot and will not be using.

The question that cannot be answered is why the department refused to come through with the eggs.

Earlier reports told local people to believe the department would give surplus eggs to communities that showed the interest and resources to properly use them. Even State Sen. Thomas Schwedger of Petoskey says he had this impression.

Comment

Dr. Howard Tanner, father of the state coho program, told the Courier, in so uncertain terms, that local communities such as those in Charlevoix County could rear their own coho by building inexpensive hatcheries or contracting with private trout pond operators.

DR. TANNER SAID coho-raising required only a moderate amount of specialized equipment and technical expertise. He recommended that local communities call on state fisheries biologists to provide the technical information and that the Conservation Dept. determine where and when the fish should be planted.

It was Dr. Tanner's enthusiasm and confidence that salmon can be raised by local communities that got the three Charlevoix County towns cooperating (which in itself was a rather historic achievement).

Dr. Tanner and the local communities reasoned that the State does not have the hatcheries to do the job so local efforts should be made to assist in getting the "coho gold" distributed.

The Conservation Dept., of course, has been crying to the Legislature that it must have $14 million to $20 million to build hatcheries to meet the demand for salmon.

THE SUCCESS THIS fall of the coho runs in the Manistee-Frankfort area, quite naturally, won the department support from hundreds of thousands of sportsmen and businessmen. All of this support is being turned against the Legislature if it doesn't come up with more money for the department.

So, if local communities go to the aid of many besides Charlevoix County were interested--and did the job the department says it needs millions of dollars to handle, the department would no longer have a powerful hammer to use on the Legislature.

This conclusion assumes that the department is more interested in furthering its bureaucracy than it is in doing its job. Such a conclusion may be unfair.

At the insistence of Sen. Schwedger, Conservation Dept. Deputy Director Chuck Harris outlined the department's position to the Courier.

HARRIS, who is in charge of all activities of the fish and game division, said the department decided not to let local communities have eggs because:

--The program "is very, very new to us" and it is important that "we keep strict control of it."

--This fall's experience with snappers and other violators on the Plateau and other rivers caused a "horrible" enforcement problem that could be repeated on the Jordan River;

--THERE IS FEAR that diseases may develop in fish reared by local communities;

--The coho program is so new, and there are so many unanswered questions that the department feels it can't afford any loose ends until it has the answers.

Hopelily, the Conservation Dept. will come up with more convincing answers which will make it possible for reasonable, fair-minded men to quit suspecting its motives are strictly political.

From which observers are almost bound to conclude the political heat was turned on Dr. Tanner and he was forced to back off before the Conservation Dept. lost its chance to land a multi-million-dollar plum.

Hopefully, the Conservation Dept. will come up with more convincing answers which will make it possible for reasonable, fair-minded men to quit suspecting its motives are strictly political.

THIS IS WHAT Bridge St. looked like in downtown Charlevoix last weekend when the city turned on its new 1,000 watt lights.

Deadline nearing for E. Jordan school merger

EAST JORDAN -- Officials here are becoming concerned about the failure of Boyne City's Board of Education to commit itself on school merger proposals.

With some 200 children scattered around town in makeshift classrooms, the East Jordan school board has to make a decision on what direction it will take to expand school facilities.

THOUGH NO FORMAL deadline has been set, Supt. Max Damoth says feeling is that the board must have a completely planned school building program ready to present to voters by spring if new classrooms are going to be ready in September 1969.

This means architects and engineers must start work in the next couple months.

The board's citizens committee last spring recommended that the school district attempt to merge with another district (logically Boyne City). The recommendation was made after the committee met with professional consultants and attempted to thoroughly study all possible alternatives.

The East Jordan board immediately began acting on the committee's recommendation by getting together with the Boyne City board. A couple meetings were held. The last one in August.

A consulting firm was called in to come up with two alternative plans and costs:

1) CONSTRUCTION OF A new high school, probably midway between the two communities to serve both. This plan also included remodeling and improvement of existing schools to better serve elementary and junior high students.

2) Remodeling and expanding both the Boyne City and East Jordan schools to meet the needs of students if there is no merger.

The consultant came through with cost figures, which have not been officially released. But, it is understood constructing a high school for Boyne City and East Jordan will cost between $2 million and $3 million. Added to this is the cost of improving existing schools for elementary and junior high students.

If East Jordan ends up retaining its independence as a school district, the cost of expansion and remodeling will almost assuredly exceed a million dollars.

THE COMMITTEE's merger proposal was primarily aimed at providing a broader curriculum and getting maximum use of each teacher's specialty.

Since the cost figures were presented by the consultant the East Jordan board hasn't heard from the Boyne City board, Damoth points out.

With the hour growing late, Damoth said he would "hate to close the door to a merger that might give our kids a better education, in fact," he added, "I'd even prefer to go in another direction," with one or more of our other neighbors.

Damoth said he feels the East Jordan board will veto a merger possibility only after making every possible effort to affect one. "We'll decide to go alone only if a merger doesn't materialize," he said.

IF EAST JORDAN is forced to go ahead alone with a building program, Damoth said it will "eliminate the possibility of a merger for a long time," because the district will have considerable money sunk into new school buildings to meet its own needs.

Unless Boyne City moves positively within the next few weeks there appears to be no alternative for East Jordan but to carry on as a community school district.

With the wealthiest tax base of any Class C school in this area of Michigan, Charlevoix has shown no positive interest in merging with other districts.

However, Damoth isn't ruling out a Charlevoix-East Jordan consolidation. Charlevoix, he pointed out, is faced with expanding its high school, which might make it interested in joining forces with East Jordan. "If it got to thinking about it,"

CHARLEVOIX WOULD have to do its "thinking" mighty pronto, though, for it to produce any results.

Damoth said, "I'd prefer we were ready to make a decision tomorrow," but adds, "we can't!"

DOUG CHISOLM, right, didn't have buck fever when he dropped this trophy opening afternoon at Open Gate Resort. The guys who did miss their chance due to buck fever were inside the Town House Lounge gawking at the deer slayers' log, on which Sili Weisick, left, is keeping a running record of successful hunts. Here Weisick officially weighs Chisolm's 163-pound, nine-point prize, a service the Town House will continue through deer season.

Deer kill slumps along lake shore

Deer hunting is running "about normal" in all areas of Charlevoix County except the strip near the Lake Michigan shore, according to reports from Conservation Dept. officials.

Officers report the deer kill and number of hunters is down in the townships immediately along the lake shore from southern Emmet County, through Charlevoix County and into Antrim County.

THE DROP in deer kill along the lake, they report, may be due to nothing more than there being less hunter pressure in the area.

Just how far down the kill is could not be determined during the first four days of the season, which opened Saturday, Conservation Officers said.

On Beaver Island an estimated 300 hunters were reported taking "slightly fewer" deer than during the same period last year. Game biologists also estimated there are fewer hunters on the island than during the first few days of the season last year.

In the western and central areas of Charlevoix County, both deer kill and hunter pressure was reported normal. The kill was also reported good in the Jordan Valley, where hunters had tracking snow Sunday and Monday. Several trophy size bucks were reported killed in Jordan Valley swamps.

FEWER HUNTERS are working the lake shore area because the deer season has been lifted from the area, Conservation Officer Julius O'Brien said. Only the western section of Charlevoix County has legal deer shooting this year.

Beaver Island hunters are taking a higher ratio of bucks to does than last year. Biologist Jerry Dawendick reported 27 deer killed the first three days. Of these 33 were bucks and 24 does.

Rev. Fr. Francis E. Denay of St. Mary's Catholic Church will deliver the Thanksgiving message. Other pastors participating are Rev. Lawrence Tenhagen of the Congregational Church, Rev. William Harmon of the Ironton Congregational Church, Rev. George Majors of the Community Church of God and Rev. Jack Harris of the First Baptist Church.

ALL FAITHS EXCEPT the Episcopal Church, Community Reformed Church and Bible Baptist are taking part in the traditional union Thanksgiving service.

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Ministerial Association, the service is thought to mark the first time in Charlevoix history that Catholic and Protestant faiths have joined under one roof for community worship.

Girl cagers take on boys

CHARLEVOIX -- The basketball season here starts Saturday, Nov. 25 with a girl-boy contest in the high school gym.

Rayder Coach Don Carey reports the all-girl Shooting Stars professional basketball team will clash on the gym floor with a team of former Charlevoix High School varsity cage stars and high school teachers.

THE SHOOTING Stars feature a six-foot tall player and other professionals who mix quality basketball with comedy, Carey explained.

Proceeds from the unique exhibition will be used by the Varsity Club to build a fence around the school's athletic field. Tickets costing $1 for students and $1.25 for adults can be purchased at either of Charlevoix's two drug stores. Tickets will cost a quarter more at the gate.

Salmon 'wiped out' by hoodlums

CHARLEVOIX--A handful of Charlevoix area people should be sulking with their illegally obtained horde of coho salmon, Conservation Officer Harley Burris reports.

According to Burris, unknown persons literally wiped out Charlevoix's chances of having any natural reproduction of coho salmon in area creeks. Burris said someone illegally snagged, clubbed or netted just about every salmon that ran up Wood, Inwood and Susan creeks.

The overkill salmon, Burris said, disappeared less than 24 hours after they entered the creeks.

At least 30 salmon ran into Wood Creek, near Camp Charlevoix, he said. The next day only two were left. The same thing happened in Susan and Inwood creeks.

Burris didn't have a chance to check other area creeks, but suspects the "hoodlums" who killed off all prospects of future salmon runs in Susan, Inwood and Wood did the same thing in all of the small streams feeding into Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix near Charlevoix.

Burris said Charlevoix was the only area in the county where the coho runs turned into "hoodlum places" for violators. In Boyne Falls, Boyne City and East Jordan, he said, people were apparently more interested in the long-range public question in selflessly filling their own freezers with illegal fish.

The unexpected run of coho into all area streams was so short and widespread that Burris said Conservation Officers were unable to nab violators.

Coho making the runs were mature fish planted in 1966 further down the lake shore. Conservation officials say they failed to return to the streams where planted due to not being in the original streams long enough.

Court orders tax levy

Ellsworth collects 12 mills

ELLSWORTH -- Circuit Judge Charles Brown has ordered Antrim County to collect the disputed 12-mill Ellsworth school tax.

The Antrim County Board of Supervisors, acting on citizen complaints, had refused to levy the 12-mill operating tax that was voted in August.

Brown's decision, reversing the county board's stand, came following a hearing in the Court House in Bellaire. The Ellsworth school board, through its attorney Richard Zarfa of Elk Rapids, demanded the court hearing.

DESPITE THE LATE hour of the decision, Mrs. Nancy Folker, deputy county clerk, reports tax bills will go out no more than a couple days after the usual Dec. 1 mailing date. No work had been done on preparing tax bills for the Ellsworth School District until the judge's decision was final, she said.

Without the 12 mills the district would have been approximately $45,000 short of its operating budget. State law against operating a school district in the red could have forced the district to close down.

The millage was voted Aug. 7, with 255 voters favoring it to 153 opposing.

Judge Brown stated in his order reversing the county board's action:

That the "millage was duly voted on and passed... that no petition for a recount or for quo warrant proceedings was filed pursuant to the time permitted by statute challenging the validity of the township school board election... and that no fraud was charged by any person or any proceedings filed in this cause and that the defects and irregularities alleged are minor and at most, procedural and administrative and not jurisdictionally defective by any decision of any judicial tribunal of this state."

Jurgensen reports the school spent $1,000 in attorney fees to fight the case. This deprived students of badly needed new library books and other materials that are seriously needed, he said.

Charlevoix's building spurt continues to lead all areas

CHARLEVOIX--There is no sign of Charlevoix's home building boom tapering off. Permits for six more new homes have been by the city issued since Sept. 28, bringing the total so far this year to 22.

The community's continuing economic vigor cannot be explained by the opening of Medusa's new plant, observers say.

Adding last year's $300,236 in new home building (21 houses) to the $422,000 in new homes authorized so far this year, the city has issued $722,236 in new-home building permits in less than two years.

Also since Sept. 28, the city has authorized six home improvement projects, having an estimated value of $6,050. This brings the total for home improvements so far this year to $66,035.

The six new-house permits issued since Sept. 28 went to:

Earl A. Young, Thistle Downs, $40,000; Earl Young, Thistle Downs, $40,000; a guest house; Charles Elzinga, 1206 State, $22,000; Bethany Lutheran Church, 111 E. Dixon, $20,000; a new rectory; Hubert Padlock, 307 Meach, $21,000, and Agnes Lombard, 200 E. Upright, $14,000.

A mobile home permit was issued Nov. 8 to Don Hall, 310 Garfield.

Farmers benefit from wetter growing season

Charlevoix County farmers are closing out one of their best growing seasons in years, but cooperation from the weather didn't put any extra cash in their accounts, according to county extension agent Ed Helman.

With the last of the corn now being harvested, Helman said farmers this year reaped one of their largest corn and oat yields in 20 years.

FARMERS WHO planted grain for feed should have plenty for their herds this winter, Helman said.

This is in sharp contrast to last year, when, due to extended drought, area farmers started buying feed grain and using

Knot tying can be deadly hobby

EAST JORDAN -- On Nov. 15 Steven Kraemer, N. Maple St., was practicing tying Boy Scout knots with his brothers and sisters when he became tangled and began to choke.

The East Jordan yellow fever "quail" and the resuscitator went. He was examined by Dr. VanBillion and Dr. John Savory, who found his condition normal after treatment.

The Community Chest is still hoping people will bring donations.

NOV

E-J short goal

EAST JORDAN -- The East Jordan Community Chest, which started its official drive Oct. 11, is still $1,400 short of its goal of $7,000, according to Mrs. Richard Hamrick, chairman.

The Community Chest is still hoping people will bring donations.

City still working to obtain ambulance

CHARLEVOIX--There is still no ambulance in Charlevoix.

Mayor Bill Fochtman reports Charlevoix and Marion townships have agreed to participate in paying a "fair share" of the $250 monthly subsidy demanded by the Petoskey Ambulance Service to station an ambulance here.

Fochtman said he is waiting to hear from Hayes Township on whether it will contribute.

IT HAS NOT been determined how much each township will pay. Fochtman said it will be between $20 and $50 a month.

If Jim Schols, who owns the Petoskey ambulance firm, stations a vehicle here it will have to be driven by off-duty policemen, Fochtman said. Arrangements for drivers have yet to be worked out, he said.

Property deal ends in court

CHARLEVOIX -- A suit in the amount of $10,000 has been started in Circuit Court by Jack Brooks, against David and Gloria Cook.

Brooks claims that on Sept. 27, 1965 David and Gloria Cook contracted to buy $4,580 of furniture and carpet worth $973.34 and bedding worth $1,175.25 from him.

Then the Cooks supposedly agreed to sell Mr. Brooks a parcel of land but failed to include the name of Mrs. Cook on the warranty deed and have failed to provide proof of ownership.

Lawrence and Barbara Jewell demanded a jury trial. No date has been set.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Howard had the 11 Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday. Those attending were her son, Paul McWeeney and friend, Richard Garrott from Pontiac who were also over hunting in the area. Also Bud Ryder who is just home from Vietnam.

Odell Weid of Detroit is visiting with his sister, Mrs. Mamie Gregory in Charlevoix and brother, Percy who is a patient at Grandview Hospital.

Mr. Mabel Gillespie and daughter have gone to Levering to spend the winter with her daughter and family, Mrs. Roberta Ketter.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLean of Taylor's Cabins left recently for Arizona and California for the winter months.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hypothesis", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Happiness is 4 boys with their own pony

CHARLEVOIX — What would four boys do if they owned a pony? They would jump for joy, to begin with.

Well, four young boys in Charlevoix are just about the happiest and luckiest of youngsters. They were surprised by Stanley Floyd of Beaver Island who gave them a solid black pony.

Floyd is a good friend of the boys and he wanted to give them something they would remember. He decided on a pony.

The pony is five years old. It is called Blackie.

Blackie is being pastured at the Robert Daugherty home on Norwood Rd. Floyd caused something of a stir by shipping it over on the Beaver Islander.

The boys, who each own one-quarter of the pony, are Ronnie McDonough, 9, Tom Keie, 12, Joe Moore, 9, and Clyde Left, 9. So far they've gone out to see and ride him every day.

Library notes

CHARLEVOIX — Beginning Saturday Nov. 25 the Public Library will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday afternoons.

The second pre-school children's story hour will be at 10 a.m. Friday Dec. 1.

Charlevoix and other Michigan public libraries serving populations between 3,000 and 5,000 are benefiting from a three-year program to improve reference collections. This program is financed by the McGregor Fund of Detroit and is administered by the Michigan State Library.

Charlevoix Public Library is one of those selected to receive a McGregor Fund grant. Participating libraries may purchase reference books from a selected list, and receive approximately $550 a year for three years, for this purpose. The grant also provides for sending a staff representative from each participating library to a week-long workshop on the use of the new reference books.

The McGregor Fund was established in 1925 by Tracy W. McGregor and his wife, the former Katherine Whitney, to "relieve the misfortune and promote the well-being of mankind." Tracy McGregor died in 1936, but the foundation continues to carry on the work to which he devoted his life.

A few of the 51 reference books which have been purchased for the Charlevoix Library with McGregor Fund money are: Webster's Third New International Dictionary,

Hoskins' workers make world's smallest wire

PUTTING HOSKINS' space suit wire yarn on spools are Mrs. Mary Wertman and Mrs. Mary Hamilton. After it is spooled the yarn is sent to another firm which makes it into cloth. Still another firm sews it into space suits for the United States' Apollo program.

Dare not touch fine wire

CHARLEVOIX-The world's finest known metal wire is being produced at Hoskins Mfg. in Charlevoix for the United States' Apollo (man-on-the-moon) space program.

The finished product is a fine wire that is not touched as it runs at high speed through various machine processes.

THE RAW product is a large diameter (one-thirty-second of an inch) wire made of a special Hoskins-developed alloy. This "heavy" wire is threaded through hundreds of small dies that progressively "re-size" it to its smaller size.

The pictures here show some of the intricate operations.

THREADING METAL wire so thin it is hard to see or feel takes skills and patience developed by Mrs. Evelyn Selph during five years experience at Hoskins.

DUAL PURPOSE UNIFORMS

CONCERT UNIFORM

By simply removing the white overlay, the marching uniform is transformed into a formal concert dress. Functional as well as practical.

The best band in the land, The Charlevoix High School Band, needs your help right now. Uniforms that our band are now using are beyond salvage. They must be replaced. They've been in use for as long as 20 years.

New uniforms have been ordered. They will be delivered in January. Half of the total cost must be paid upon delivery. A total of 109 uniforms are needed.

$94.18 X 109 = $10,265.62 NET PRICE

YOUR CONTRIBUTION IS NEEDED

A cash contribution of any amount will show your interest in your hometown band. Contributions are tax deductible. Use the handy coupon at the bottom of this ad when making your donation. Members of the Charlevoix Band will appreciate your gift for years to come.

Lumberjack has 89th birthday

CHARLEVOIX -- Amos Towles celebrated his 89th birthday Nov. 20. Towles was born Nov. 20, 1878 at Wallaceburg, Ontario, then moved to Central Lake in 1900 as a lumberjack. On May 3, 1905 he married the former Harriet Murphy of Echo Township.

Until moving to Charlevoix in 1923, Towles farmed 40 acres in Antrim County during the summer and worked in the woods in the winter.

The Towles live at 1026 May St. They have two sons, Gordon and Harold, 9 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren. A son, Carl, died in 1956.

Students seek funds for yearbook

ELLSWORTH -- The Journalism Class of Ellsworth High School is trying to raise funds for a larger and better yearbook, the Charger. They are going to sponsor three dances after basketball games and are selling charms with the year, the school initials and colors on them and bracelets, necklaces, pinettes and key chains.

The yearbook sells for $2.75, and the charms sell for $3.25 and $3.50.

Churches plan joint service in E. Jordan

EAST JORDAN -- On Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, the Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Church will hold a combined service at 9:30 a.m.

Rev. Daniel Art of the Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermon. Rev. Stanley Hayes of the Methodist Church will assist.

School agrees on lobbyist plan

EAST JORDAN -- The school board had decided to participate in a plan to hire a legislative representative to lobby for the interests of Northern Michigan schools in Lansing. Several other area schools have approved the plans.

According to Supt. Max Damuth, East Jordan's participation in the program will cost $25,000. Based on a formula of $25 plus three cents for every student enrolled as of the fourth Friday of September.

The study hall which was burned is being cleaned and is being used. Completion of repairs depends on the availability of a new window to replace one broken during the fire.

Members of the Board:

We, your Sheriff's Committee having this day informed you, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, of the Sheriff's report, compared to other departments of the County do request of the Board your approval of wage increases for the Sheriff, Undersheriff, Deputy Sheriff, Turnkey and Dog Warden in the amount of $500.00 per man per year effective January 1, 1968.

It is contemplated by the Committee that by conservative spending, the budgeted amount of funds established by the Finance Committee for this department can be adhered to and still grant this deserved wage increase.

Respectfully submitted, Arthur Speltz, Barney Miltstein, Wayne Saunders, L. Lee Moerland, John Howard, Edward Lick, Thorakotowich, Mel E. Meyer, Kit Carson.

Motion was made by Speltz and supported by Miltstein that the wage increase be given. The roll was called; 23 voted yes, 1 voted no, and 1 was absent. Motion carried.

RESOLUTION: I do hereby certify that at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors held on October 12, 1967, Harry Potter was appointed delegate and Fenton R. Bulow alternate to represent the County of Charlevoix at the annual meeting of the Municipal Employees' Retirement System to be held on Wednesday, October 18, 1967. Also, the employees, by secret ballot, selected Jeannette L. Cunningham as delegate and Ruth H. Bulow as alternate to represent the employees at the annual meeting.

Signed Fenton R. Bulow, County Clerk. Respectfully submitted, Lloyd McDonough, Thorakotowich, Mel Meyer, Edward Lick, John Howard, Kit Carson.

The motion was made by Kotowich and supported by Totten that the resolution be approved. Motion carried.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, OCTOBER 12, 1967. ADVERTISING COMMITTEE. To the Honorable Board of Supervisors Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Members of the Board:

We, the Advertising Committee, request the Board to appropriate the sum of $9,200.00 for advertising for the year 1968, same being for: Membership and Advertising in CAREFREE DAYS (Full Page) $800.00, County Brochures 750.00, Printing of Color Tour Guides 600.00, Miscellaneous Advertising 500.00, Total $2,650.00.

Dated October 12, 1967. Respectfully submitted, Mel E. Meyer, Edward Lick, Lloyd McDonough, John Howard, Thorakotowich.

The motion was made by Meyer and supported by McDonough that the report be accepted. The motion was amended by Totten and supported by Cunningham that the amount of appropriation be reduced to $10,000.00 for 1968. The roll call was taken on the amendment with all Supervisors voting yes except Lick, Matthew, McDonough, Meyer, Taylor, Kotowich and Miltstein, 18 yes and 7 no. Motion carried as amended.

Editorials

A review of grid season rewarding

REVIEWING THE football season has sort of lost its popularity. But seeing as editorial writer's aren't supposed to be popular, why should they write only about things that are currently vogue? And, besides, there are a few pertinent things we figure oughta be pondered.

First off, our reaction when we saw Charlevoix only had one player-- Les Cross--named to the first string All-Conference team was anything but complimentary to the coaches picking the players. Our immediate reaction was to grumble. Charlevoix led the league right up to the last minute, and then ended in a three-way tie for tops with Boyne City and Gaylord. Yet both Boyne City and Gaylord had more players on the all-star squad.

It just didn't seem right, somehow.

THEN, IN A SOMEWHAT more reflective mood, we doped out that this is really more of an honor for the Charlevoix lads and their mentor Don Caroy.

Evidently, the Rayder organization was truly an organization. It won because it was "everybody"...not just three or four players of starring caliber. As much as sports fans like to talk about and read about stars, parents must certainly feel a good deal prouder when they realize Charlevoix's athletic program is producing men who are eager to earn their honors as part of a winning team instead of seeking individual headlines.

We've long been inspired by

Time for Ellsworth talks

WITH CHARLEVOIX and East Jordan both moving toward expansion of their high schools and Ellsworth embroiled in a seemingly hopeless debate about the future of its high school, the time has come for the three neighbors to act like neighbors.

Even Ellsworth's most die-hard advocates of the status quo privately admit they will someday have to offer their high school students the broader educational opportunities provided by larger schools.

TO BLINDLY REFUSE to face the inevitable until it is forced on them is irresponsible. The time to act is now. The way to act is by honestly confronting the question of what is best for students...not what is best for a few businessmen and civic leaders.

the caliber of Charlevoix High's coaching and its teams. This year we, maybe, feel a bit prouder than ever.

This fall we had our first look at East Jordan's new coach Duane Thomson. And we weren't the only ones impressed. Other coaches in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference circuit are also predicting East Jordan will soon be back in the contender's circle.

THE TRICK FOR Jordanites is to hold onto Thomson until he has a chance to prove his stuff. There's no doubting East Jordan can field boys who have the drive and skill to be winners. But before this happens Thomson is going to have to have a few years to build a program.

The big surprise of the season, of course, was Ellsworth. Under their new head coach Dave (Patch) Patchkowski, the Lancers didn't lose a round. After entering the season as underdogs to Bellaire and Central Lake, they rolled over every foe in sight.

It's fair to say the Lancers couldn't have done it without their fireball of a new coach. But you can't, fairly, say that without adding that the kids from tiny Ellsworth are first-class young men, no matter how you weigh such things. There isn't a one of Ellsworth's top players who wouldn't be valued on any field in the "big school" Class C conference.

It was a great season, all around. Anyone who has any complaints had better review their own perspective.

Heavy foot answer to survival in big city

by Grace Ann McDaniels

It had been a long time since I visited a big city. When I heard we would be spending some time in one I wished there were "how to act" lessons available somewhere. As it was, I learned "do it yourself" style and it all started on the freeway.

Aggressiveness is what it takes to survive and that meant a heavy foot on the gas pedal. I learned to make split second glances to the rear, and timed the amber lights so I zoomed through leaving the masses behind.

How this should be done is not of special concern to us. We're not sold on a straight merger that would abolish Ellsworth as a school district. We're more inclined to favor something that will let Ellsworth send its older kids to a better high school while it maintains control over its fortunes.

The point is that the three boards should sit down like intelligent, unselfish leaders and come up with some long range answers NOW!

Band needs more of your help

MORE ACTIVE support is urgently needed by the Charlevoix Band Boosters Club in its effort to raise $10,000 for new uniforms. Attendance at recent club meetings have been shamefully poor.

The 15-year-old uniforms--after hundreds of concerts and marching performances in wet, cold and, sometimes, sunny weather--have become tattered and threadbare. Their condition has deteriorated so much that many of us are actually embarrassed to have other people see a band that has been rated one of the best in the state wearing them.

Even small individual donations will, of course, help. But, also, it is important that we give our support to the Band Boosters not only in word, but in deed.

CHARLEVOIX'S YACHT basin is one of the most beautiful and most used in the upper Great Lakes. But now it is time to make facilities available for the growing horde of small boats.

Notes error in report

Dear Editor:

I am writing regarding your recent article about the Ebenezer school at Ellsworth. Though I am heartily in accord with most of the article there are some misstatements that need correction.

You stated, "The school is supported by the Christian Reformed Churches of Ellsworth and Afton and by the Afton Reformed Church." The latter church does not sponsor or support said school and, to my knowledge, only two families in the Afton Reformed Church are active in its support. Also no collection or offering has ever been taken in the Afton Reformed Church for the Ebenezer school. I believe there are some people who would like to know of this correction.

Dear Editor:

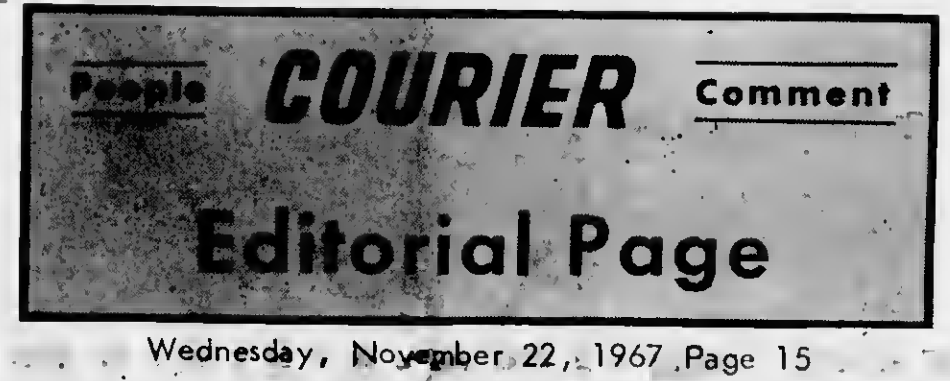

I am writing to thank the Charlevoix Courier for sending it to me while I've been in the Army. I'm stationed in Thailand and it sure is nice to get the hometown paper and read what all is happening around home.

I've been in the Army 15 months and in nine months more I'll be back in Charlevoix the Beautiful. I'm just counting the days until then so I can be with my family and friends again.

Well thank you again for sending me the Courier. Bye

Heavy foot answer to survival in big city

by Grace Ann McDaniels

It had been a long time since I visited a big city. When I heard we would be spending some time in one I wished there were "how to act" lessons available somewhere. As it was, I learned "do it yourself" style and it all started on the freeway.

necessary if we wanted to get back into our own house.

It took a few rides before I was reassured that a person cannot get caught in and swallowed up by an escalator.

When a shoplifter ran past, attempting to stuff half a dozen ladies slips inside his coat, I knew I'd have to spend more time in the city before I could overcome my surprise reactions. The last I saw of him, he was still running with three feet of red ruffles flapping around his ankles. I closed my mouth again and tried to forget it.

I got home just before feelings of self-pity set in. My closet, with no mini skirts or thigh high boots, was beginning to look like Eighteenth century. The popular Cleopatra eyes didn't appeal to me much, but I am going to try to make a deal with John Cross. Those fish net stockings kinda got to me.

Nov. 18, 1787, was our first national Thanksgiving Day, ordained by the act of the Continental Congress and proclaimed by George Washington. The day was set apart, in the words of the resolution, to express gratitude that God had been pleased to "smile on us in the prosecution of a just and necessary war for the defense and establishment of our unalienable rights and liberty."

The constitution had just been adopted, and before the act of setting aside this day of thanksgiving had been finally passed there had been discussion in

My one uncle used to get two plates and he could take his dessert along with the meal so he would be sure to get a piece of mom's cherry pie. It was pretty rough for him sometimes cause my other uncles and grandpa would hide the pie while he was gone. I had many a good laugh about my uncle, and the cherry pie.

We had the heaviest laden table for blocks around.

City should meet small boat slip need

by GLEN SHEPPARD

It may not happen next summer, but some spring the city is going to pull a set of plans from its files and authorize construction of 13 more yacht slips.

Someday, that is, unless better sense prevails. Draining more money from the city funds to provide dockage for luxury yachts would be a colossal mistake at this time, Charlevoix should, instead, be breaking its neck to build dockage for smaller boats--say 14 to 24 footers, with emphasis on 16 to 19 footers.

WHY? BECAUSE that's the size boat most working Charlevoixians own and visitors with this size boat will spend far more money with more people here than do wealthy yachtmen.

As things stand, Charlevoix has built all of its harbor facilities for non-Charlevoixians. This is especially galling. After all, it is the people who live here year-round who keep the town alive, spend virtually all of their pay check in town, dutifully fork over their taxes and elect the people who spend their tax money.

It doesn't take long to puncture the claim that rich yachtmen are a vital part of our economy. A short walk up and down Bridge St. talking to businessmen who are permanent residents reveals that darn few of them do much business with yachtmen.

This, however, isn't to suggest that we don't welcome yachtmen. Their boats are welcome summer visitors, especially because they stop thousands of tourists who do spend lots of money here. (And, besides, most of us like to gaze at them and dream about far away Isles we'd visit if dad or granddad had left us a fortune.)

THIS DEPARTMENT'S beef is over the plan to turn up the undeveloped portion of the city's Round Lake frontage with 13 more yacht slips. If more big boat docks are needed, let the marinas, which make the most money from them, worry about it.

The city should, instead, figure on creating dockage for 100, or more, small boats in the area from Clinton St. to the Sandew dock. Experience downstate should show everyone that steelhead and coho fishing is going to mean a multi-million dollar business for the area--if we have the dockage and launching ramps for small boats. And, at least as important, several

Comment

BOYNE CITY and East Jordan are in the same boat as Charlevoix with dockage they do have is best suited for luxury cruisers. It may make sense for a community with no sheltered inland waters to limit its waterfront to big boat slips. But for the three towns on Lake Charlevoix it is a crippling decision.

How you get dockage for a hundred or more boats in the Clinton St. to Sandew area isn't this department's problem. Engineers can figure it out. Doubtless should visit Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair marinas. Down in those parts they've really learned how to use valuable harbor space.

It could be an engineer would recommend building small boat dockage near the city's Ferry Ave. launching ramps instead of in Round Lake. This possibility has been discussed. Some people find it more palatable than "degrading" Round Lake's dazzling yacht basin with working men's boats.

It seems highly improbable the City Council will buy such an impractical scheme when it considers the cost of building another restroom building and doubled administration and service costs.

Because small boat owners do not want anyone to cater to them or put their dog on for them, it is likely the city could triple the number of boats in the harbor area without adding more manpower to the payroll.

State moves 750,000 coho eggs to hatchery here

CHARLEVOIX--They tried to convince her she was worn out and too old-fashioned to be of further service.

But she wouldn't take it. So they are raising fish again in the Charlevoix Hatchery.

THE CONSERVATION Dept. Monday moved 750,000 coho salmon eggs into the hatchery. The eggs came from Wolf Lake fish hatchery near Kalamazoo. They were moved here because the hatchery there was overloaded.

For several years hatchery experts, both federal and state, have said the Charlevoix hatchery was no longer of use as a hatchery due to its limited and non-automated facilities.

Coming to the rescue of Lake Michigan's fish population is the Charlevoix hatchery's life story. Back at the turn of the century the federal government created the hatchery when it started experimenting with the idea of collecting lake trout eggs from commercial fishermen and rearing them to planting size.

For decades Charlevoix and Beaver Island commercial fishermen turned over millions of trout eggs to be hatched at Charlevoix.

WHEN THE TROUT disappeared the hatchery, like all of the Lake Michigan fisheries program and commercial fishermen, went into a state of semi-limbo. About eight years ago, when it became apparent the sea lamprey was going to be beaten, officials again turned to the Charlevoix hatchery. For a while it was the only facility available for raising trout.

When the giant, automated Jordan River hatchery was opened five years ago, the hatchery, state officials explained, would be used as the base for a new boat, office and storage. Fish, they said, would not be raised here.

Three weeks ago the picture changed, again. The state's unexpected success in collecting 8,000 salmon eggs left it with the choice of either ditching about 650,000 eggs or turning the water on in the hatchery from the federal government and use it as a headquarters for a new Great Lakes fish research and management station. The hatchery, state officials explained, would be used as the base for a new boat, office and storage. Fish, they said, would not be raised here.

Three weeks ago the picture changed, again. The state's unexpected success in collecting 8,000 salmon eggs left it with the choice of either ditching about 650,000 eggs or turning the water on in the Charlevoix hatchery's rearing tanks. HARRY WESTERS, head of hatchery operations for northern Lower Michigan, made a hurried trip to Charlevoix. It could be done, he decided. Monday the water was running and the eggs were delivered.

Max Hunt, chief of fisheries operations in the northern Lower, said there has been no decision on where the fish raised here will be planted. As of now, he said, there is no reason to believe any or all of them will, or will not, be planted in Charlevoix County.

The 750,000 eggs will begin to hatch late this week and next week, Westers said. By late spring he expects all but 80,000 to 100,000 of the young salmon will be moved to other hatcheries that have large enough outdoor rearing ponds to hold them until the spring of 1969 when they will be planted. The fish will be about five inches long when planted.

Westers, hopes he has overcome the hatchery's major handicap--low oxygen content in water supplied by its shallow well--by installing aerators in the raceways.

IF THE AERATORS work, the hatchery's production capacity will be increased considerably, he feels.

One additional man, a fish culturist, is being sought to oversee the hatchery operation. Myrl Keller will remain in charge of the station as chief of the state's Great Lakes fish management program here.

Charlevoix, E-J School merger plan studied

CHARLEVOIX -- The school board meets next Monday to decide if it will ask voters to approve merging with the East Jordan school district.

In an unexpected move Monday evening, the Charlevoix board revealed the East Jordan board has requested consolidation of the two school districts. Such a merger must be approved by voters in both districts.

SHOULD THE two districts become one, a centrally located high school would be built, probably in the Ironton area, according to the East Jordan board's proposal.

Uniting East Jordan and Charlevoix school would create the largest, wealthiest school district in the area. Such a combined district would have an enrollment of 2,500 students and a total valuation of $45 million by next year, giving it $15,000 valuation for each student.

Even Petoskey would be smaller than the combined district.

Educators contend larger schools can provide more comprehensive curriculums because they have enough students to efficiently offer a broader range of courses in all grades.

Charlevoix's board was caught off-guard by the East Jordan proposal. The Charlevoix board met Monday in special session to set the date for a January election on its long-planned $2 million bond issue.

DUE TO THE EAST Jordan request the bond issue was temporarily shelved. Construction of the proposed $1.5 million elementary school and $500,000 addition to the high school would have to be re-studied if the two school merged.

"Either we move now (on consolidation) or ahead with our building program and put consolidation off for 10 or 15 years," board President Glenn Kenney said.

East Jordan's board is in the same position. Either it consolidates or it must build new classrooms by 1969, which would rule out consolidation.

Kenney was joined by Mrs. Fran Hooper and Burr Blanchard in suggesting the board move immediately to call an election on the consolidation proposal. However, board members Jack Rader, Dale Boss, Jim Lewis and Darrell Dimwidie asked that more facts be prepared and a meeting be held Monday, Dec. 4 (8 p.m. in the high school library) to further consider the question.

KENNEY SAID the board does not need to decide whether it is or is not consolidation. He said the question to be decided to whether the proposal should be submitted to the voters.

It would be at least two months before an election could be held, Milligan pointed out.

He and Kenney said during the two months leading up to the election the board should do a thorough job of presenting a fair and complete picture of what consolidation would mean to Charlevoix students and taxpayers.

"If people vote it down then we proceed with our own building plans," Blanchard said.

Milligan agreed to compile all the information possible on curriculum advantages and costs in time for the Monday, Dec. 4, meeting.

East Jordan until this week had been looking toward Boyne City for consolidation. However, the Boyne City board has been indecisive, giving East Jordan no firm answer.

East Jordan's board, obviously, timed its request to Charlevoix at the last minute, feeling that if the bond issue vote was set Monday night an East Jordan-Charlevoix merger would never be possible.

CONSOLIDATION WITH either Boyne City or Charlevoix was recommended to the East Jordan board following a professional consultant's study of the curriculum advantages of East Jordan remaining independent or united with one of its two bigger neighbors. The consolidation plan was endorsed by an East Jordan citizens committee.

Boyne City was picked as the most logical district for East Jordan to merge with largely because it was felt Charlevoix feels independently wealthy due to the valuation from the new Medusa plant.

In studying consolidation with Boyne City, an architect was hired by both the Boyne City and East Jordan boards to design a central high school. Cost estimates on a high school to serve both Boyne City and East Jordan came to about $3 million.

Because a Charlevoix-East Jordan merger would involve almost an identical number of students, the cost of a central high school at Ironton would probably be about the same.

EAST JORDAN WOULD pay just under 40% of the cost of building a $3 million consolidated high school, with Charlevoix paying a little more than 60%. On this basis Charlevoix's cost would be less than the $2 million proposed now for a new elementary and high school addition. However, some additions at the old elementary might still be necessary.

Charlevoix has 1,465 students--1,028 in grade school and 437 in grades nine through twelve. East Jordan has 1,068 students--821 in grade school and 247 in grades nine through twelve.

East Jordan has no building debt, whereas Charlevoix still owes $840,000 on the high school.

Charlevoix taxpayers pay 15.4 mills for school operation, plus 4.35 for debt retirement and buildings, for a total of 19.75 mills. East Jordan taxpayers pay 22.4 mills, all of it for operation.

Chamber dinner Monday

CHARLEVOIX -- Three new directors of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce will be introduced for the first time at the Chamber's annual dinner in the Argonne Monday, Dec. 4.

Candidates for the three directorships are Ralph Hess, Robert Hoffman, Don Anders, Dave Julier and Lyle Miles. The three elected will replace outgoing directors Ron Peterson, Ken Empey and John Michaels.

CHAMBER MANAGER Wally Loder expects 200 persons to attend the annual dinner. This year, Loder reports, the dinner will be a social affair, with business limited to less than 15 minutes.

The only business brought before diners will be introduction of the three new directors and a brief financial report.

Tickets -- at $4 each -- must be purchased ahead of time so the Chamber can tell the Argonne how many chicken dinners to prepare. Tickets can be purchased at the Chamber office.

Cocktails, which aren't covered in the ticket, will start at 7 p.m. Dinner starts at 8 p.m. Following the short business session, the Blazers, a four-piece orchestra will provide dance music.

McSaubas has new slope, tow but needs $1,000 to pay for CHARLEVOIX -- Mt. McSaubas corporation needs $1,000 to pay for a new slope, rope tow and other improvements made on the community ski hill this summer.

According to Maurice Foster, secretary-treasurer, $9,000 was spent on the ski hill this summer and fall. This, he said, is the first major expenditure in four years.

THE ORGANIZATION has $5,000 saved from Community Chest donations, profits from the operation and other income.

To raise the additional $1,000 tickets costing $1 each are being sold at both banks and by members of the high school ski team. One of the ticket holders will win $100 at a drawing Dec. 18.

Improvements made at the 11 year-old ski hill this year include:

--Cutting a new slope down the west side of the hill, toward Lake Michigan.

--Adding an 800 foot long electrically-powered rope tow to service the new slope.

--Several loads of black dirt were spread on the slopes in an effort to stop the wind from blowing sand off the hill.

--The takeoff platform was enlarged.

--The old snowmobile has been rebuilt and another purchased to provide more equipment for packing the slopes.

MT. MCSAUBA now has three major slopes -- the new west side slope, the former beginners and main slope. These slopes are serviced by their own rope tows. There are also a couple of secondary runs, including Whiteface. Night skiing is offered.

By raising funds through the community drive to pay for the improvements, Foster said it will not be necessary to increase season rates at the hill. Again this year, family season tickets will be $5. A season ticket for a couple will cost $20, a single adult will pay $15, a student over 13 will pay $8 and a student under 13 will pay $5.

State threatening to close license outlet

CHARLEVOIX -- Secretary of State James Hare's office is threatening to close its branch office here because Mrs. George (Bona) LaBlance has accommodated people who want certain auto license plate numbers.

Hare's office has ordered Mrs. LaBlance, who has had the branch office since 1959, to quit issuing requested numbers to people who request them by Dec. 1 "or immediately submit your resignation."

MR. AND MRS. LABLANCE said they have not decided whether to abide by the directive or force the state to take their records.

The Secretary of State business, they said, means about $2,000 a year income. They receive 30 cents for every plate they issue. This, LaBlance said, averages out to less than three percent on each plate.

For this their office must be open 40 hours a week, 52 weeks a year.

Added benefits of having the branch office include additional traffic into their E. Clinton St. insurance agency office, LaBlance pointed out.

Issuing requested plate numbers is an accepted method of operation in Charlevoix and other small communities. Mrs. LaBlance said, "It means a great deal to many people to have ear plates with the same number as their street address or to have the same number every year or even have a low number," she said. "It doesn't hurt anyone, we've never had a single complaint about it and it does make some people awful happy."

"MOST PEOPLE," MR. LABLANCE said,

County Democrats fill 2 high posts

Two vacancies in the Charlevoix County Democratic Committee's top command have been filled.

Mrs. Howard (Rosemary) Horton, 106 W. Clinton St., Charlevoix, was appointed to the county committee's executive board and named its secretary.

The executive board vacancy developed when Marie Karlkin of Boyne City, a candidate for Sheriff in 1964, resigned. The secretary's job was left empty with the earlier resignation of Fran Martin, county drain commissioner.

Mrs. Horton was unanimously elected at the last executive board meeting, attended by four members—Pete Johnson, county chairman; Gertrude Lohst, Archie Murphy, and Robert Pearsall.

A committee of Johnson, Murphy and Howard Horton was named to draft a tentative revision of the by-laws that would eliminate the present requirement that persons serving on the county committee pay party dues and some persons elected to office as Democrats do not pay dues to the party.

CHARLEVOIX -- The Girl Scouts of Charlevoix have helped build their own summer camp by selling cookies.

A ranger is now living in the new ranger house to help protect the girl's big investment at the 480 acre Camp Sakakawa site, on Bass Lake near Traverse City.

The land was provided by Rotary Camps Inc. Dr. Frank Power is chairman of the Rotary Committee, he is also a board member of the Traverse City National Bank and Trust, which gave $2,000 to assist in the building of the Ranger house.

The house was designed and construction was supervised by John Norton, a Kiwanis Club engineer who is a member of the county's camp development committee. Mr. Norton is also coordinating the total county's future development plans of Girl Scout owned sites at Charlevoix, Manistee and Ludington, as well as Camp Sakakawa; to meet future needs for year-around Troop-camping throughout the county.

Resident Ranger at Camp Sakakawa is Lester Shaffer, a recently retired Coast Guardsman. He is in charge of maintenance and security of the camp. Shaffer and his wife have been affiliated with Scouting as volunteers for many years.

Brownies

Girl Scout Troop 275 has had some exciting experiences. The troop hiked to Delta Bay and the girls had fun even though it was gloomy day. The troop also decided on their present for Christmas. The girls are making the covered trays. The title was given to them by the Vaughn Floor Covering Co.

The groom graduated from Charlevoix High School and attended Ferris State College.

The reception was held in the Friendship Hall of the church following the Nov. 18 rites.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cunningham on Nov. 17.

After a trip to Chicago the couple will be at home in Standish, Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Charlevoix High School and attended Grand Valley State College.

CHARLEVOIX -- The following patients were admitted to Charlevoix Hospital:

Charles Taylor -- Charles Taylor III, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Taylor of the Belvedere Club and Little Rock, Ark., was mortally wounded in Vietnam on Nov. 21. He had enlisted in the Marine Corps in April and served his training at San Diego; he was sent to Vietnam in October.

Funeral services will be held in Little Rock on a date yet to be determined.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hypothesis", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Ellsworth's school tax foes explain motives

ELLSWORTH—Were the leaders of school annexation forces really trying to "wreck" the school district by their unsuccessful bid to have last August's millage election declared illegal?

Mary Elzinga, who is probably the guiding light behind most of the annexation side's strategy, admits the tax challenge appears to have been a destructive maneuver. But she denies that is its objective.

Elzinga, who probably knows as much about school law as anyone between Central Lake and the Intermediate School District's office door, claims the legality of the tax vote was challenged in a desperate effort to get the other side to the bargaining table.

"If they'll give an inch we'll give a foot," he says.

But, as Elzinga and others who propose annexation see it, those who stand firm for maintaining their own school system have stubbornly refused to negotiate.

This to them is especially maddening when they can prove the community is split at least 50-50 over the debate. With what they consider more than 50% of the eligible voters favoring annexation, its proponents feel the school board should be prepared to discuss the issues openly and candidly and make a few concessions.

THIS ELIZINGA angrily contends has not been done. The "other side," he bitterly points out, "won't even listen to us."

So if by getting the 12-mill tax levy erased through a technicality, the annexation forces had been able to force the school board majority to recognize the legitimacy of the other's viewpoints it would have accomplished its purpose.

Elzinga isn't frankly confessing to it, but he seems embarrassed by the radical measure that he and his colleagues finally took in their attempt to force a confrontation between the two factions.

And, the fact is, the confrontation hasn't yet materialized. Whether Morris Taylor and his followers will even now concede to sit down and try to get the split community back together seems doubtful.

ANNEXATION FOES drove Elzinga's faction to its desperate measure by appearing to brazenly ignore a legal petition signed by more than half the voters in the school district. The petition called for another vote on Ellsworth merging with Charlevoix. However, the facts don't paint the picture quite that black and white. Charlevoix has no intention of annexing Ellsworth in the immediate future. And the petition signers, know it, even if they hate to admit it.

Charlevoix's reluctance to get mixed up in the issue while it has major problems of its own is hardly a just excuse for the school board's action. When more than half the voters of a community express an interest opposite to the direction the school board is taking, the concept of self-government demands a reckoning.

If we accept Elzinga's explanation for the tax challenge, the school board is certainly being reckoned with.

UNTIL JUDGE Charles Brown's last minute order last week, it appeared impossible for the school board to get itself out of the fix. Tax bills go out Dec. 1.

Without the approximately $43,000 the 12 mills will raise in Ellsworth County, the school's budget would be cut something like 25%. It simply could not operate without the $43,000. State law says it is illegal to operate a school on a deficit.

Under a new law, the school district might have been able to arrange to collect taxes again in early summer. But it seemed unlikely citizens were going to re-vote the 12 mills unless the board gave at least that inch Elzinga says the annexation proponents are asking for.

JUST WHAT THAT inch is has not been spelled out. But, most likely, it would be a phased program of merging with Charlevoix and East Jordan or agreement to send high school students to Charlevoix and East Jordan on a tuition basis. (It would be considerably cheaper to send 9th through 12th graders to other schools as tuition students than it is for Ellsworth to operate its own high school.)

Elzinga claims the school board's cooperative arrangement with Central Lake is not working. Students, he says, are lifting of the dreary business of traveling from one school to another and are not getting "quality" education.

He may be right, but as yet there is no tangible evidence to back him up.

Right or wrong, there's no denying the school board has had a mighty bad score. If it concedes nothing else it better face up to the fact the people who favor annexation are no stumblebums.

It was school officials, not their rivals, who failed to post legally complete millage election notices. Elzinga knew the notices were illegal the minute they were posted in August. He decided right then to keep his knowledge as a secret ace-in-the-hole in case the school board continued in its policy.

American Machine & Foundry Co. has been testing its Ski-Daddler snowmobiles during summer over the rolling fields and up and down wooded hills near its York, Pa. plant. Five test drivers push vehicles eight hours a day five days a week over a 1000-driving-mile endurance test course laid over one mile of the company's varied-terrain course. The course presents every possible type of terrain a hard-driving customer would be expected to traverse in winter, except for rocks. One snowmobile is picked at random from every 100 coming off the assembly line. Drivers even take vehicles into the high grass and undergrowth of the area's Highlands for added cross-country proving, all at speeds varying from 20 to 40 miles per hour.

New firm making shipwreck furniture

CHARLEVOIX -- A new company, Great Lakes Shipwreck Co., has leased Lake Construction's wood-working shop on Potosky Road where custom made furniture and other hand crafted items are being made. The new firm is also manufacturing lamps made from dead-eye and blocks.

Their products are crafted from wood salvaged from sunken Great Lakes schooners which were discovered on Lake Michigan reefs. The firm has its own 40 foot diving boat.

William Garten is president with Don Seelye, Charles Scherping and Duane Jorgenson associated.

Great Lakes Shipwreck Co. is working in conjunction with Traverse Bay Corp. of Boyne City, which also manufactures shipwreck items. Its plant is just south of Will Flow. The building has been idle for several years.

Fire Calls

CHARLEVOIX -- Firemen were called to the Lake Terrace Mobile Court Nov. 29 at 9:20 p.m. A mattress had caught fire and was quickly extinguished. There was slight damage to the interior of the mobile home, owned by Paul Kelly.

The party, begins at 2 p.m., Dec. 9 at the Sheridan School Telephone Company Christmas party for the children of its Petoskey area employees.

The children, from 3 to 13 years of age, will be entertained by films and stage acts. In addition, there will be gifts from Santa Claus for every child.

Parents, meanwhile, will gather at a coffee elsewhere in the building.

Children are expected from Boyne City, Charlevoix, Charlevoix, Harbor Springs, Indian River and Petoskey.

Saunders is a native of this area having graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1952, Michigan State University with a B.A. in business administration in 1956, and received his C.P.A. certificate in 1958.

He and his wife Marjorie live with their four children, Sharon, 10, Lorie, 9, Carolyn, 7, and Matthew, 1, at Charlevoix.

Portable classes will be ready soon

CHARLEVOIX -- Students should be moving into the four portable classrooms at the high school by the end of this week or early next week, Supt. Rex Milligan reports.

Three sixth grade classes and one as yet undetermined class will use the portable units, Milligan said.

The sixth grade classes and now in the basement of the old elementary, in the library and in the Community Reformed Church. The fourth unit will be used for either a kindergarten class or special education class.

The portable classes will be ready to use as soon as the city gets a transformer that is needed, Milligan said. The units were expected to be ready several months ago.

Milligan expects the portable units to cost around $50,000. Total cost cannot yet be determined.

When the units are no longer needed the school board hopes to sell them.

Hedges are a great help in landscaping by forming a border and also give a degree of shelter and privacy. These include the juniper, cedar, spruce, arbor vitae, now an overbearing rose has been developed and may be used for hedge purposes. Hedges require pruning, and may be shaped in a formal manner or informally.

Before planting, check for these qualities. (1) will it grow in your soil (2) does it need full sunlight or partial shade (3) can it stand our hottest summers and coldest winters (4) will it suffer from strong winds (5) is there sufficient moisture (6) is the foliage attractive all season (7) will it harmonize in color and foliage with other plantings (8) is it susceptible to disease and insects (9) is it easy to maintain (10) does it have a reasonable life expectancy (11) does it produce an undue amount of litter each season. A good rule to follow is to tour the neighborhood to determine which kinds of trees are thriving. It is well to consult your nurseryman.

In this area our most common flowering shrubs are the lilac, spirea, forsythia, honeysuckle, beauty bush, flowering quince, muck orange, flowering alder.

Our chief evergreens are pines, hemlock, spruces, junipers, yews.

Planting is one of the most important details in the cultivation of trees and shrubs. Generally the best time to plant hardy deciduous trees or shrubs is early autumn or early spring, before new growth begins.

It is best to prepare the soil two weeks in advance, so that it does not settle and leave the roots exposed. Care should be taken that the roots do not dry out for a short period. The hole should be angle size (two feet deep, 2-3 feet wide) so that roots are not crowded.

The soil should be improved with compost, peat moss, leaf mold, or fertilizer. Deal or dry soil can be cut off. The hole should be spread out, and not allowed to bunch or twist.

When the hole is half filled, pack the soil by treading and fill with water letting it soak in. Soil can be added to the ground level or leave a small depression so watering is easier. Firm the soil again by treading. Loosen the top soil 1-2 inches to save moisture. Always keep moist.

CHARLEVOIX -- Martha Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Michigan was the scene of the marriage of Janice Beth Sundberg of Charlevoix and John Frederick O'Dell of Detroit on Dec. 1.

Rev. Robert L. Seitzinger of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Birmingham performed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple will reside at 27711 Rudgate Blvd. in Farmington.

The bride graduated from Charlevoix High School and will attend Oakland Community College beginning with the winter term.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Detroit and is now vice president of management for Sales and Services Inc. of Detroit.

MAID OF HONOR was Miss Sandra Sundberg, sister of the bride and bridesmaids were Cathie Terrell and Marilyn Majors of Charlevoix and Patricia Cronan, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Ken Chick of Bloomfield Hills and ushers were Richard Merson of Southfield, Frank Vaydik of Detroit and Robert Gibb Jr. of Birmingham.

A reception was held at the Plum Hollow Golf Club.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hypothesis", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

CARLA SPENCER runs the 1968 county tax bills through the Equalization Dept.'s computer which figured 15,500 statements this past month.

Merry Christmas

Tax bills mailed

CHARLEVOIX -- The Charlevoix County Tax Equalization Dept. has completed processing 15,500 county and school tax bills.

The more than 15,000 taxpayers who get the bills will pay the county, township and school taxes. Of this $1,907,427 goes to the schools, $380,176 to the county and $90,707 to the township.

THE EQUALIZATION Dept. started preparing the tax bills Oct. 16. Due to a computer breakdown some townships received their tax bills later than usual.

The computer figures each individual taxpayer's bill, determining how much they will pay based on their property's valuation and the tax rate in their school district and township. As the computer does its figuring it prints the results on the bill.

East Jordan residents will pay $159,299

EAST JORDAN -- East Jordan residents received their 1968 county and school tax bills last week.

According to City Clerk Ben Bustard, 1,000 statements were sent and will bring in

The bills are run through an addressing machine in the department's office.

City residents receive their city tax bills in the summer.

The tax bills are compiled and run thru the computer in the Equalization Dept. at the Charlevoix County Building.

Belvedere pays most taxes

CHARLEVOIX -- City Treasurer Anne Cunningham has mailed county and school tax bills to 1,600 persons, who will pay $252,866.

Dr. Grate

studies new developments

CHARLEVOIX -- Dr. Lawrence Grate is out of town studying new surgical techniques and will not reopen his practice here for at least another three months, according to members of his family.

The biggest taxpayer continues to be the Belvedere Club, which will pay $56,588 on a property valuation of $621,000. Second biggest taxpayer is Freeman Arterian, with a valuation of $254,750, on which it will pay $6,259.

The taxes will be divided between the county and schools. The schools will get $184,800. The county will get $57,950.

Consumers Power Co.'s Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant continues to be the biggest item on the Charlevoix County tax roll.

Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s new South Point plant is now the second biggest taxpayer. Medusa should take first place from Consumers next year when it goes on the tax roll at its full value.

CONSUMERS THIS year will pay $211,137 in county, township and school taxes on its Big Rock plant. Of this the schools will get $149,717. The county will get $44,170 and Hayes Township $17,250. The plant has a taxable property value of $7,261,100.

Medusa this year will pay taxes on only $3,059,700 of property valuation. Its tax bill will total $90,823, with $62,895 going to the school, $18,695 to the county and $9,233 to Charlevoix Township.

Property owners are supposed to pay taxes on 50% of their property's true value. Medusa's new plant reportedly cost $25 million, meaning it should pay taxes on about $12 million valuation next year. The plant was not completed when this year's property valuations were determined for taxes.

School Merger?

WHILE GIVING our unequal support to School Board President Glenn Kenney's call for an immediate vote on merging the Charlevoix and East Jordan school districts, the Courier is inclined to view the proposition with caution.

Like Kenney and most other board members we are not prepared to pass final judgment on uniting the two districts until we see more facts. Having spent many hours covering school affairs and studying financial reports and curriculum conditions at both schools our reservations do not stem from doubts a merger of the two districts would be financially beneficial to both Charlevoix and East Jordan. Nor do we for a second question but what the two districts together could offer a broader range of subjects in both upper and lower grades.

CHARLEVOIXIANS who feel smug over their district's tax wealth are misleading themselves in thinking they would be balling East Jordan out. The fact is East Jordan parents are willing to pay more for education than Charlevoixians. This year they are paying 22.4 mills for operation, while Charlevoix is paying 15.4. And Charlevoixians agreed to pay that only after being prodded to the polis twice.

Having a high tax base has not bought Charlevoix a superior school program. With the district's nearly $30 million valuation it cannot afford to add high school courses and special elementary programs unless enough students benefit from the expenditure to make it practical.

For instance, let's say Charlevoix wanted to add a four-year program in French, but only a half-dozen children were interested. The cost would be astronomical. Divide the cost by twice that many students, though, and it becomes practical. A merger with East Jordan would make this difference.

We can also see some savings on building costs. Charlevoix is talking about going into a $2 million expansion program to build a new elementary school and improve the old elementary and high school. If East Jordan does not merge with someone it will be spending something like $2 million for new buildings.

A CENTRALLY LOCATED high school near Ironton should cost Charlevoix something less than $2 million and East Jordan not quite $1 million. This would leave Charlevoix something with which to improve the old elementary and East Jordan enough to improve its elementary and junior high facilities.

Charlevoix, we feel, should definitely abandon all consideration of constructing its north side elementary if the merger is approved. By making the high school an intermediate school for upper elementary and junior high, the old elementary can easily, and rather inexpensively, be improved to meet the needs of our lower elementary students.

But why, if we see all these plus factors in a merger, are we reluctant to endorse it?

Simply because we question the quality of education that will result from the conglomerate such a merger would create. Its fine to say you have dozens of courses in your high school. But it means nothing if we have literally no control over the quality of instruction.

THROUGH THEIR militant unionism area teachers have created a machine that protects the mediocre by making it impossible for boards and parents to intelligently criticize the quality of the education their children are receiving.

Neither the Charlevoix or East Jordan school board has the trained labor negotiators, time or belligerence to deal with this tough unionism. If we are going to have twice as many teachers and half as many members through a merger we look for the situation to become far worse.

Until teachers clean up their own trade we want nothing to do with giving them more opportunity to misuse their union power.

Chambers move

IT IS ANNUAL meeting time for Chambers of Commerce in East Jordan and Charlevoix. Which, most generally, means it is the time of year when a handful of people sit down and start figuring out reasons why they are not satisfied with the Chamber's performance in the last year.

Because Chamber members have such diversified business interests, there will always be some who can legitimately point out that their dues were used largely to benefit persons in another line. But, overall, we haven't heard any beefs that add up to more than petty grumbling or impractical protest.

EAST JORDAN'S ANNUAL Chamber dinner on Dec. 14 looks like it is going to be the most newsworthy the area has had in years. Former State fisheries chief and father of the coho salmon program, Dr. Howard Tanner will be the guest speaker.

East Jordan can almost be considered Tanner's home stomping grounds, so it seems likely he'll let his hair down and deliver the first straight answers the Chamber's leaders have heard on the salmon program. The Chamber is to be highly praised for its initiative and determination in try-

Letters

Dr. Tanner promises coho facts

Dear Editor:

The recent editorials quoting me in regard to the coho program of the Michigan Conservation Department are most encouraging. It is not however, the purpose of this letter to comment on Mr. Sheppard's interpretations or my remarks, opinions and suggestions relative to the coho salmon.

I do wish to make it generally known in the Charlevoix area that early in November I accepted an invitation to speak in East Jordan at 6:30 p.m. on December 14 at the Annual Meeting of the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce. My purpose at that time will be to express myself freely and I hope helpfully on the subject of the future of Michigan's Great Lakes salmon program as I see it.

It is my hope that with a public statement and with subsequent discussion I can help interested citizens of the Lake Charlevoix area gain understanding of the future of the Conservation Department's salmon programs. I hope further that by understanding the future opportunities, limitations, and problems inherent in the salmon program that interested persons in joint community action will find ways to help.

Seaman hits those who want Vietnam pullout

Dear Editor:

I read your Nov. 1 guest editorial, and sure was shocked to think that some of the people are questioning if we should stay in Vietnam.

It seems to me that we don't have a choice. Now that we are there we have lost a lot of boys over there, but these boys didn't mean not coming.

I also think that there must be an awful lot of crickets that will only vote for Romney if he is for getting out. They're the ones who don't want a man for president they want a mouse.

I have showed this article to a lot of our men and sure got a lot of opinions. They feel that the only place that we are losing face is back home.

I think that the people back home should have a little more respect and be proud of the men on the job that are doing in Vietnam.

If they keep reading trash like this they will lose faith not only in their country but themselves.

Burn your draft cards if you like, but I'll fight for something that I have faith in.

Whowants Capital in north?

An Upper Peninsula high school teacher has proposed an initiative plan to corrupt northern Lower Michigan.

Probably with the best of intentions, N.J. Dineky, a teacher of government in Negaunee near Marquette, has naively suggested that instead of building a new state capital in Lansing the state move to Gaylord. Saints forbid!

BUT BEFORE discrediting Dineky's novel plan for pollution of the northland let's give him a chance to outline his reasons for feeling Michigan would be better served if its capital were in Gaylord.

1) In terms of mileage, Gaylord is approximately "half-way" between Detroit and the western part of the Upper Peninsula.

2) Such a shift of sites would be a tremendous psychological factor in the right direction between the peoples of the two peninsulas.

3) Finally it would have an impact on the economies in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula as well as the Upper Peninsula.

What Mr. Dineky fails to mention is that the area that would benefit the most from such a transfer of the state capital is the Lansing area. Lansing might suddenly become fit for human beings if it were purged of its state's playboy politicians and bureaucrats.

But what a tragedy for the north. Can you imagine your children growing up in such an environment? No, brother. I'd vote for moving the capital to Monroe to get it further from the north.

Just think of the disappointment you'd feel if your son grew up thinking the thing to be in life is a politician or civil service man handler.

Lansing people have probably learned how to insulate their children from this gloomy future. Since they have the experience in dealing with the problem let them spend the $40 million for a new capital right there. —SHEP.

Romney a bust if he's trying to spark GOP sparkplugs here

By GLEN SHEPPARD
Enthusiasm is noticeably lacking as area Republican leaders discuss Gov. George Romney's formal bid for the party's presidential nomination.

Though this department hasn't been looking for people who get prickly shivers over Romney's ambitions, it has been trying to sound out individuals who experience shows are influential in area GOP affairs. And I can honestly report not a one of the party stalwarts I've talked to have given Romney their unqualified endorsement.

EVEN STATE Representative Bob Davis of St. Ignace—who rode into office partially due to Romney's coal-mining pledges when you pry into his emotions.

Comment

Before elected to office last year Davis had a pretty good knack for political astuteness. Now that he's rubbed shoulders with the Lansing professionals for nearly a year, getting meaningful answer from him on a subject he wants to avoid is a real test for a reporter.

And he did. I want to commit myself as to whether Romney was his favorite for the Republican nomination. His hesitation, in itself, suggests he is less than eager to see the party's national convention settle on Michigan's governor next summer.

When pressed into a corner the furthest he would commit himself is to campaigning for Romney if he is nominated. This pledge even loses value when you learn he will campaign for any of the GOP contenders now considered to have a chance of the nomination.

OUR LITTLE FUN—fest with Davis came while we were sharing one of Jim Alsbaugh's coffee tables with Mayor Bill Richmond. A live-long Republican, even Mayor Richmond hasn't been beating the drum for Romney. Don't forget, Bill's Mrs., Ina, was one of Romney's most effective local campaigners. So if you can't whip up a big hurrah for Romney from Bill where would you look?

Charlevoix County Republican Chairman Oscar Stroud, a real expert party work horse, is still carrying a dollar bill with a picture of Barry Goldwater on it.

Get Oscar talking straight and he doesn't try to hide his lingering disgust with Romney's 1964 desertion of the party. Nor do things like Romney's "state budget since he took office in 1962 sit comfortably with Oscar.

But if Romney should get the nomination he's going to find Oscar right in there pitching to get him elected.

There will be many other Republicans who have contributed considerably in ideas and effort in past campaigns who, for the first time, should not be able to rely on, should Romney become the party's standard bearer.

IF ROMNEY is to get elected it

by Grace Ann McDaniel

On our recent trip to Chicago we decided to forego the hours long trip by car in favor of a quick trip via commercial airline.

No matter how often, I doubt that I'll ever fly without reviewing beforehand every plane accident I can remember. But this time after the great review, I decided to try to play it more sophisticated.

THAT MEANT, I thought, refusing to take out flight insurance. I always bought it before (and always came back alive). Maybe I was looking for trouble? I considered it a bad omen, but climbed aboard.

As we left the ground, I was impressed and thrilled with the power around us. But those were taking over and I didn't mention it out loud. After all, I was trying to pretend I commuted like this daily.

Our stewardess was compact, pretty and had an almost unbelievably happy disposition. I nonchalantly joked at her whenever the engines sputtered "funny" or we dipped a few hundred feet, looking for some "signs" of fate or uncertainty. She wasn't giving anything away so I left her alone. Evidently she had no idea how dangerous her job was.

I thought of other things, to keep from remarking on the gorgeous clouds. I'd been above clouds before but they were never like this. It looked like we'd discovered the Johnson & Johnson cotton works. Nobody mentioned it. After all, we see them every day, don't we?

IT WAS REFRESHMENT time and everybody gave up coffee, tea or milk for stronger goodies. Across the aisle our stewardess was taking an order.

to sit out the 1968 election if Romney gets the nomination are the ones who have previously spearheaded the important campaign work done for Republicans in these parts.

Romney's prospects of getting elected do not, of course, in any way hinge on what happens in Charlevoix County. But area Republicans cannot be so abnormal as to make us think their attitude is the exception.

"And what will you have sir?" The next voice belonged to a young milk consumer, but he committed himself. "Gin." And Miss Sweet played a game, "would you like that with water?" "Yes." He was looking down to his shoelaces for confidence. "And a twist of lime?" (It was beginning to sound good to me too.) "Yes." Then, oh so nicely, "Are you twenty one?" From under the seat we heard a tiny "no". He never uttered another word through out the entire trip. He'd learn to act more knowing like the rest of us.

Landing they say, is about the most dangerous part of a flight. For me it's the "grounding." The closer we get to the shorter the distance to fall.

Trying to look sophisticated and slightly bored on a two hour flight has its advantages. The strain turned to weariness as we left the plane. What a great trip it had been. Not only had I made it safely, but as I yawned passing the stewardess I'm sure she thought, "Ah, there goes one of our more seasoned passengers."

Boat builders seek plant for new firm here

CHARLEVOIX -- Charlevoix may again have a boat-building industry.

Ted McCutcheon is looking for a building that is adequate for building sailing yachts and smaller custom-made boats. The building must have a high ceiling and comfortable zoning.

McCutcheon has spent more than six months hand-crafting the mold for a new design sailing boat. In Robert Schlemmer's former Foster Boat Works plant near Ferry Beach. The slow, inch-by-inch, job is now done and he is ready to start turning out sailboats from the mold. But needs a different building in which to do it.

If no building is available here, McCutcheon will look for another site at another area Great Lakes harbor.

Designed by naval architect Harrison Farrell of Elk Rapids, the new 30-foot cruising ketch is called the Elk 30. McCutcheon and Farrell figure the Elk 30 will be a big seller because she is designed to offer spacious living quarters in a short length.

Most sailing boats with enough space for six people to live on while cruising for days have to be around 40-footers, McCutcheon explains. The Elk 30, though, he says, has a generous 9 foot 6 inch beam and provides adequate space for six persons.

The savings in cost between a 40-footer and a 30-footer will, he and Farrell hope, appeal to many people who have wanted a cruising sailboat but could not afford one.

McCutcheon actually started work two years ago on the "plug" for the fiberglass mold he is just now completing. At the time he was building racing sailboats at Irish's marina in Harbor Springs and could only devote part time to the Elk 30.

In June he moved into Schlemmer's building and went to work fulltime on the plug, which is made of wood planking. The plug had to be "more than perfect" because the mold which it formed will be used, McCutcheon hopes, to build dozens of Elk 30's.

When the plug was finally finished a few weeks ago, McCutcheon and LaVern Phillips went to work encasing it in the fiberglass mold, which is now just about completed. The plug will be taken out of the mold and the fiberglass hulls for Elk 30's will be made inside it.

Both McCutcheon and Phillips are old hands at building wood boats. They have spent most of their lives building and refinishing boats at Wallon Lake.

McCutcheon started building boats at Wallon in 1935. In 1938 he began his own shop, which burned in 1956, putting him out of business.

He estimates he spent more than 1,000 hours making the plug. Unless someone wants to buy it and make it into a boat, its usefulness is now ended.

If someone does buy the plug they will end up with what may be the most perfectly proportioned wood-plank sailing hull to be found. Every inch and quarter inch of the plug had to be assembled and sanded to tolerances usually necessary only in machine work, McCutcheon points out.

THOUSANDS OF tiny coho salmon like these, less than an inch long, are swimming in the troughs at the Charlevoix fish hatchery. The tiny fish carry yolk sacks, which make their mid-sections appear bloated. In about three weeks fish culturists report the cohos will have emptied the yolk sacks and will start eating pellet-type food. Of the 750,000 coho eggs moved here two weeks ago, 700,000 successfully hatched, Myrl Keller, hatchery chief, reports. A problem anticipated when the fish started hatching last week did not develop and biologists say they foresee no problems.

Tanner to answer puzzle on salmon

EAST JORDAN -- The future of salmon and trout fishing in the Lake Charlevoix area tops the agenda for tomorrow evening's East Jordan Chamber of Commerce annual dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall.

Dr. Howard Tanner of Michigan State University--the man whom most people credit with knowing the most about the salmon program--will be the guest speaker.

DR. TANNER told the Courier he will "express myself freely" on the salmon program. He said it is his hope that he will be able to "interest interested citizens of the Lake Charlevoix area in understanding of the future of the Conservation Dept.'s salmon program."

Now the director of the Natural Resources Dept. of MSU, Dr. Tanner was head of the state's fisheries program when he conceived and launched the introduction of coho and other salmon species into the Great Lakes.

A native of Beltsville, Dr. Tanner fondly recalls he spent much of his boyhood fishing the Jordan River.

In other business, the Chamber will elect several new directors and officers. Tickets can be purchased at $3 a person from any member of the board of directors.

Area fishermen and businessmen have been frustrated in efforts to understand and obtain information about the salmon program.

Early in the fall Dr. Tanner pointed out it was technically and economically impractical for counties such as Charlevoix to develop their own salmon raising and planting program to help speed up the state's efforts. This inspired an effort by community leaders in Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City to get into the salmon raising act.

HOWEVER, THEIR efforts were foiled when the State did a turn around and finally refused to cooperate.

Dr. Tanner has indicated he will attempt to answer questions at the Chamber's dinner tomorrow (Thursday, Dec. 14).

Rayders face league plight

After 32 years as a partner in the Northern Michigan Class C athletic conference, Charlevoix last week was unexpectedly given the boot.

The result so far is that East Jordan has joined a new league and Charlevoix is a five, having no one to play football or basketball with next season.

Charlevoix High School Principal Ray Carr said that all football games are usually scheduled by now.

Due to the breakup of the NMCCC, Charlevoix may have to drive as far as Indiana or Ohio to find a full league schedule, Supt. Rex Milligan said Monday evening.

CHARLEVOIX, BOYNE CITY and Gaylord were tossed out of the 32-year-old NMCCC last week by the five smaller schools in the league--East Jordan, Gaylord, Harbor Springs, Pellston and Manistowish. The smaller schools pulled their surprise move in a meeting at Gaylord.

"We were railroaded out, so to speak," Milligan told the school board Monday.

In voting to dissolve the league, the City won't move wards for State

CHARLEVOIX -- City officials are standing firm in their decision not to move on redrawing ward boundary lines according to the one-man-one-vote edict.

State law requires that city wards be reapportioned so they have equal populations by last Friday, Dec. 1. Other area cities, including East Jordan and Petoskey have complied with the ruling. Boyne City councilmen are elected at-large, making it unnecessary for it to do anything to satisfy the new law.

MAYOR WILLIAM Foehman said in early October the city has received no official order from Lansing to comply with the new law. This week he said nothing has yet been heard from Lansing.

The mayor said he is sticking with his former decision to do nothing unless ordered to by formal State action.

Foehman does not deny the city's three wards are out of balance, with the Second Ward having approximately 50% more people than the First Ward. He feels, however, that it would be more sensible to wait until the 1970 census so the city can be accurately reapportioned.

County Bank doubles stock

CHARLEVOIX--The Charlevoix County State Bank has increased its capital stock by $50,000 and its surplus by the same amount, according to E.D. Hawley, president.

The move was made by transferring funds from accumulated earnings. The bank's total capital is now $250,000 and its surplus is also $250,000, giving it a total of $500,000 in capital stock and surplus.

HAWLEY SAID the bank's stockholders and directors took this action to keep the capital more in line with the increased deposits.

The bank was incorporated as a State bank in 1934, with paid capital of $25,000 and surplus of $5,000. Stock dividends and cash subscriptions have increased this to its present $500,000 total.

During the same period, deposits have increased from $250,000 to $7,500,000 with the largest increase being made in the last few years when deposits doubled, Hawley said.

bonafide. Some members of the commercial fishing industry are asking that this be lowered.

BOTH JOHN CROSS JR. and Jake White said they have no argument with the $5,000 cutoff. Chuck White is a member of the industry committee that is working on the eligibility requirement.

Yoder said that only about 110 or 112 of the 700 persons who now have commercial licenses would qualify under the $5,000 cutoff.

Regional Conservation Dept. Chief Troy Yoder told the Courier the department has asked commercial fishermen to determine who the "bonafide" commercial fishermen are. The department proposed that only fishermen with a gross income of $5,000 a year, or more, be considered smaller schools also voted to nullify all contracts for next year's games.

The department, Yoder said, has found that it is the approximately 600 part-time and casual netters who have taken what the State considers alarming amounts of lake trout while allegedly fishing for whitefish.

The small schools then turned around and three days later formed a new league. In addition to the five schools that pulled out of the NMCCC, three new teams came into the new--as yet unnamed--league. Members of the new league are East Jordan, Gaylord, Manistowish, Harbor Springs, Pellston and the three new teams, Onaway, Kalkaska and Petoskey St. Francis.

IN THIS LEAGUE East Jordan will be one of the bigger teams, along with Onaway and Gaylord.

The small teams said they were leaving the NMCCC because for several years it has been dominated by Charlevoix, Boyne City and Gaylord, all of which are considerably larger. The record since the NMCCC was formed in 1935 shows that Charlevoix has won 55 of 131 possible championships. Boyne City 25, East Jordan 15 and Gaylord 12.

East Jordan Supt. Max Damoth said his school was not in favor of the league breakup. "If the other teams withdrew we agreed to follow, but we would not initiate the move. The league was too old and too good to just go in there and break it up," Damoth said.

However, Kipke said he cannot blame

East Jordan teams have been in a slump for several years, Damoth said his staff so now hope of rebuilding into a strong athletic power as long as the players felt they had no chance of success due to the superior size of Charlevoix, Boyne City and Gaylord.

East Jordan coaches hope that by forming the new league, students will take more interest in sports, Damoth said.

CARR SAID CHARLEVOIX officials did everything they could to keep the NMCCC alive. Carr said when it became evident the five smaller schools were determined to leave the league, he pushed for a one-year period in which to reorganize.

Ray Kipke, retired Charlevoix coach, who coached the Rayders from 1928 to 1930 and helped form the NMCCC league said Charlevoix was not always one of the bigger schools in the league. During the depression and early war years, he pointed out, several teams in the league were bigger than Charlevoix.

However, Kipke said he cannot blame the small schools from wanting to get in a league more in their class. The size of a school is a major factor in the kind of team it can field, he explained.

The danger for Charlevoix now, Kipke pointed out, is that it will spread out too far.

AT LEAST THREE larger area schools have asked Charlevoix, Gaylord and Boyne City to consider forming a new league with them. They are Petoskey, Cheboygan and Rogers City. Those schools, however, are now in a league (The Huron Straits League) and would have to bolt it to associate with the Charlevoix-NMCCC schools.

Petoskey, Cheboygan and Rogers City are all Class B schools, making them considerably bigger than Class C Boyne City, Gaylord and Charlevoix.

Other possibilities are Traverse City St. Francis and St. Ignace, both of which are about the same size as Charlevoix.

Due to poor winter roads across state to Cheboygan and Rogers City, some officials here eye them as poor choices.

Jordan board members to produce information on the merger. Those, Hooper, Lewis and Blanchard are the three Charlevoix board members who voted to put the merger proposal on the ballot.

In other action Monday the board voted to buy a $4,980 industrial-type tractor, plus equipment, from Conrad Klossner. The industrial tractor will cost $800 more than a utility tractor, which Blanchard recommended be purchased.

Lower bids on the tractor from International were not approved.

Milligan presented the board with figures showing that the hot lunch program is running in the red. He said that figured on an accrual basis, the program is now about $1,300 in the red.

IF A NICKEL more were charged for hot lunches, Milligan said, there would be no deficit problem. The school now charges 30¢ and 35¢ for a hot lunch.

Board member Dave Bogs suggested consideration be given to serving a la carte lunches, allowing students to select what they want to eat, instead of the standardized type. A lunch which is now the only thing available.

Santa Claus
CHARLEVOIX--Santa Claus will arrive in Charlevoix on Dec. 16 at 2 p.m., at the foot of Clinton St.

Fire Department volunteers will bring Santa Claus to town by firetruck.

The City of Charlevoix will furnish candy and peanuts for the children. All children are welcome.

Yoder also said the department needs the commercial fishermen in its research and management work. By collecting data from commercial fishermen, he said, the department is able to keep track of what is happening to fish populations.

Department officials have said commercial fishermen will be used as a management tool in controlling fish species because too numerous.

When lake trout numbers are high enough, they expect more fulltime commercial fishermen will be encouraged to get in the business.

Fishermen will be allowed to do considerable experimental fishing under the permit system, Yoder said, by encouraging experimental fishing, he said, the

Then there is a large solid glass horse, prancing proudly on a shelf above inlaid glass fingers. A souvenir cranberry and pressed glass mug, with the inscription "Potoskey 1964," is also on display along with many old glass works.

Mrs. Griffin has a special display on oriental works. Amongst this display is a solid teakwood floor lamp from the Philippines which she bought from Major and Mrs. Richard Street who acquired it when they were in the Philippines.

E-J students plan holiday PTA program

EAST JORDAN -- East Jordan students in all grades will present their annual Christmas program at the Dec. 18 P.T.A. meeting.

The program will be directed by Mrs. Thompson, the music teacher. The band will present several Christmas selections. The program will include music, singing, skits and interpretative dancing by Mrs. Moore's dancing class.

Janet Pease will accompany the choir on the piano. Two high school band members, Laura Hutchinson and Dona VerWilt will play the flute. Linda Davis, an 8th grader, will sing a solo and Claudia Black, also an 8th grader, will present a bell solo.

Party time
EAST JORDAN -- The East Jordan Elementary School grades will have their Christmas room parties on Dec. 21. The children will exchange and enjoy treats.

DAVE MIERAS' 188-pound eight pointer outweighs him. He knocked it over in Eveline Township and registered it on the Town House Deer Log.

Dress code takes shape

EAST JORDAN -- Preparation of a student handbook, which will include a dress and behavior code, is nearing completion, the school board learned last week.

High School Principal Keith Anner discussed the proposed handbook with the school board at its meeting. The handbook will be pocket size and will replace the thespian sheets of regular size paper that served in the past.

THOUGH THE school has had an informal dress code, the new code will more specifically clarify what type of dress is acceptable. The Student Council is working with school administrators to draft the dress and behavior codes.

Also included in the handbook will be information on curriculum and school activities.

E-J musicians plan busy concert season

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

East Jordan students present Yule concerts

EAST JORDAN—The East Jordan music department is presenting its annual Christmas concert in the high school gym Wednesday evening at 8 p.m.

As has been traditional in the past, the band will play "Christmas Rhapsody" by Newell H. Long. To conclude the program the band will accompany the choir and audience in three traditional Christmas carols.

Choral music selected from the Christmas period includes both secular and sacred selections. The opening selection is "Sing Alleluia! Christ is Born," by Leora Nyle Dretke. Then "Christmas Roundelay" by Lois H. and Ruth E. Young, followed by "Christmas Is the Day," by Art Dedrick. The remaining selections include: "Drummer Boy," by Harry Simeone; "Twelve Days of Christmas," Mae Nightingale; LeRoy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride"; Christmas Song," arranged by Roy Ringwald; and the Fred Waring arrangement "Twas the Night Before Christmas." The accompanists for the group are Bertha Slough and Evelyn Gee.

Season tickets will be honored for this concert with single admission available at the door. Adults, $1 and students 50¢.

Officers of the band are: Charles Fisher, president; Linda McWaters, vice president; David Krake, secretary-treasurer; Bertha Slough, librarian; and Vicki Ulund, reporter.

Choir officers include: Bob Richter, president; Bertha Slough, vice president; Margaret Crawford, secretary-treasurer; and Debbi Eggersdorf, librarian.

On December 22 the Brownies will meet for caroling practice on Dec. 20 at 3:30 p.m. in the library basement.

The parents are to pick up their children at 8:15 at the school. All Brownies who participate must have permission slips for the Dec. 22 party and caroling.

Library notes
Mrs. Hewitt Johnston's preschool story hour at the library keeps growing. The 10 a.m. story hour on Dec. 15 is filled but the library can still accept a few more registrations for an 11 a.m. group on the same date. This is for 3-5 year olds, and the child must be registered before attending.

With the hurried and hurried season ahead, may we suggest poetry for a change of pace? Here are books to relax with:

"The Dark Tower" - Nineteenth Century Narrative poems compiled by Deline Coffey, ranging from "Childe Roland" by Robert Browning to Oscar Wilde's "The Ballad of Reading Gaol".

"The Bluebells and Other Verses" by poet Laureate John Massfield. Twenty pieces including two long narrative poems.

"In the Clearing" - Poems by Robert Frost. This collection includes the poem written for John F. Kennedy's inauguration.

"Come Live With Me" - Five centuries of romantic poetry, with an introduction and notes by Charles Norman. A collection for the young in heart.

"The Earth Is the Lord's" - Poems of the Spirit, compiled by Helen Plotz with particular emphasis on contemporary poets.

"The Last Hero and Other Poems" by Louis Coker.

Plan underwater cable at S. Arm
IRONTON -- Consumers Power Co. is seeking permission to replace its underwater power line that crosses the South Arm at the Ironton Ferry landing.

The Army Corps of Engineers must approve the permit. The proposed cable will carry the same 7,200 volts as the present one, which was placed in 1931. It will be buried a minimum of three feet below the lake bottom.

Anyone interested must file written objections with the Corps before Jan. 3. Address them to the Corps at Detroit District Office, P.O. Box 1027, Detroit 48231.

NOTICE FOR NOMINATING PETITIONS

Nominating petitions for the Feb. 19 City of Charlevoix primary election are available in City Clerk's office. Offices open are Mayor, City Clerk, Treasurer, 1 Alderman in each ward, 1 supervisor in each ward. Petitions must be filed with the City Clerk no later than 4 p.m. Tuesday Jan. 2, 1968.

Two taxpayers pay $30,557
CHARLEVOIX -- The city's two largest taxpayers will pay $30,557 in property taxes to the city and schools, according to revised figures prepared by City Treasurer Anne Cunningham.

Miss Cunningham reports the Belvedere Club's winter tax bill totals $17,051. Freedman's, the city's second largest taxpayer, will pay $13,506 to the city and schools.

The Belvedere Club's total taxable property valuation is $68,350. Freedman's is $506,550.

Snowmobilers thwarted by state ruling
EAST JORDAN--East Jordan snowmobilers would be welcome to use an alleyway to get out of town, but state law makes it illegal to drive the popular new machines on any public street.

Mayor Betty Robertson says she was willing to go along with the snowmobiler club's request that snowmobilers be allowed to drive down an alleyway to get out of town, but state law makes it illegal to drive the popular new machines on any public street.

"I BELIEVE THE Club is a good thing and the city wants to cooperate with it in any way it can," she said.

The 30 families who belong to the club had requested permission to drive down alleys to avoid having to travel their snowmobiles into the country.

The Council authorized the club to use a section of the airport for its activities.

Club membership costs $3 a family or $2 for an individual.

Jim Meredith is president of the club. Other members of the board of directors are Bob Forsman, Myra Crawford, Basil Crawford and Bill Bennett.

School cooks feed 1,400 area kids every day

by KATHRYN GARTEN
Can she bake a cherry pie? You bet!

She also can turn out tasty pot roasts, roast turkeys, ham and scalloped potatoes, chili, muffins, macaroni, tuna salad, and apple crisp.

That's just starters for the school cooks at Charlevoix, East Jordan and Ellsworth.

It takes 22 pounds of butter, 44 cups of sugar, 1 cup of vanilla, 4 cups of milk, 28 quarts of flour, 1 cup of baking soda, etc. to make 1,400 ice-box cookies. Many more recipes on the same scale are used in the kitchens that handle the job of feeding 1,400 area school children every day.

THE U.S. DEPT. of Agriculture cooperates with state and local school officials to make surplus farm commodities available.

Elementary School students pay 30¢ and the junior-senior high school students pay 35¢ for a lunch that includes 2 ounces of meat or equivalent, like cheese, peanut butter, or fish, a vegetable or fruit, bread and butter, milk and dessert are also included in every lunch. The food is good and the cooks and food managers take special pride in serving the children attractive, appetizing food.

Mrs. Blissett gets her surplus good in large quantities; such as 800 lbs. of flour, 20 cases of butter, 10 cases with 300 lbs. of cheese, 500-600 pounds of potatoes per month. She also uses 4 cases each of vegetables and fruits per day and 1 case of eggs per week. They also use 42 loaves of bread a day.

Mrs. Blissett is head cook and manager for the Charlevoix schools. Assisting her are Mrs. Norma Cunningham, Mrs. Rose Hilton at the high school and Mrs. Ellen Copeland, Mrs. Virginia Jarvis and Mrs. Veler Wright work at the elementary school.

All food is prepared in the high school cafeteria and then trucked to the elementary schools in special carriers where it is served. Students from St. Mary's Catholic School also eat in the high school cafeteria. The cafeteria serves 800 students each day.

MRS. BLISSETT, the head cook, sets up menus two weeks in advance.

School chiefs putting necks out on merger

School administrators in East Jordan and Charlevoix have let themselves in for a harried winter. There will be no peace for them until the merger vote is finally over two to three months from now.

The irony of their determined and sincere effort to sell area voters on the merger is that at least one of the two superintendents is going to lose his job if they succeed. It isn't improbable that both East Jordan Supt. Max Damoth and Charlevoix Supt. Rex Milligan would end up being replaced.

BOTH MEN KNOW their personal future is somewhat less secure if the merger goes through. Yet this has not deterred either of them from pushing their boards to take the initiative in presenting the merger question to the public.

Should voters approve of the merger, a new school board will be elected from candidates running at large from throughout the 181 square mile area that is now the East Jordan and Charlevoix districts.

Though it is safe to assume that several members of the new board would be persons now serving on the boards in East Jordan and Charlevoix, the new board will not be bound by the ideas or loyalties of the present boards.

To probe merger questions

Ready fact-finding task force

A fact-finding task force made up of officials from Charlevoix and East Jordan schools begins work this week to find answers to questions citizens want answered on the proposed merger of the two school districts.

East Jordan Supt. Max Damoth reports three persons from the Charlevoix school board and three from East Jordan will form the task force. The school board members, according to Damoth, will rely on him and Supt. Rex Milligan of Charlevoix and other administrators from the two districts to dig out and compile information.

THE SIX-MEMBER fact-finding group will then organize and analyze the information and attempt to present it to the public. Who these six persons will be should be known by the end of the week.

Politics and reality being what they are, it is quite possible such a new board would feel it can best cement relations between East Jordan and Charlevoix constituents by hiring a completely new superintendent. Milligan and Damoth knew this when they prodded their boards to get the merger plan on the ballot.

PERHAPS A MORE palatable arrangement would be for such a new board to hire Milligan or Damoth as superintendent and the other as business manager. A careful inspection of both men's talents might suggest this is a very smart direction to move in.

But whatever happens, both Milligan and Damoth appear unconcerned. For the next few weeks they are going to be busy as they work closely together to dig up answers to dozens of questions now being asked and dozens more that the public hasn't yet thought of.

The big problem is that the public wants positive answers and promises. Milligan and Damoth know that whatever they say will be remembered for a decade or more. They are also mature enough to know that no matter how thoroughly they study the situation and the possibilities, things are going to develop that will make their current answers wrong.

IN AN EFFORT TO save themselves some future hardship, both men will qualify their pro-merger statements by saying the figures and proposals they present are estimates or "possibilities" or "the way we see it now," etc. However, in 1971 or 1972 someone is going to hit them hard with a statement they made in the winter of 1968. There is simply no way of ducking this "if the two administrators are going to do the job they feel they must do."

Citizens must accept it as true that both Milligan and Damoth sincerely believe our children will greatly benefit from such a merger. Either one of them could have kept the question from ever reaching the ballot by merely playing dumb. Instead, they provided the leadership.

The complications of trying to pre-guess all of the problems, costs and advantages that would develop from such a merger is staggering. It cannot be done.

And one thing Milligan, at least, could not have been ignorant of is the very likely possibility that at least one of his board members is mad enough about the merger proposition getting on the ballot that if it loses he may go after Milligan's scalp.

E-J ice rink in new spot
EAST JORDAN -- The city ice skating rink will be on the west side of the softball diamond on W. Water St. this year, according to City Supt. Russell Gore.

The city will provide evening supervision at the lighted

Sandra Tuomela
CHARLEVOIX -- Funeral services for Sandra A. Tuomela, 34, of Holly, a teacher in the Andoverville School at Clarkston, will be held at the Winchester Funeral Home, 1000 N. Main St., Wednesday with Rev. Duane E. Link in charge. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Miss Tuomela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lauri Tuomela was killed Sunday in a head-on crash with another car near Springfield township, Oakland county.

Born in Battle Creek July 4, 1933, she came here from Iron River with her parents in 1951. She was graduated from Clarkston High School in 1951 and from Northern Michigan University in 1955. This was her third year on the elementary school faculty at the Clarkston school. She was a member of Bethany Lutheran Church.

Besides her parents, she is survived by a brother, Pile, John C. Tuomela, serving in the Philippines with the U.S. Army.

The family has suggested that persons wishing to honor her memory may do so by contributing to the memorial fund of Bethany Lutheran Church.

It's that joyous and glad time of year when we open our hearts and homes to one and all, sharing our blessings large and small. May yours be the rich delight that comes with partaking of the spirit of Christmas from the employees and management of CHARLEVOIX CO-OP

Dr. Tanner urges area prepare for coming of coho, steelhead

Area fishermen eager to get a share of "coho gold" had better get ready, Dr. Howard Tanner, former state fisheries chief and now director of Michigan State University's Dept. of Natural Resources, reportedly urged Chamber officials to prepare their communities now so that they can serve the thousands of fishermen who will flock to Lake Charlevoix for salmon and steelhead trout.

In a later appearance at the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner, Dr. Tanner predicted "fantastic" coho, chinook and steelhead fishing before Lake Charlevoix communities are geared for it.

Though he gave no specific dates, Dr. Tanner said this area can expect salmon fishing at least equal to that experienced further down the Lake Michigan coast this fall and steelhead fishing ten times better than in any year before the lamprey wiped out the steelhead.

He also reportedly told Chamber officials during the private conference with them that the state can closely control the number of salmon through the number of restocks or allows to spawn naturally.

Tanner said fears that the salmon population will get out of hand are unfounded. He pointed out the state can closely control the number of salmon through the number of restocks or allows to spawn naturally.

He also reportedly told Chamber officials during the private conference with them that the state can closely control the number of salmon through the number of restocks or allows to spawn naturally.

Dr. Tanner urges area prepare for coming of coho, steelhead

Area fishermen eager to get a share of "coho gold" had better get ready, Dr. Howard Tanner, former state fisheries chief and now director of Michigan State University's Dept. of Natural Resources, reportedly urged Chamber officials to prepare their communities now so that they can serve the thousands of fishermen who will flock to Lake Charlevoix for salmon and steelhead trout.

In a later appearance at the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner, Dr. Tanner predicted "fantastic" coho, chinook and steelhead fishing before Lake Charlevoix communities are geared for it.

Though he gave no specific dates, Dr. Tanner said this area can expect salmon fishing at least equal to that experienced further down the Lake Michigan coast this fall and steelhead fishing ten times better than in any year before the lamprey wiped out the steelhead.

He also reportedly told Chamber officials during the private conference with them that the state can closely control the number of salmon through the number of restocks or allows to spawn naturally.

Tanner said fears that the salmon population will get out of hand are unfounded. He pointed out the state can closely control the number of salmon through the number of restocks or allows to spawn naturally.

Charlevoix teachers working without contract

CHARLEVOIX -- Charlevoix teachers and the school board still do not have a contract agreement for this school year, the board revealed Monday evening.

The board disclosed it is still negotiating to settle the master contract that the public thought was settled in September.

NEGOTIATIONS, board member Darrell Dinwiddie said, are deadlocked over the number of days teachers are obligated to teach. He said "labor negotiating is a one-way street" and "this is a union contract."

State law, Dinwiddie explained, requires 180 "instructional days" of school each school year. For every day short of 180 days, he said, the school stands to lose $3,000.

To assure the district of 180, Dinwiddie said, the board is insisting the contract guarantee that teachers will teach as long as necessary. The board's position, he explained, is that the contract should read that school will close June 12, or whatever number of days beyond that needed to get in the 180 days.

The teachers, he said, refuse to accept the open-ended school closing date, insisting instead that they be obligated to teach only until June 12. Should school have to be open beyond June 12, Dinwiddie said, the teachers want additional pay.

LEONARD STALEY, chief negotiator for the teachers, said the teachers feel an obligation to teach 180 days. But, he added, many of them have summer jobs that start after June 12 and do not want to be committed to be in school beyond then.

According to Dinwiddie the only conceivable way the school would need to be

Lighting contest
CHARLEVOIX -- The City's annual Christmas lighting contest will be judged early in the evening of Thursday, Dec. 21. The best decorated outside home lighting in each ward will be awarded prizes.

Judges this year are Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie, Mrs. Marie Webb, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Pauline Hamilton. They will be driven through the city by a city employee.

In each ward a first, second and third prize of $10, $10 and $5 will be awarded. One prize will be awarded to a resident outside the city who used city electricity.

Townships work with city on ambulance deal
CHARLEVOIX -- The City of Charlevoix's emergency ambulance service will be provided to all area townships, City Supt. Jim Taylor reports.

According to Taylor, Hayes, Marlon and Charlevoix townships have cooperated with the city in setting the ambulance service. Only emergency calls are being answered.

The city has borrowed Bob Winchester's stationwagon, which he formerly used as an ambulance. Volunteer policemen and firemen drive the ambulance when an emergency is reported.

The city charged $15 plus $1 per mile for every mile it carries a patient.

Hess Furniture opens new shop
CHARLEVOIX -- Hess Furniture Co. has taken over the former shipwreck furniture shop, Treasure Cove, at 211 Bridge St. and enlarged its line to include regular furnishings and gifts.

Mrs. Ralph Hess Jr. is operating the store, now called the Cutty Sark, through the holidays. She already has an extensive inventory of gifts and expects to expand this line considerably before spring.

The unique shipwreck furniture has been blended with conventional furniture to create the atmosphere in which it would be found in a home.

BOARD PRESIDENT Glenn Kenney, who participated in the Thursday meeting, said he and Dinwiddie were warned that if they made the contract issue public teachers might walk off the job. He said, however, that he expects the school to continue to operate without a contract.

"It seems to us just as reasonable for us to demand protection for our school district and children" as it is for the teachers to demand their terms, Dinwiddie said.

"I think this is only a forerunner of things to come," Dinwiddie added.

Staley told the Courier he feels the problem is largely one of communications between the teachers and board representatives. Boyne City teachers, he said, also have not signed a contract.

Neffs add liquor
CHARLEVOIX -- Neff Brothers Grocery store at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets has added package liquor.

The liquor license was approved by the city and state after Bob and Gordon Neff requested it. They have been attempting to obtain the license for 15 years.

Ellsworth stays in conference lead

ELLSWORTH -- The Lancers continued their undefeated streak Friday night, but were hand-pushed to down Inland Lakes 75-56.

No solution yet on new athletic league
CHARLEVOIX -- After several meetings in the last week, Charlevoix High School has not accepted the Huron Straits athletic league's invitation to join it.

When they were ousted from the old Northern Michigan Class C Conference two weeks ago, Charlevoix, Gaylord and Boyne City have been left without schools to play football or basketball against next year.

A tentative partial schedule has been worked out that would give the Raiders six football games next season, against Gaylord, Boyne City, Traverse City, St. Francis, Alpena.

Jordan's Sturgell hits 29 for JV's
Charlevoix's Junior Varsity Friday beat East Jordan 77-50 Friday.

The Little Raiders led all the way, holding a 20-11 edge at the end of the first quarter, 38-22 halftime lead and 63-42 advantage at the end of the third quarter.

Stewart Coleman paced Charlevoix scoring with 23 points, followed by Kraag Lieberman with 16, Norm Ostrom with 11, Bob DeYoung with 10, George McCellan with 7, Tim Doan with 4 and Carl Novak and Bob Crain with 2 each.

The Inland Lakes Bulldogs kept the Lancers fighting up to the final minutes, Ellsworth held slim leads at the end of each quarter: 23-15, 45-38 and 62-57.

In the last two minutes of the game St. Doctor scored three baskets to give Ellsworth the edge it needed to hold onto its first place position in the Northern Lakes Class D Conference.

Conference action reopens Jan. 5, with Ellsworth traveling to Mackinaw City.

Ellsworth's rangy center, Harold DeYoung, paced the Lancer attack Friday as he rolled up 22 points. Fred Taylor scored 15 and Ron Boss 12 for the Lancers.

The Ellsworth Junior Varsity suffered its first defeat Friday as the Inland Lakes reserves came off the floor with a 51-55 victory.

Merger election set for Feb. 19
CHARLEVOIX -- The school board Monday evening voted to hold the election on merging Charlevoix and East Jordan schools Feb. 19, the same day as the city primary elections in the two communities.

Two board members, Jack Rayder and Dale Boss, voted against the motion setting the election date, Darrell Dinwiddie, who previously voted against holding the merger election, joined other board members in setting the Feb. 19 date.

Supt. Rex Milligan told board members portions of the East Jordan district near the northeast end of the South Arm will likely be transferred to the Boyne City district if the merger goes through.

In other action the board decided to take bids on a 1962 Dodge Lancer, 1966 Dodge bus, 1962 tractor with loader and two houses on the school's north side property.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

Hearing tests given 500

EAST JORDAN -- The kindergarten, second, fourth and sixth grade students of East Jordan Elementary School have taken their hearing tests. There were 500 students tested and also others that have been referred by their teachers.

Mrs. Merilyn Brownell, a trained technician, did the preliminary testing to weed out possible hearing difficulties. If any difficulty was found, the child is re-tested at a later date. If a child has a cold or sore throat it could make a difference in the test. If after the second test there is still a sign of a hearing difficulty, Dr. Dean C. Elliot

Except for Christmas and New Year's days the library will be open as usual during the holiday season: 1 to 8 Monday through Thursday and 1 to 5 Friday and Saturday.

Thanks to membership in the Grand Traverse Area Library Federation, the Charlevoix Public Library has added several new titles to the fiction collection. The following books are among the recent arrivals:

Repeat the Instructions, by R. Vernon Bostie. A chilling and authentic spy story.

The Killing at Ngo Tho, by Gene D. Moore. The first authentic combat novel to come out of the Vietnam war.

No Place for an Angel, by Elizabeth Spencer. A novel of today's restless sophisticates by the author of Light in the Piazza.

If Morning Ever Comes, by Anne Tyler. Ben Joe Hawkes, a law student, leaves Columbia to make an impulsive trip home to Sandhill, North Carolina. His story is neither shocking nor exciting but has considerable charm.

Desolation Angels, by Jack Kerouac. A non-plot novel about the travels of Tim-John who is Jack Kerouac himself.

War Memorial, by Martin Russ. The post-war misadventures of Joe Shasta, a New Mexico Indian, the most naive Marine who ever survived the war.

Editorials Face facts

THE CITY'S STUMBLING approach to solving Charlevoix's ambulance problem continues to leave us baffled and more and more perturbed. Common sense and a little simple addition tell us the only logical, economical answer is for the city to buy an ambulance and order policemen and firemen to operate it.

Using an inadequate borrowed vehicle is at best a clumsy solution. The ambulance will be driven by volunteer off-duty policemen. There is no guarantee these drivers will have proper first aid training.

No matter how you cut it, ambulance service falls in the same category as police and fire protection. It is a necessary emergency service that can best be operated by local government...just as police and fire departments are.

The city has a built-in ambulance crew. With five and one-half policemen and two full-time firemen, there is no need to hire additional manpower. Neither our firemen or policemen are so overworked they cannot easily handle the 80, or fewer, ambulance calls the Charlevoix area averages a year.

A new carry-all type vehicle converted to a well-equipped ambulance will cost between $6,000 and $7,000 and should last ten years.

ADD TO THAT THE cost of insurance, a maximum of $600 a year, and actual vehicle operation expenses and the city should be able to provide ambulance service for no more than $2,000 a year--a $1,000 less than subsidizing an un-manned vehicle from Petoskey.

Of course, the city should expect to charge ambulance users, which would repay the $2,000. A rate that reflects the city's actual cost can easily be worked out by any business-men. We've found neighboring township supervisors to be reasonable men and feel sure they would agree to guarantee payment for any ambulance calls the city makes for township residents.

Such an arrangement will buy city and township residents reliable, professional ambulance service for much less cost to the taxpayer and user than the previous plan to dole out $250 a month to an outside firm.

Officials who balk at the city, operating an ambulance keep dreaming up wild nightmarish schemes in which the city's policemen and firemen would all be needed for police and fire work. But we've never seen a real emergency at which there weren't more than enough policemen to handle the job. And the vast majority of the area's ambulance runs are in no way connected with accidents or fires.

THE CITY, OF COURSE, would want to make ambulance runs only to area hospitals. Patients needing transportation to Ann Arbor will have plenty of time to arrange for one of the private ambulances operating in other nearby communities.

The more we study the situation the more puzzled we are by the city's seeming insistence on complicating it.

Misguided threat

THERE ALMOST seems to be an organized effort underway to panic Charlevoixians into voting for merger with East Jordan school district on the threat that if we don't the State will step in and force us to join with someone else (most probably Petoskey).

Time and again this misguided threat is tossed around by people who should be better informed. The Courier, after being as close to school reorganization efforts last year as any layman in the area, is convinced the Legislature isn't about to tamper with the boundary lines of school districts such as Charlevoix.

WE'VE TALKED TO State Sen. Tom Schwelger and several "reliable sources" close to both the Legislature and State Dept. of Public Instruction.

From all sources we learn that the Legislature knows it is dealing with a bomb when it starts stomping on progressive Class C and larger schools. It isn't apt to try again. When another reorganization bill is passed in Lansing it will be aimed at smaller, insolvent school districts.

Anyone who publicly declares Charlevoix and East Jordan will soon be forced by the Legislature to give up their school districts is either grossly ignorant of political realities or deliberately trying to frighten us into their way of thinking.

But let's for a moment give these fright peddlers a hearing and say the State did issue an order that we give up our schools and submit to arbitrary reorganization.

Who says we would have to accept such an edict?

THE STATE ISN'T going to send the militia up to elude our children over to Petoskey to school. It might withhold our State Aid. But we might also withhold paying State taxes.

There are many good arguments for and against the merger. They should all be fully discussed and objectively weighed by every voter.

However, threats, and the people who make them, should be summarily disregarded.

Let's watch this

THE INTERMEDIATE School District is now considering building its own office space for Supt. Charles Robinson and his burgeoning staff. At last month's intermediate school board meeting a committee was named to study whether an office building should be built.

There's no denying Robinson's offices in the Charlevoix County Building are crowded. The district's second office, across the street in the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. building, also appears crowded.

FIVE YEARS AGO Robinson got by with one small corner of the second floor of the county building. Now he uses nearly half the upper floor of the county building and the huge office across the street.

His staff has grown from three to dozen in five years. That's an increase of 400%

What bothers us is the possibility that if the intermediate district has unlimited space it might quadruple again in the next five years. Maybe keeping it confined in the space now available is the taxpayer's only way to check this.

Citizens express merger views

CHARLEVOIX -- Supporters of the plan to consolidate Charlevoix and East Jordan school districts will have to be super salesmen to succeed.

An informal, non-computer, Courier poll reveals what most people suspect: The majority of people are against merging the two school districts.

FOR THE MOST part, Charlevoixians do not appear in the least inclined to believe that making the school district bigger will produce better graduates. They are more inclined to suggest the present school can be improved.

Of the more than two dozen persons whose opinions on the merger the Courier solicited, 21 were flatly opposed, for one reason or another. Five persons favored it with no qualifications. Several simply couldn't care less, one way or the other, and undoubtedly won't vote.

Surprisingly, only four persons said they are undecided and will not make up their mind until more information is presented. Generally, on an issue this complicated it would be expected that a large percentage of citizens would withhold judgement until more facts were in.

Those who do favor the merger seem to be about evenly split in their reasons. Some favor it simply because they fear state pressure will ultimately force Charlevoix to be swallowed by Petoskey. If it doesn't voluntarily join East Jordan, others are in favor of the merger because they see merit in having the broader curriculum educators say the larger student body will make possible.

THE THREAT OF The State ramming school district reorganization down the throat of Charlevoixians was also raised at last week's Charlevoix PTA meeting.

Charlevoix School board member Jack Rader, who sat on an information panel at the PTA meeting, told the PTA, "The time is coming when the State will tell you who you are going to merge with because it will not put up with the expense of operating small districts."

Two Medusa employees who recently moved to Charlevoix from Marquette, Wis., told the PTA audience that Wisconsin had stepped in and arbitrarily redrawn all school district boundary lines without giving local citizens any say in the matter. From what they have learned since coming to Michigan, both men said they foresee the same thing happening here.

Many people could probably be sold on consolidation if a larger high school would be built in Charlevoix for East Jordan students to attend.

DR. LYSLE ANCE, who has been attending school board meetings since the merger proposal came up, says he is "definitely opposed to it."

and turn their heads, insisting that the red nosed one turn down the village.

Then Santa will tell them to lay off Rudolph, the blinding glare they see is a new jet runway where bridge St. used to be. Maybe he will reason that the dust from South Point darkened the downtown area so much that people could no longer see and new lights had to be installed.

The reindeer with the best nose may turn and tell Santa that water is more polluted than ever. But the old gent won't get in a dither over this. He knows that it happens everywhere. So why not Charlevoix?

But oh what reassurance he must feel when he hears the downtown area and sees that Earl Young's Weather-vane and other boulder buildings have not been replaced by Howard Johnsons and airplanes.

As long as Charlevoix does not destroy the living magic Earl Young's artistry gave life to there is still something uniquely sweet and wonderful about Charlevoix that no other community on Santa's map can lay claim to.

by Grace Ann McDaniel Probably the next time I'm at the Petoskey News-Review, somebody will say "What did you mean by that?" but I'll say it anyway. How much longer am I expected to live without a daily newspaper.

The Detroit Free Press is as important to my morning as Carnation Instant Breakfast. Without it, how am I supposed to digest? I stare out the window, with glass in hand, worrying about Frank, Mita, Sammy and Mal. What are these trial separations doing to them. Do they miss each other? Good grief, maybe they've already married. Walter Cronkite doesn't say much and it's tearing me up!

I MISS DREW Pearson as much as he misses me, but poor Ann Landers doesn't have my shoulder to cry on. Does the strike mean that Brenda Star is out of work? I'll just die if it keeps her away from my mystery man! I don't mean to be offensive Free

Mrs. Robert Martin said that it Charlevoix doesn't merge with East Jordan the State will someday make it join Petoskey because East Jordan will unite with Boyne City, leaving Charlevoix no place to go but Petoskey.

THOUGH MOST of the people queried by the Courier asked not to be quoted, their answers generally followed the same reasoning as that expressed by merger opponents at the PTA meeting.

Many of them would have cheered Bill Carey's statement at the PTA meeting.

"I'm a Charlevoixian and I don't like this idea of consolidation," Carey said. He added that if Charlevoix needs a better school system "perhaps we should have more taxes locally and pay to have a better school on our own."

Don Brown also raised a point at the PTA meeting that was expressed by several persons questioned by the Courier. Brown said the idea of moving the high school out of Charlevoix is "a major bone of contention."

Many people could probably be sold on consolidation if a larger high school would be built in Charlevoix for East Jordan students to attend.

DR. LYSLE ANCE, who has been attending school board meetings since the merger proposal came up, says he is "definitely opposed to it."

Marina owner writes reply

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in reference to the article on the Editorial page written by Glen Sheppard concerning the need for small boat slips.

I fully agree that we do need more slips for the smaller boats, however, I do resent some of the remarks he has made about the people with larger yachts. To me it sounds like jealousy rather than constructive criticism. I will refer to this article by comments on certain statements.

First, he refers to the fact that it galls him that the facilities are all for the non-Charlevoixians. This may be true but our harbors were not built for the Charlevoix people. It was built to bring outsiders, or tourist yachtsmen, to our beautiful town and could not and would not be the harbor if it was to depend on only local people to maintain it.

Second, he says that darn few yachtsmen do much business with our local merchants. This is not true and you know it as well as all the rest of us. In fact, if you want, I can slant many instances.

Third, the infection is that the purpose of the larger yachts in our harbor is to stop the tourists going through to gawk, who spend more money than do the people on the yachts. This also is not true.

Fourth, if more docks are needed, let the Marinas, which make most of the money from them worry about it. Aren't the Marinas part of the merger?

Regarding the school merger question.

I am happy this question is being brought before the voters. Please consider what I have to say before you make your decision on how you will vote.

If the merger is rejected at this time a great deal of money will be spent both in Charlevoix and East Jordan. You are deciding this question in 1967-1968, but what about five or ten years from now? Do you really believe the same school age population situation will prevail then?

Will you spend all the money now to build new schools and rehabilitate the schools now existing and then in

Dear Editor:

I recently received from my wife, Nancy Powers, who is currently residing in Charlevoix, a package containing a Michigan Christmas tree with all of the necessary decorations.

Christmas in Southeast Asia is one of the most depressing times of the whole year. Being away from your family and loved ones is bad enough, but in these special occasions that are for families especially it is doubly depressing. The Christmas tree I received to put me and my friends in the Christmas spirit than any other gift imaginable. I only hope other friends and families who have loved

One woman told the Courier she feels Charlevoix's greatest need is a better elementary program and facilities and she opposes the merger because it will reduce chances of getting these.

A local contractor said he feels the advantages of small town educational systems is lost "when you get a school with 3,500 kids in it... you might just as well be raising your kids in the city."

No one queried by the Courier indicated their opposition to the merger was in any way prejudiced by a dislike of East Jordan. Several who fear the State will someday order Charlevoix to give up its local school system, said they favor the merger merely because they feel Charlevoix and East Jordan children and parents will get along better than Charlevoixians would with Boyne City or Petoskey.

A NUMBER of persons who said they are against the merger, added that East Jordan has always demonstrated it is willing and able to give its children a good education. Despite some reports to the contrary, these people seem to feel the children and adults in both communities will be happier in the long run if they continue to take care of their own school problems.

A few people also said they oppose the merger because they do not want to share Charlevoix's tax wealth with anyone. However, the Courier was surprised at how seldom this comment was made.

chairs of Charlevoix? We don't do business on Bridge Street, but are still an important part of the business world of this town. We do try to take care of these people to the best of our ability.

To sum up, I think Mr. Sheppard should, before making any more statements about money spent etc., find out what he is talking about. Most of the yachtsmen spend a considerable amount of money in the grocery, drug and dry good stores, as well as the liquor stores and many of the eating places in Charlevoix. If articles like this continue to be published, maybe the local people will be able to use ALL the docks. It is true that our yachtsmen are only here for two or three months, but if it weren't for some of these people it might be such a thing that some of us wouldn't be here for 12 months. The yacht business is growing every year and unless we do everything we can to take care of them, we will no longer be considered one of the most beautiful harbors on the Great Lakes.

This was not written to start a feud, but merely to give my views on your articles.

Robert S. Hamilton Hamilton Boatyard Charlevoix

ED'S NOTE: Dear Bob, You're sure right about this editor being a bit jealous of the yachtsmen. But I'm sure not against them. It would be a rather dull summer without them around to inspire day dreams. Only it is time now to do something about nailing down the millions of dollars small boats could bring to the area if facilities are made available. --Shep.

five or ten years spend another $3 million to build a centrally located school?

According to the experts the population growth is booming. It seems modern school districts in other parts of the state and nation are being consolidated into large centrally located schools, so that better and broader subject matter can be taught and better qualified teachers will be attracted.

I am very hopeful the voters will not think just of the year but will anticipate the need in five or ten years hence.

Let's prepare our school facilities for 1968 and 1978 now. We can pay for this with only one millage increase.

County eyes land for jail

The Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors at its January 8 meeting will be asked to approve options on property in Charlevoix for its proposed new $500,000 jail.

Charlevoix Supervisor Kit Carson reports he has picked up "five or six" tentative options in "different sections" of Charlevoix as possible sites for the jail. Carson is chairman of the board's Buildings and Grounds Committee.

HE DID NOT DISCLOSE where the tentative sites for the jail are. State law requires that the jail be located in the city of Charlevoix. Supervisors, at the suggestion of their architect, discussed building the new jail in the southwest section of town, near the airport.

Carson said it would be too expensive to buy the two lots adjoining the present jail to make room for expansion.

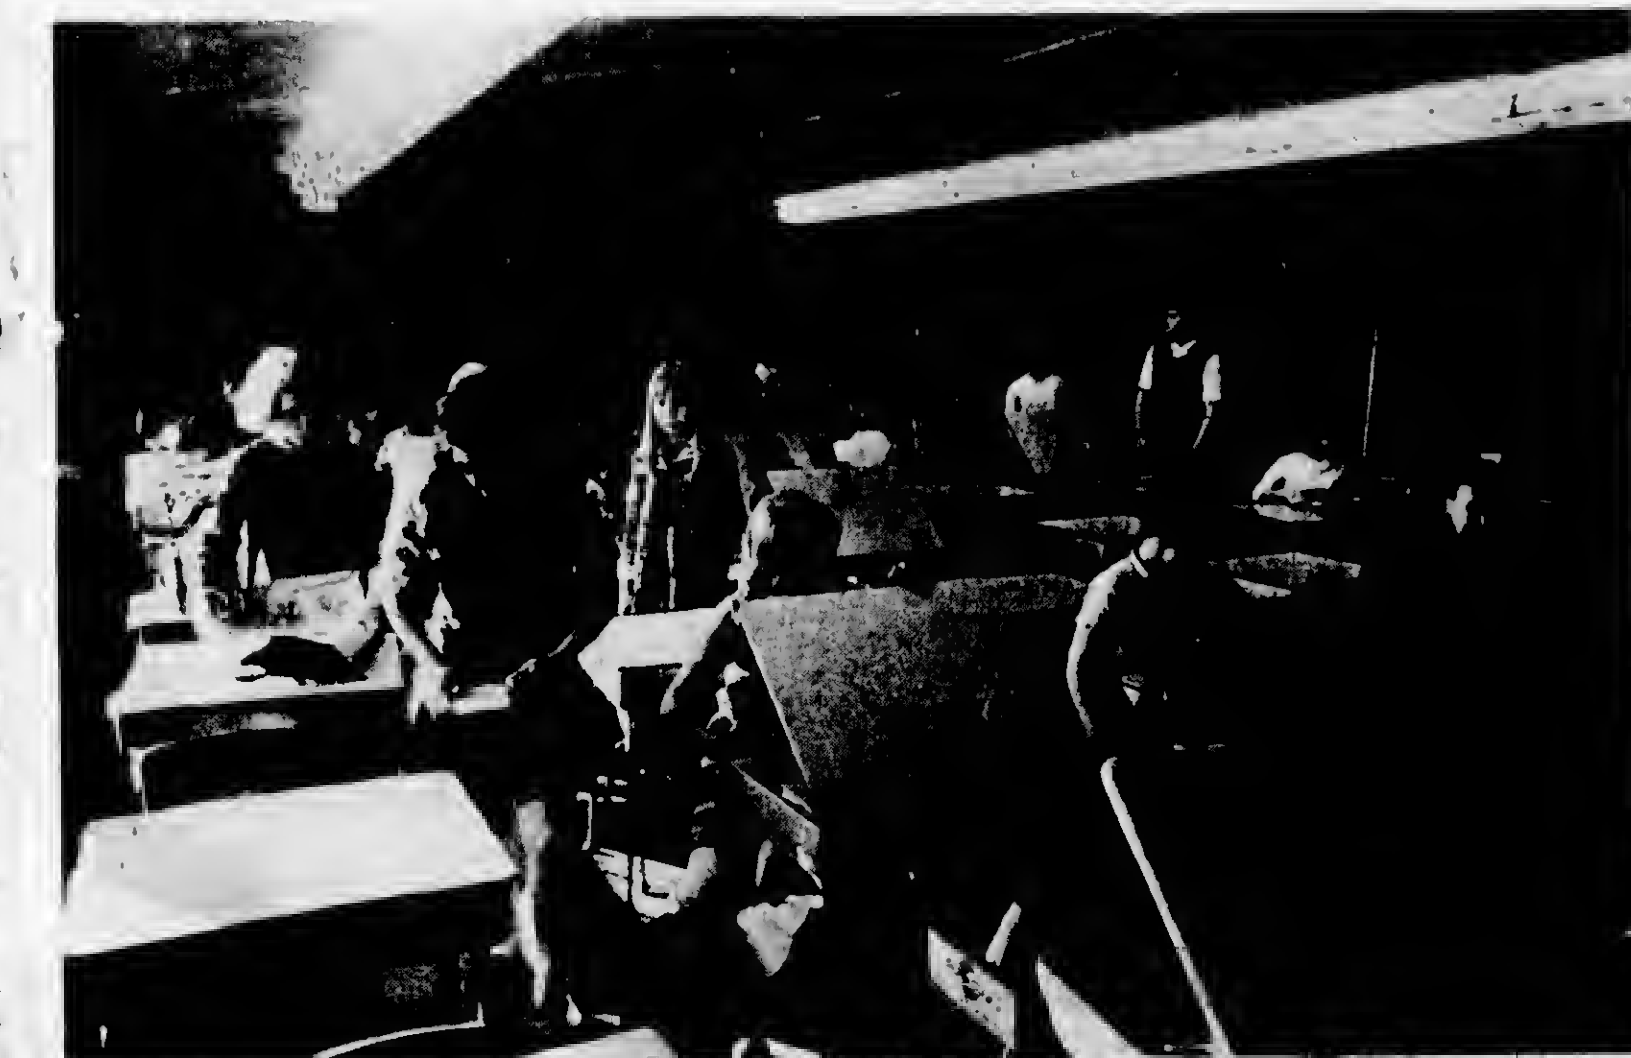

The board, Carson said, may approve or reject the options he has tentatively obtained. Even if the jail should not be built on the property he will propose optioning, Carson said it would be a good investment for the county.

The State has ordered Charlevoix County to improve its jail facility.

The county board called in an architect to come up with proposals for improving the present jail or building a new one. In October the architect proposed building a complete new jail on a new site, at a speculative cost that would ultimately total around a half-million dollars.

NO PLANS OR COST estimates were presented for remodeling the present jail, which some persons in the building business have estimated could be done for no more than $100,000.

Before the county board can go ahead with its new jail plan it must ask voters to approve a bond issue. The board, however, has already approved an appropriation of $4,000 to buy land options and pay the architect for his preliminary work.

White Christmas almost washed down area drains

It was a white Christmas, but narrowly.

Christmas nearly washed down the drain throughout the area, weatherwise. It couldn't have been freakier weather.

From Wednesday through Thursday the area had about two inches of rain. A violent late-summer type thunder and lightning storm lashed the area Wednesday night, Dec. 19, dumping more than an inch of rain and doing minor lightning damage.

CHURCH AND STOLT roads in Bay Township washed out, County Road Commission superintendent Jack Fitzgerald reported.

into Friday morning.

Ski areas to the east and north of the Charlevoix-East Jordan area were reported near panic as they saw all of their holiday business going down the creeks.

Children worried that Santa wouldn't be able to get his sleigh through the lightning and his reindeer would catch terrible colds.

There was no prospect for a Merry Christmas.

Then late Friday afternoon, the temperature took a 30 degree plunge, from 55 to 25, in little more than an hour. The first light puffs of snow came about 4 p.m. From 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. visibility on local roads was near zero. The temperature finally dropped to about ten above.

SATURDAY DAWNED bright and clear. Temperatures hugged the freezing mark. Again desperation set in. Was the snow going to melt?

Saturday night, with temperatures in the high 20's, a classically beautiful Christmas season snowstorm dropped another inch, or so, of snow.

Sunday was again sunny and cheery. Nervous children and ski area owners again worried about a thaw.

But Monday morning the ground was covered with almost six inches of the fluffy stuff. It was a Merry, White Christmas.

Library's Ranger room receives prized book to tell you how pleased I am to participate in this project. A book plate in memory of her father has been designed and donated by Mrs. George P. Bent II to be placed in each book. It states, "In memory of Earl D. Babst, a gift of his friends in Charlevoix, Michigan of which he was a summer resident of the Charlevoix Club from 1903 to 1967."

If anyone owns books pertaining to this region of writing by someone from this region and would like to donate them to Michigan Historical Collection, please contact Miss Olmstead at the library.

DR. HATCHETT and his colleagues, Walter deVries, devoted four years to the preparation of the Pictorial History of the Grand Lakes. They and their staff, with the cooperation of historical societies, museums, libraries, chambers of commerce and other public organizations and private sources, and collections, obtained much new material and many previously unpublished prize pictures, engravings, contemporary prints, old maps and panoramic photographs of a region marked by such dramatic events as the Chicago fire, the battle of Lake Erie.

Dr. Warner writes he was delighted to visit our very handsome new library and by such dramatic events as the Chicago fire, the battle of Lake Erie.

Miss Babst will be a January graduate of Central Michigan University and plans to teach. Mr. Kiel is presently a senior at Central Michigan University and upon graduation will also teach.

LOCAL Mr. and Mrs. Orval McGinnis have received word that their son Theodore has enlisted in the Army and is in Fort Knox, Kentucky. Ted will be the seventh son of the McGinnis to serve in the army since Pearl Harbor.

BRIDGE STREET'S quaint light poles have lost their champions. They are now piled sort of helter skelter behind the city garage. The city couldn't even sell them for $10 each. But they're still for sale.

WE MUST SEEK THE TRUTH

Constantly in search of the TRUTH the scientist takes nothing for granted. Each "hearsay", each theory, is tested and tried and accepted or discarded on the condition that it proves true or false. The true scientist never jumps to conclusions, consequently you will never hear him proclaiming the self-sufficiency of man—that man needs no spiritual power.

The Church is also a center for the search and dispensation of truth in things other than the material, the things one cannot discern by the physical senses. If each of us would be free we must know the truth and if each of us is active in the work of the church that fits our needs "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make Us Free."

CHS dumps loop contender

CHARLEVOIX -- The Rayders now hold sole possession of first place in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference.

Charlevoix last week eliminated its only competitor in the top spot by beating Harbor Springs 12-10 in a game that was close up to the final period.

The Harbor Springs Rams had shared the conference lead with Charlevoix. Both teams went into the contest with 3-0 season records.

NMCC action resumes January 5.

DON ANDERS accepts congratulations in Lansing from Miss Michigan, Toni Jo Abbenante and Dr. Harry A. Towsley, right, for the fine job Charlevoix's Community Chest volunteers did in their just-completed 1967 campaign. Anders was Charlevoix's 1967 campaign chairman. The Community Chest here went more than $1,000 over its goal and was one of the first in the state to reach its goal. Anders was attending the statewide United Fund campaign achievement celebration in Lansing.

Two injured in car accidents

CHARLEVOIX -- Automobile accidents last week caused two area people to be hospitalized.

Mrs. A. C. (Gladys) Mort, 62, R-2, Charlevoix is in Charlevoix Hospital following a two-car collision Thursday at the railroad crossing and Clark Rd. Mr. Mort was driving the car. The other car was driven by Nelson Holland, 57, Central Lake. Only Mrs. Mort was injured.

Coast Guardsman Marshall Henize, 25, is in Charlevoix Hospital following an accident Wednesday on Dixon Ave. near Meech St. His car struck a tree.

Fire calls

CHARLEVOIX -- Firemen were called about 1 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 21, to a fire at the Woodshed. Damage was largely confined to the tavern's neon sign, which reportedly short circuited due to the morning's thunder storm.

Chest holds annual meet

CHARLEVOIX -- The Community Chest will hold its annual meeting and election of directors Jan. 9, 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the City Hall.

The public is invited to participate. All contributors to the Community Chest are eligible to nominate and vote on the three new directors to be elected for three year terms.

Sundew closes light stations

The 1967 navigation season has officially closed on upper Lake Michigan.

Charlevoix's Coast Guard Cutter Sundew has removed all men from the light stations in northern Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. Lt. Don Luedke, Coast Guard group commander here, reports the last ship of the season to make the up-bound run from Lake Michigan through the Straits passed on Dec. 21.

Crews have been removed by the Sundew from Lansing Shoals, White Shoal and Gray's Reef Light stations in Lake Michigan. All buoys have also been taken in by the Sundew.

The expiring terms of Mrs. Phil Martin, Mrs. Thomas Wioand and William Peck must be filled at the meeting.

Annual Chest reports will be made and questions answered.

Sid Wizer heads area poverty war

Otsogo County's Prosecuting Attorney, Sid Wizer, has been elected president of the area anti-poverty agency (Two-Cap).

Wizer, who has been highly critical of the agency's failure to develop meaningful programs, was elected during a meeting of the agency's citizens operating committee.

Two-Cap is accepting applications for a new $10,000 a year director. Applications must be received by the agency's office in Petoskey (P.O. Box 541, telephone 347-2243) no later than Jan. 5.

THE COMMUNITY Hall in Ellsworth is decorated for the Holiday season with this scene of the Nativity.
